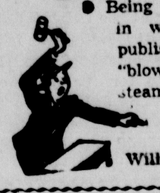
Popvalve



Being a column in which the publisher just "blows off the steam."

By Willard Jones

He tod an interesting story that depicted the thinking of a small boy.

Tommy had been given a little turtle with which he had spent many pleasant hours of play. One morning the turtle was found in his box flat on his back, and apparently his soul had departed to the great beyond. To help soothe the youngster's grief, the father suggested an elaborate funeral for the turtle, pointing out the fancy box with decorations, flowers and fol-de-ral that could be used in the final rites.

The boy was impressed with all the elaborate plans, and they seemed to satisfy his chagrin. Then, as the father and son went to the turtle box again to make arrangements, the pet began wiggling and showed his usual signs of life. The boy, now more fascinated by the funeral arrangements, bluntly declared, "Let's kill him!"

SOME MORE definitions that probably will never find their way into the dictionaries of today are:

A Gossip: One who burns the scandal at both ends.

Married Life: One undarned thing after another.

Sack Dress: Shapelessness of things to come.

JOHN MORRISON, a meat cutter in Hamlin for many years, who has been seriously ill for several months in area hospitals, was taken last week to a Houston hospital for further treatment.

Word came to The Herald first of the week from Mrs. Morrison, who is with her husband, that the doctors there do not believe his trouble is malignant. Following treatment there this week, Mrs. Morrison says they hope to be able to return home within a few days.

The old store-keeper, who was also the community's postmaster, was a real go-getter. He had no helper, and when he had to leave his store to meet the mail train he was tormented by thoughts of tourists stopping for gas and soft drinks and finding him gone.

Finally he hit upon a shrewd solution. He printed a sign in bold letters which explaind everything during his enforced absences:

BACK IN 15 MINUTES.
ALREADY BEEN GONE 10.

CROSSED FINGERS, like those of Holly Toler and Eddie Jay, Hamlin area wheat farmers, were the order of the day for scores of farmers of the section for several weeks during the maturing and harvest of the record grain crop of this region. The farmers are now relaxed, practically all the grain in the territory having been harvested in recent days. Stormy weather that threatened the crops kept raisers on "needles and pins" for several weeks.

Big Grain Crop to Bring to Hamlin Area $1,750,000

Most Highway 92 Right-of-Way Fixed

Only one property owner had not signed a right-of-way deed on the straightening and widening project of Highway 92 from Hamlin to Stamford Tuesday morning, according to County Judge H. C. (Pete) Andrews. And that owner, on the extreme eastern end of right-of-way stretch, had agreed to sign the necessary papers.

This good news has been awaited by residents of Stamford, Hamlin and along the 19-mile stretch of highway for many months. It is now scheduled to be prepared for contractors within the next few weeks.

More than $600,000 was appropriated for this project over a year ago by the Texas Highway Commission, but delays of one kind and another have pushed the project aside. First, difficulties arose over right-of-way location after Lone Star Gas Company asked an exhorbitant price for moving its gas mains to make room for widening the present highway. The gas main runs along the south side of the present route, which would be covered in the new roadway.

Then, after another new route north of the Katy Railway was ruled impractical, new routing to the south of the gas main was surveyed. All sorts of right-of-way difficulties were encountered.

Under the present plan the new route will go east from Hamlin, to the south of the Max Sellers place, then come alongside the present Highway 92 (south of the gas main) to the Olin Amerson place 10 miles east of town, then the present highway will be widened.

Electric lines are being moved and houses and fences along the route are to be moved within the next few weeks, declares Johnny Agnew, Precinct 1 county commissioner, who is supervising the right-of-way adjustments.

The project should be ready for letting late this summer, Agnew believes.

Hamlin Fishermen Get 35-Pound Catfish

Three Hamlin fishermen last Thursday brought back the proof of their big fish yarn. They were telling friends that they had landed a 35-pound yellow catfish from the Clear Fork of the Brazos River east of Hamlin—and they were displaying the fish to prove their story.

Don Compton, Ben Turner and Raymond Scifres, with Compton's and Scifres' wives were in the fishing party. They caught the whopper after three hours of fishing.

The Celotex Corporation this week reported reduced sales and earnings in the six months ended April 30, but Henry W. Collins, president, said the company's overall business is continuing to show radual improvement, and "we feel it is reasonable to expect sales volume in the last six months of this year to compare favorably with that of the second half of last year."

Net earnings were $382,370 after all charges and income tax provisions, equal to 24 cents a share on 1,028,651 shares of stock currently outstanding. In the like six months a year ago earnings were $1,595,647, equal to $1.42 a share on present common shares or $1.66 a share on the 878,651 shares then outstanding. The year ago earnings included at $395,733 net profit on the sale of investments.

Earnings for the quarter ended April 30 were 30 cents per share of common, compared with earnings for the corresponding quarter last year of 69 cents on present shares or 81 cents a share on the 878,651 shares outstanding at that time.

Collins said the lower six-month sales reflected the general economic recession and a drop in building acitivity aggravated by adverse winter and spring weather conditions.

"Earnings, in addition to being affected by the lower sales volume, were also depressed by unusually low competitive prices for our asphalt roofing products prevailing in recent months, by an 11-week strike which ended in February at our Lagro, Indiana, mineral wool and acoustical tile plant, and by start-up and break-in costs sustined at our new Fort Dodge, Iowa, gypsum plant," he said.

"Since the Fort Dodge plant began operations, a steady increase in volume due to intensified sales and promotional efforts has resulted in steadily reducing the excessive costs incurred while operating at low volume. With rspect to the asphalt roofing situation, we recently announced to our trade price increass on our asphalt roofing products to take effect during the latter part of this month."

Saturday Death of Dan Reese Ray, 31, Is Ruled Suicide

Dan Reese Ray, 31-year-old native of the Hamlin community, was found dead about 10:30 Saturday morning in his car south of Anson. Justice of the Peace Joe Mathis returned a verdict of suicide.

Ray was found by his brother, Wayne, and Deputy Sheriff Raymond Spraberry of Anson in his car in an area known locally as "the shinnery," five miles south and west of Anson.

Spraberry said Ray evidently attached a vacuum cleaner hose to the exhaust pipe of his car, brought the hose into the car through a window of a back door, and stuffed old clothing at the top of the window to shut out fresh air.

The brother, Wayne, visiting at Anson from Odessa, went to the office of Jones County Sheriff Dave Reves about 9:30 a. m. Saturday and told Spraberry he had information that Ray had threatened to kill himself.

Ray was married and the father of two small daughters. He had been employed in the men's department of Thornton's Department Store at Abilene.

Ray was born near Hamlin and in 1938 moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ray, to the Hodges community. He was graduated from Anson High School in 1944. In 1948 he married Lura Jane Garvin.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Anson. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, southwest of Anson.

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Dana Lynn and Angie Sue, both pre-school age; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ray of Anson; the brother, Wayne; one sister, Mrs. Lee Allen Ash of Denton; his grandmother, Mrs. M. C. Reese.

George Ellis Named Methodist Youth Head

George Ellis, a junior at McMurry College in Abilene, has recently been named youth director for the First Methodist Church, according to Rev. Edmund W. Robb, pastor.

Young Ellis will work with the young people of the church, directing their church and social activities and assisting with the musical program for the young people.

Jones County North Side Singers to Meet

Singers and songer lovers of the area will assemble Sunday afternoon, June 5, at the Assembly of God Church in South Hamlin for the Jones County North Side singing, it is announced.

Festivities will get underway at 2:00 p. m., to which the public is invited.

QUESTIONED IN SLAYING—Paul Sims, 10, tells Deputy Sheriff Tom White in Hobbs, New Mexico, about the fatal shooting of his father, William H. Sims, 42, on a ranch near Eunice. Paul said he and his brother, Leroy, 8, were angry because their father spanked them for running away to see Rattlesnake Draw, a canyon. Paul is in jail awaiting action by juvenile authorities.

Wheat Growers Will Vote on Price Supports and Controls

Stormy Weather Finally Destroys Some Area Grain

After anxiety and fear reigned in the grain belt around Hamlin for weeks, the Weather Man finally caught up with some growers Sunday and Monday evenings when hail and high winds damaged or destroyed several thousand acres of wheat and oats in the Radium, Celotex, Plainview and Hitson communities.

Principal losses were suffered to oats fields, most of the wheat having already been harvested.

Storm clouds that whipped the Radium area southeast of town Sunday afternoon laid low several fields of grain. The hail and high winds breezed through the Neinda community, six miles south of town, then went northwest toward Celotex and finally wound up their damage in the Hitson community, six miles west of Hamlin.

Another squall visited the Plainview community, eight miles southeast of Hamlin Monday afternoon and did considerable damage to oats patches there.

No accurate estimate of damage could be ascertained, but one man said probably 1,500 to 2,000 acres of oats was destroyed. In some instances, grazing will help to rescue part of the loss to the grain raisers. Also some of it will be baled.

NEW PRESIDENT of Hamlin Lions Club is Stan M. Sheppard (above), personnel supervisor at the Celotex Corporation plant at Hamlin. He was named in a special election last week after Miller Harmon resigned. He, along with other officers, was installed Tuesday night at a ladies' night affair.

4-H ROUND-UP SLATED.

Attendance at the annual Texas 4-H Club Round-Up scheduled for Texas A. & M. College, June 10-12, is expected to be near 2,000. In addition to the naming of state winners in 22 different judging and team demonstration contests, the kick-off observance of the fiftieth anniversary of 4-H Club work in Texas will be featured.

Marketing Quota Also to Be Set by Friday Balloting

Level of price support for the 1959 wheat crop will be determined by the outcome of the June 20 referendum on marketing quotas for next year's crops, R. G. Rowell, chairman of the Jones County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, de-Department of State.

"Aside from a choice between a marketing quota program and no marketing quotas, the big issue to be decided by the June 20 vote will be the level of price support available for the 1959 wheat crop," the chairman stated. "Acreage allotments will remain in effect no matter how the vote goes, as a means of determining eligibility for support."

As announced on May 1, price support for the 1959 wheat crop

Wyvonne Conner Named Sponsor for Hamlin by BCD

Wyvonne Conner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Conner of Hamlin, was named cowgirl sponsor to the Cowboy Reunion at Stamford from Hamlin community when members of the board of directors of the Hamlin Board of Community Development met in special session Tuesday morning.

Miss Conner will be mounted on her quarterhorse "Stockings," which is truly a show horse. She will participate in the opening parade at 4:00 p. m. on July 2, as well as in the barrel race and ribbon roping events during the rodeo performances. Night shows will be staged on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 2, 3 and 4, and a matinee performance is scheduled for 2:00 o'clock July 4. A full length motion picture will be made this year of the Friday afternoon show by a Dallas concern.

Wyvonne also will participate in the Aspermont Rodeo on June 26, 27 and 28.

Most of Wheat Is Out, Oats Coming In at Fast Clip

Revenues of around $1,750,000 are slated to be realized from the record grain crop in the Hamlin territory, declare grain buyers who have been swamped with the golden wheat and oats harvested in the territory during the past two weeks. Earlier predictions were a figure much less than this.

Although the price of wheat has dropped from an opening quotation of $1.91 to Wednesday's price of $1.60, most farmers have been well pleased by returns from their wheat and oats crops.

Wheat harvest is nearly 90 per cent completed in the Hamlin area, it was estimated Wednesday by Fred B. Moore Jr. of the Moore elevator. Probably 75 per cent of the oats crop has been harvested. Several thousand acres of oats were destroyed by hail and high winds Sunday and Monday evenings in the area.

Wheat continued to yield from 28 to 40 bushels per acre over the week-end. And tests showed that high quality of the wheat registered up to 62 pounds to the bushel in many instances. No. 1 wheat was rated at 60 pounds to the bushel.

Total harvest of grain in this section will amount to more than 1,000,000 bushels. Many farmers stored much of their oats, and after storage ran over, they began bringing in the grain in quantities this week.

Storage facilities at the Moore elevator were filled over the week-end, and the Moore concern was shipping from 20 to 25 carloads per day. Most of the grain was going to Houston and Galveston, from which points it was to be shipped to foreign countries.

Hot Topping Job on Highway 83 Finished

Contractors first of the week completing a hot topping job on Highway 83 from Hamlin to Radium on the shoulders of both sides of the regular pavement that were installed several months ago as part of a widening project for the highway.

The hot topping included some work on South Central Avenue where the pavement was widened to a six-lane thoroughfare out to the California Creek bridge.

The highway now is at least a four-lane highway from Anson, through Hamlin, to Aspermont.

Swimming Classes to Be Offered at Pool

Swimming classes will be conducted for beginners for the next three weeks at the swimming pool at the City Park, according to Mac Fullerton, operator of the pool.

Classes for children will begin at 8:00 each morning, Monday through Friday, and classes for beginner adults will begin at 9:00 o'clock.

CHILDREN SHOULD BE SEEN AND NOT HURT!

Children sould be seen and not hurt!

The arrival of spring prompts this cautioning note for the motorist and also suggests that drivers increase their alertness and decrease their speed when passing through a zone where children are playnig.

An elusive, bouncing ball, a game of tag, skates, scooters, bicycles or a pesky kite that needs plenty of tugging for a take-off often will start a youngster on a fatal charge into the path of an oncoming automobile.

For suring traditionally releases children from indoors and often turns a sidewalk into a playground. A child at play forgets where safety stops and sometimes dashes blindly into the street.

Only a driver's eyesight and his quick reactions can save a fun-filled child from becoming a twisted traffic victim.

Researchers for the Murirle Company point out that the eyes function as one of the most important factors in stopping a moving vehicle. First, the eye must see the danger and transmit the vision to the brain. Then the brain must command the foot to apply the brakes, and the foot must move to the brake pedal and apply sufficient force to halt the car.

Fro mthe moment the eyes see the danger until the brakes are applied is called the "reaction time." Tests have shown that the reaction time of an average driver ranges from three-quarters of a second to as much as one and one-half seconds.

An automobile can cover a great distance during this split-second reaction time. At 60 miles per hour a car will cover 66 feet from the time the eye sees the danger until the foot hits the brake. At 20 miles per hour an auto will move 22 feet during the reaction time.

In addition to the space covered during the reaction time, every automobile travels a certain distance after the brakes actually are applied. The stopping distance for a car traveling 60 miles per hour is 300 feet, and for a car going 20 miles per hour is 25 feet.

Driving increases during the spring and summer months. So do safety hazards in the form of playing children. Therefore, drivers should make vision, visibility and good judgment their safety gudeposts.

Three Centuries of Packing

Meat packing is one of the oldest enterprises in America. The industry was actually born three centuries ago in the Connecticut River Valley. Settlers raised corn, fed and fattened livestock, and salted down beef and pork products in barrels for shipment to the colonies.

Then the western migration began, and the livestock pattern established in the east was followed there. The supply became so great that a meat packing center was established in Cincinnati. From that city salted meats went to Atlantic ports and abroad.

The expansion of the nation's railway system in the post-Civil War period had a revolutionary effect on packing. Vast western range lands could now be reached, and their cattle shipped to the packing centers. The industry grew steadily in importance and in scope. Then, in 1876, the greatest impetus of all appeared in the form of the refrigerator car. This, and the later use of the refrigerated truck, made possible a regular flow of fresh meat at all seasons from the processing centers to the far-flung consuming centers everywhere.

Today, as the American Meat Institute points out, the packers supply the nation with literally hundreds of varieties of fresh and cured meats and ready-to-serve meat products. Cattle are raised on more than 5,000,000 farms and ranches, and hogs on 4,000,000. More than half the country's total land area is devoted to livestock production—and the great majority of farmers are in the business of raising meat animals, and depend on livestock for much of their income.

Nuggets of Thought

No man is useless while he has a friend.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

All service ranks the same with God. There is no last or first.—Robert Browning.

No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of it for any one else.—Charles Dickens.

Every man is useful to his kind by the very fact of his existence.—Thomas Carlyle.

Have I done anything for society? I have then done more for myself.—William Gilmore Simms.

The steps of faith fall on the seeming void and find rock beneath.—John Greenleaf Whittier.

It is the supreme art of the teacher to awaken joy in creative expression and knowledge.—Albert Einstein.

Faith and works are like the light and the candle, they cannot be separated.—J. Beaumont.

Handling the Situation

It was a gala night, but the audience was apathetic. And then a terrible thing befell the violinist. In the middle of a performance the E string snapped. The moment was tense. Clawing furiously at the instrument, the artist deliberately broke the A and D strings.

The audience held its breath, but the black browed violinist strode recklessly to the front of the stage. Thrusting his violin under his chin, he signaled the orchestra to proceed. "One string," he exclaimed, "and Paganini!"

Paganini was well known at the time, but within a matter of weeks his miraculous performance had made him world famous.

On the Safe Side

How fast are your vision reflexes at night? Try standing in a dark room until your eyes are accustomed to the darkness. Then look straight at a bright light while you turn it on suddenly. How many objects can you see clearly in the first 10 second after the light comes on?

This is no mere academic experiment. It is exactly the kind of thing that happens to you when you drive at night. Bright headlights glaring in your eyes have the same effect as the light in the blackened room. And 10 seconds is more than enough time for a fatal accident!

Editorial of the Week

TO FREE THE FARMER

Since Ezra Benson became secretary of agriculture, small steps have been taken toward getting the government out of the barnyard.

President Eisenhower, by his veto of the subsidy freeze bill, has sought to continue this progress. It seems unlikely there are enough votes to override the veto.

The freeze formula has kept the farmer in trouble, price-wise, the last 10 years or more.

As Earl Butz, a former assistant secretary of agriculture, once described it: Perpetuating the high, fixed subsidies for a few farm crops was like forcing the farmer to eat green apples to cure the stomach ache he got for eating too many green apples.

The farm problem is an economic problem, not political. If the politicians will let the economic forces take over for a while, the farmer will get himself out of the trap they put him in. After all, he knows more about his own business than Washington.

Neither Congress nor anyone else can repeal the law of supply and demand.—The Fort Worth Press.

RECALLING Other Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Goings-on in the Hamlin community 30 years ago included the following, being news briefs taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated June 15, 1928:

Hamlin Rotary Club is sponsoring a movement to promote Boy Scout work in the community. A banquet for men and boys of the Hamlin vicinity interested in this work has been set for Thursday evening, June 21.

Prices taken from the Bryant-Link Company grocery department advertisement include: Pineapple, two No. 1 cans for 25 cents; tomatoes, No. 1 can, six cents; potatoes, two cents pound; Gold Plume coffee, three-pound can for $1.59.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Items of interest in the news 20 years ago at Hamlin included the following, reproduced from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated June 10, 1938:

Hamlin Oilers baseball team continued its victory march Sunday by defeating the Haskell Braves by a score of 17 to 8. It was the local boys' seventh consecutivev wni in the West Texas League.

Completing her under-graduate career this spring Breniece Fairey of Hamlin was awarded her bachelor of science degree Monday from Texas State College for Women at Denton.

Ethel Harris of Dallas came up Saturday to spend two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harris. She is with the phone company in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Feagan went to Dallas this week to attend commencement exercises at Southern Methodist University, where their son received a degree in accounting.

Fred B. Moore Jr., who was a student in the New Mexico Military Academy, came in last week for his summer at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Moore.

TEN YEARS AGO.

From the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated June 18, 1948, the following news briefs of 10 years ago are reprinted:

Mrs. Floyd Berry, 27-year-old Hamlin woman, died Friday in an Abilene hospital following injuries which she sustained in an automobile accident near Cisco two weeks ago.

Ms. Lita Mae McDonald Harkins of Hamlin has recently had several of her writings published in "Talent: Song Writers and Poets, 1947," a New York publication.

Most local stores will close Monday, July 5, in observance of Independence Day, which falls on Sunday this year.

The drouth, which has persisted for months in the Hamlin area, was given a jolt when 1.77 inches of rain fell first of the week.

FIVE YEARS AGO.

Files of five years ago reveal the following news items of the community five years ago, taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated June 19, 1953:

Series of oil field tool thieveries that included the Hamlin area may now be solved with the arrest last Friday of two men near Throckmorton. Quantities of drilling bits and other materials taken at Hamlin, Aspermont, Ballinger and Jacksboro were taken with the men when arrested by Garland Shaw, Throckmorton County sheriff.

No clues had been uncovered by Hamlin officers Wednesday in the burglary last Thursday night of McDonald's dry goods store when about $1,000 in merchandise was taken.

ONE YEAR AGO.

News events in the area of one year ago included the following, reprinted from the issue of The Herald dated June 14, 1957:

Row crops in the Hamlin territory are suffering terribly for rain.

A new curb and gutter program under sponsorship of the city is about ready to begin, according to Bill Rountree, city superintendent.

American Spirit and Prestige Need to Be Rebuilt, Says U. S. Senator Johnso

We have come to the time of a great national rebuilding, declares U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, in his weekly news release to The Herald. He continues with:

We must rebuild the American spirit and, with it, the fiber of the American character. We must rebuild the American image before the world and, with it, the world's respect for the principles for which America has stood. We must rebuild the American position and, with it, the strength of freedom as the most powerful force at work in the hearts of the human race.

As Americans, we do not live in the same world we knew a few short months ago. Many basic American assumptions have undergone the greatest change and challenge.

The assumption of American technological superiority has been made subject to serious and direct challenge. The assumption of American economic stability and permanent American prosperity has been dealt a blow that commands attention. The assumption of American leadership among the community of nations in the West has been severely undermined.

Our resources, our capacity, our knowledge, our competence are the same, undiminished and unfettered. What is needed is a determination to unleash those resources and march forward, secure in the confidence that freedom is a mighty force which can carry America to even greater heights.

We should start now to make Washington not just a capital power but a campus of free men. We should use the round table, the seminar and the lecture room so that our country will be the spiritual leader of the awakening now stirring the West.

We can if we wish safely invest each year at least the cost of two nuclear bombs in the building of great, new libraries. We can channel the cost of an army division into the support of great, new schools for the humanities. We can set aside a part of our national budget to finance laboratories and other facilities for programs of pure research.

In our exchange programs we should concentrate not merely on bringing young people here to teach them, but also on bringing their elders here to help teach us. The farmer of India, the worker of Europe, the teacher of Latin America should have the opportunity to visit our country so they can take back to their lands the true facts of America.

There is no question about our ability to do these things. Our future is bright; our future is assured; our future is great. All that is required is channeling the tremendous strength and energy of free America, and I have deep faith in the ability of our people to meet any challenge.

Draft Board Secretary Honored for Service

Mrs. Mae L. Dunwody, wife of a former Jones County sheriff, will be among draft boards clerks of the state of Texas who will receive service awards from Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director.

Mrs. Dunwody is one of 33 employees who have completed 15 years of civilian service with the U. S. government. The workers will receive special pins showing the service period.

TEXAS FINALIST — Blond Carelgean Douglas, 19, of Corpus Christi represents Buccaneer Days in Texas' Miss Universe finals June 19 at Lake Whitney. Miss Douglas is five feet six inches tall, weighs 115 pounds and has a perfect 36 figure.

Rev. G. C. Henry Now In Revival at Lufkin

Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Henry left Sunday afternoon for Lufkin, and Rev. Henry is engaged this week in a revival there. He was formerly pastor of the church. They will be away some 12 days and will perhaps visit their daughter at Beaumont and visit other points.

Rev. James Woods will fill the pulpit at the Calvary Baptist Church at all services in the meantime, the pastor announces.

Stan M. Sheppard Installed Tuesday As Lions President

Stan M. Sheppard, personnel supervisor at the Celotex Corporation plant at Hamlin, was installed as new president of the Hamlin Lions Club for the ensuing club year beginning July 1 at a ladies' night banquet Tuesday evening at the oil mill guest house. He succeeds Willard Jones.

Joe Childers of Abilene, former past district governor and presently a member of the international Lions board, presided at the installation rites. Other officers installed were: Donley Williams, first vice president; James Josey, second vice president; George E. Campbell, secretary; Ed Croan, treasurer; E. A. Hewett, Lion tamer; Joe League, tail twister; Austin Siburt, song leader; Lester Minton and E. W. Anderson, two year directors.

About 75 Lions, ladies and guests attended the affair, including several from out-of-town. The retiring president presided. Rev. Calvin Bailey directed several songs by the group, and Edgar Duncan offered the invocation.

Speaker of the evening was Jimmy Isaacs of Abilene, vice president of the West Texas Television Network and station manager of KPAR-TV at Abilene. He spoke on the importance of communication in public service, pointing to the hours of free time (only commodity for sale by TV stations) that is given in public service to the communities they serve.

Congressman Omar Burleson Discusses President's Plan for Defense Set-Up

The Department of Defense and all the military services under it sometimes appear as a centipede with a thousand legs all going in different directions, declares Congressman Omar Burleson in his weekly news release from Washington to The Herald, "Washington: As It Looks from Here." His release follows:

How important is the president's proposal to reorganize the Defense Department? Perhaps the importance cannot altogether be measured in dollars and cents. Even more important is the ability to make decisions when immediate action may mean the difference between destruction and survival.

In dollars and cents, our national security program now consumes more than 60 cents of every tax dollar. Of the approximate $72,000,000,000 budget request, some $46,000,000,000 goes to national security. This is more than one-half of all the taxes collected by the federal government from all sources. Until some of the unnecessary activities of all the military services are curtailed, the bill to the taxpayer will continue to be high. As long as we continue to prepare to fight a war of the nature of World War II, and at the same time prepare for a nuclear war of the future, there is little hope that something less than two-thirds of all the income of the government will not go into defense.

The president's proposal to reorganize the Defense Department places emphasis on decision making authority and authority to carry out those decisions when made.

Under the president's proposal, the secretary of defense is to make the great strategical decisions and direct the control of their application. Once a decision is made, it is to be carried out without vetoes or obstructions on down the line. Under present law and practice, the secretary of defense does not have full authority to enforce a decision upon the separate services.

But how are these great decisions to be made? Secretaries of defense come and go. They are selected from a political list. They may come from banking, law, from professional politics, from the automobile business or the soap business. How does a man who has spent his life in some other endeavor go into the huge pentagon organization of approximately 30,000 (not including the armed forces), hang up his hat and make proper decisions?

The only way he could possibly know what to do would be to hear the problems explained by qualified experts. If he cannot hear and understand the thousands upon thousands of issues involved, he merely endorses the decision of some subordinate.

It seems the very real question devolves down to this proposition: Does the proposed reform of our military establishment make it more or less likely that the secretary of defense and the president of the United States will hear the great problems argued out thoroughly? Will it enable him to come to a definite and authoritative conclusion with the power of enforcement all the way down the line, resulting in action to carry out that decision?

The Congress will soon have before us a bill to enact into law these reforms. The controversy centers on the amount of authority which should be given one man, the secretary of defense. Some are saying that to place such authority in one man is embracing the old Prussian type of militarism. The bill voted out of the armed services committee does not give the defense secretary the authority requested by the president, but is supposed to give him much of the authority needed to carry out direction.

The proposition that something needs to be done is clear enough. The fact remains that this proposal is not going to appreciably reduce the cost of our military establishment. This only will be done when we finally decide that the next war will not be fought with rifles and bayonets, with huge aircraft carriers like sitting ducks, and all the frills now attached to every branch of the military.

FIRE DESTROYS GRAIN ELEVATOR—Flames soar skyward during a fire which gutted the C. L. Green Milling Company grain elevator at Winters last week. Damage was estimated at $10,000 and about 12,000 bushels of oats were also destroyed. The fire is believed to have been started by a dust explosion in the top and quickly engulfed the building. The fire came at the start of the first good grain season in this section of West Texas in seven years.

Complaints on Weed Poisoning Reported

County Agent Kirby Clayton reports that complaints are already coming to his office about damage to crops from the use of 2-4-D for weed control.

Formula 2-4-D, syas Clayton, is a very potent herbicide and has been noted to drift as far as eight miles and cause considerable damage to cotton and other broad-leaf crops. The young tender cotton is more susceptible to 2-4-D damage, and farmers of the area should use every precaution to protect his neighbor when using this herbicide.

Before using this weed killer, farmers should check with his adjoining neighbors to insure that the cotton in that area is not damaged, the agent suggests.

Overheard on the cocktail circuit: "One thing about the speed of light—it gets here too early in the morning."

Two Hamlin Teachers Get Scholarships at ACC Summer Session

Charles A. Wyly and Jon Adams, both Hamlin teachers, have been awarded six-week scholarships to study under the American studies program at Abilene Christian College this summer.

The American studies program is a feature of the ACC 1958 summer school. Dates for the summer school are June 3-July 11 and July 15-August 22.

Adams will attend the first six weeks, and Wyly will attend the second six weeks.

The scholarships provide for room, board tuition and fees and are made possible by a grant of $12,500 from the Coe Foundation of New York City and the Texas Educational Association of Fort Worth. The total of $25,000 has enable Abilene Christian College to offer 100 scholarships to teachers. Sixty-five scholars will study the first six-week session and 35 the second six-week.

Hamlin Boy Scouts Leave Sunday for Area Annual Camp

George Batchelor accompanied the group as Scoutmaster and will remain with the boys. Activities will include camping, handcrafts, swimming, marksmanship and several other maneuvers. Work on Scout advancements will be fostered by leaders.

Boys making the trip were Gary Ted Jay, Larry Stephens, Jimmy Inzer, Doyle Bell, Freddie Shave, Jesse Goolsby, Pat Batchelor, Lynn Ray Sturrock, George Smith, Billy Kitchens, Charles Dodd, Clifford Sharer, Henry O'Neal, Barry Cheshier, Eddie Townley, Jimmy Shivers, Ray Johnson Jr., Mark Smith, Dan Newberry and Van Newberry.

Bob Johnson, member of the Explorer Scout troop, accompanied the group and is serving on the camp staff. He will remain there for five weeks.

WHEAT VOTE

will be available in the commercial wheat areas at a national average of at least $1.81 a bushel, or 75 per cent of parity, if marketing quotas for the 1959 crop of wheat are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum.

This minimum will not be reduced, but may be increased if a combination of the wheat parity price and wheat supply relationships as of July 1, 1959, indicate a higher support price.

If quotas for the 1959 wheat crop are not approved by at least two-thirds of the voters, however, the support level in the commercial wheat producing area will drop to about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law. Compliance with allotments would continue to be a condition of eligibility for the lower price support.

Those farmers who vote in the referendum will be the ones who decide whether or not marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1959 wheat crop, Chairman Rowell points out.

All farmers are eligible to vote if they will share in the 1959 wheat crop from a farm in the commercial wheat area on which the wheat harvested for grain in 1959 will exceed 15 acres and provided they did not take part in the 1958 feed wheat program.

Let me tell you what I saved when I drove a new Plymouth...then bought one!

Just like a lot of other people, I was putting off buying a new car . . . even though we sure needed one. Then I found out what my Plymouth dealer was offering in the way of low prices and really big trades.

Mister, when I saw what I saved I knew there was no use putting off any longer! Got more for my old car than I believed possible. (Plymouth dealers need used cars and can sell all they get!) Got a terrifically low price on the new Plymouth . . . and choice of models besides . . . hardtops, sedans, convertibles, wagons.

And I saved a cool $140 on the ride alone! Plymouth's top-luxury ride, Torsion-Aire Ride, is standard at no extra cost, while you have to pay up to $140 for the top ride of competing "low-price 3" cars.

What's more, I got the car that proved it can save me gasoline, by winning the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. A car with Silver Dart Styling that is so far ahead right now it will still be worth more when I trade. With the kind of easy handling that makes every minute of driving a downright thrill! The stamina to stand up without nagging adjustments and big repairs . . . a car as much better built as it is better looking!

Barbara Ann Connally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connally, became the bride of James William Woods Jr. at 4:30 Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom, grandparents of the bride.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woods of McCaulley.

Mrs. Annie Laurie Henderson, sister of the bridegroom, was matron-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Billie Dominey and Glenda Wright. Best man was Billy Henderson, brother-iln-law of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length dress of diamond white satin. The fitted bodice was overlaid with chantilly lace which extended to form an apron effect over the top of the skirt. Pleated net accented the soft V-neck, and the sleeves formed into a V over the wrists. Her finger tip illusion veil was held together by a tiara of net and seed pearls.

MAKING HOME IN HAMLIN—Mrs. James William Woods Jr. (above) befor eher marriage last Sunday afternoon was Barbara Connally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connally of Hamlin. The rites, performed at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom, were attended by only a few relatives and friends. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woods of McCaulley. They are making their home in Hamlin following a brief honeymoon.

Monday morning the girls of the Hamlin chapter of Future Homemakers of America left by bus for the Presbyterian encampment grounds at Buffalo Gap, near Abilene, for a three-day outing. The girls carried sack lunches to eat for their first meal, and for the following meals the different chapters took turns helping the cooks, Mrs. L. B. Petty and Mrs. Edd Rodgers.

Don Shivers and Tommy Bonds from Hamlin were lifeguards. Mrs. Camille Simmons and the Hamlin chapter had charge of the camp for 19958. The grils enjoyed recreation, crafts, swimming and FHA workshops.

Other towns represented by FHA groups at the camp included Rochester, Olney, Rotan, Albany, Stamford and Knox City.

Reception Given For Connally-Woods Wedding Attendants

A reception for wedding attendants was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom immediately following the Connally-Woods rituals Sunday afternoon.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip the bride was wearing a two-piece grey and white chemise suit with large white linen collar and white accessories. She wore the glamellia from her bridal bouquet.

The bridegroom is a graduate of McCaulley High School and is employed in the Hamlin oil field. The bride attended Hamlin High School and will be a mid-term graduate next year.

Friends SS Class Met in Gibson Home

"The Garment That Never Grows Old" was the topic of the program given by Mrs. Everett Gibson when members of the Friends Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met in a dinner meeting in the Gibson home last Thursday.

Opening prayer was offered by Mrs. I. D. Miller, and the closing prayer was given by Mrs. A. Spencer.

Following the program, refreshments were served by the hostess to Mmes. Bill Maynard, A. C. Hall, I. D. Miller, Ben Parker, W. C. Hargrove, A. Spencer, Noel Weaver, W. H. Carter, Kelly Scott and Everett Gibson.

Hamburger Feast Given for Members of Training Union Group

Mmes. D. A. Mullings and Eddie B. Hopper were hostesses for a hamburger feast honoring members of the Phillips Training Union of North Central Avenue Baptist Church last Thursday evening.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Woodrow McHugh. Mrs. Robert Christian brought the devotional. Sniging was also enjoyed by attendants. R. A. Cary said the closing prayer.

Those present were Mmes. V. Madden, L. H. Clark, G. B. Phillips, Robert Christian, Rev. Woodrow McHugh and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lee and Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mullings and David, Mr. and Mrs Eddie B Hopper and Jane, R. A Cary and Jack Talbot.

Next meeting of the group will be August 7.

Mary Willingham, Bride-Elect, Honored At Tea in Grice Home

Mary Willingham, bride-elect of Kenneth Holloway, was honored at gift tea Saturday in the home of Mrs. Clyde Grice.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Grice, who presented Mrs. Tarlton Willingham, mother of the bride-elect; the honoree; Mrs. Henry Holloway, mother of the bridegroom-to-be; Mrs. Sallie Holloway, grandmother of the groom-to-be; Mrs. Spero Constantine, who will be matron-of-honor; and Jeanie Young, the flower girl.

Mrs. Guy Lewis Weaver and Mrs. R. J. Kim presided at the serving table, assisted by Mrs. Foster Cook, Mrs. LaFoy Patterson and Libby Johnson.

Mrs. George Malouf directed the guests to the bedrooms, where the gifts were displayed by Mrs. Charlie Sellers and Mrs. Weldon Griggs. Mrs. A. B. Carlton registered the guests, and Mrs. Noel Weaver said the good-byes. Other hostesses were Mrs. Joe Simpson and Mrs. Johnnie Agnew.

LEAKED SOMEWHERE.

This is reported by the Associated Press as a true story: A woman called the electric company in Durant, Oklahoma, and complained that her bill was too high.

The company checked her meter and wiring and reported they could find nothing amiss.

Two days later the woman called to apologize, announcing that she had found the trouble. "I found a socket without a light bulb in it, and the electricity must have leaked there."

SECOND CHILDHOOD.

"My boy," said the boss, "do you believe in life after death?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then that makes everything just fine," the boss went on tenderly. "About an hour after you left yesterday to bury your grandfather, he came in to see you."

Renee Moore and Wedding Principals Honored at Dinner

Renee Moore, bride-elect of Joe Don Hymer, was honored Thursday evening with a dinner party given by Mrs. Fay Young Morton of Hamlin at the Y-6 Ranch north of town. Co-hostess was Mrs. Morton's daughter, Mary Trammell of Abilene.

The dinner was served buffet style from a polished table centered with pink sweetheart roses and pink candles in Venetian glass candelabra of blue touched with gold.

Guests attending were Joe Don Hymer, groom-to-be; Mr. and Mrs. Ned Moore, parents of the bride-to-be; Mr. and Mrs. Don Hymer, parents of the groom-to-be; Mrs. Dee Burton, aunt of groom-to-be of Flagstaff, Arizona; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Witt; Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Brannon, parents of the junior bridesmaid, Lynn Brannon; Charlotte Cornett of Knox City, Sara Fomby, Joe Donald Cowan, and Mary Ann Willbanks, Joyce Hines and Clark Hewett, members of the wedding party.

The couple is to be married Saturday.

INSTALL THE All Electric YEAR 'ROUND AIR CONDITIONER

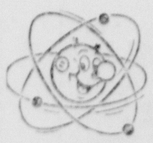
Scientists have known for years that enough natural heat exists in outdoor air, even in the coldest weather, to heat every home in the world. If this heat could be extracted... concentrated... and brought indoors—what a solution to everyone's heating problem!

But that's just what a summer air conditioner does... in reverse. It extracts and concentrates indoor heat and moves it outdoors.

The All Electric Heat Pump Air Conditioner is an air conditioner that can reverse itself automatically to cool or heat as needed to maintain indoor comfort at an even level. An improved reverse-cycle valve, sensitive to indoor temperature changes of even a few degrees, switches from cooling to heating and back again automatically... to maintain the comfort level at which you set the thermostat.

COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC



The Electric Heat Pump is completely automatic. During changeable weather, even if it is within the hour, the Heat Pump will switch from heating to cooling and or back again as the temperature changes require.

You do not need to change the temperature dial, you just set the thermostat for the temperature you desire and forget it. The Electric Heat Pump is the ONLY completely automatic Air Conditioner.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin.—Texas Board of State Hospitals and Special Schools is working toward getting a gold star when an economy minded Legislature hits Austin next year.

Launching a new tight-purse policy, the board voted to prohibit superintendents of individual state institutions from (1) using left-over funds without board permission; and (2) making any expenditure of more than $1,000 without board approval.

Sometimes individual hospitals develop surplus funds resulting from smaller patient loads than had been expected or other reduced costs. New rule puts an end to no-strings-attached spending of such surpluses. These lapsed fund coulds amount to as much as $1,000,000, according to Board Member W. G. Kirklin of Odessa.

Chill Wind.—Hospital board's move pinpointed the spot where the state's money shortage is expected to pinch hardest—administration of state's services.

A revenue shortage in excess of $100,000,000 by next year has been freely predicted by various authorities for months.

A survey of platforms of legislative candidates over the state shows a fairly consistent approach by those making statements on the revenue dilemma. General pattern of promises to voters:

(1) Continuation of, often, increase in state obligations for education, welfare payments, road building, soil and water conservation, etc.

(2. Opposition to certain new taxes or sometimes new taxes in general.

(3) Cuts in state spending by "elimination of waste, duplication and needless services by state agencies."

Actual achievement or near-achievement of this fiscal magic will put a real squeeze on every state department.

Not Me.—Likelihood that someone may draw the "black bean" of new state taxes has group after group telling the State Tax Study Commission how overburdened they are already.

A spokesman for the Texas Motor Bus Association told the commission taxes on that industry are heavy and discriminatory. He said many smaller lines were having to go out of business.

A representative of retired people asked tax relief for people living on pensions.

"We are no longer concerned with saving the goose that lays the golden eggs. Our goose was cooked when we lost our ability to work and earn," said W. B. Wood of Port Arthur.

On behalf of the Texas Association for Tax Relief for Texans over 65, Wood asked for tax exemption for the first $3,000 of property owned by oldsters. He also opposed a sales tax.

Opposition to the new egg law has been voiced by wholesalers of eggs, who are being required to grade and label the eggs they are handling.

Discrimination is charged because the law applies to wholesalers but not to producers who sell only the output of their own flocks. Suit also objects to the provisions that makes violations a criminal offense and the requirement that eggs kept under refrigeration for 30 days or more be labeled "'cold storage eggs."

Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor leader and one-time Democratic candidate for the Legislature, attempted to file against Texas' only Republican congressman, Bruce Alger. He called himself a "Stevenson Republican," an apparent parody of Eisenhower Democrats.

A lower court ruled that Cantrell, as a member of on party, was not entitled to seek nomination in another party's primary. Cantrell appealed to the high court.

Since there is usually only one nominee for each office, Republican primaries do not ordinarily attract a heavy vote. It is widely assumed that many Republicans cross party lines to vote in Democratic primaries where most state offices are decided.

Cantrell's candidacy is generally interpreted as a move to force Republicans to stay in their own primary.

Next Legislautre will be asked to change the law so diesel fuel taxes would be collected from the wholesale distributor rather than the user, said a department official. This is expected to make it easier for tax agents to keep track of consumption and purchases.

Comptroller's department staffers admit that there are some evasions of the state motor fucls tax, but contend that Texas collects more per vehicle than any other major state. They discount as too large Senator Charles Herring's guess than some $25,000,000 in fuel taxes went uncollected.

Senate investigating committee looked into records in the Houston area to discover if small staffs, vague laws or insufficient penalties were causing the state to lose revenue.

Over the Hump.—Texas' general revenue fund is back in the black, according to State Comptroller Robert Calvert.

During the spring state expenditures got ahead of tax receipts. A month ago the fund was in the red by some $1,250,000. But collection of corporation franchise taxes and insurance company occupation taxes during the month put finances back on schedule.

Now there's more than $12,000,000 in the fund, said Calvert.

Alvis Vandygrff, Austin attorney, dropped out earlier.

PRACTICING HIS TRADE.

The judge's expression was not unkind as he leaned over the bench and addressed the mousy little man before him.

"So you're a locksmith?" his honor mused. "And pray tell, what was the locksmith doing in a gambling dive when he was arrested?"

W. L. Fletcher III with Philippine Station

Lieutenant W. L. Fletcher III, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fletcher, former long time residents of Hamlin who moved last year to Abilene, is serving as communications officer of the Cubi Point station in the Philippine Islands.

The former Hamlin High School student attended Abilene Christian College, and has another year to serve overseas.

International Trade Fair to Be Feature of State Fair of Texas

Texas International Trade Fair, an annual exhibition of major proportions in its field, will be inaugurated this fall as an important feature of the 1958 State Fair of Texas, October 4 through 19.

The trade fair concept will be utilized in expanding the exposition's popular international center of exhibits from foreign nations, which has been a state fair attraction for the past three years.

An estimated 20 nations from all over the world will be represented in the International Trade Fair. The foreign exhibits area will be expanded to occupy two bays of the general exhibits building.

"The State Fair of Texas is considered to be one of the four great fairs of the world today," Kenneth W. Erickson, trade fair manager, said. "The other three are at Milan, Paris and Toronto."

Storm Does Damage In Neinda vicinity

Number of cases of damage were reported late Sunday afternoon in the small tornado that breeze through the Neinda community, south of Hamlin.

Rev. J. S. King reported a tree being uprooted and thrown onto his home and his garage being demolished. Other minor damage also was done in the area.

Peace is rarely denied to the peaceful.—Johann C. F. von Schiller.

Most Insecticides Can Be Harmful to People And Pets, Says Agent

Most insecticides are poisonous to people and to animals, according to Kirby Clayton, the county agent. He advises keeping insecticides where children and pets cannot reach them.

When applying them, do not contaminate food, dishes or kitchen utensils. Do not store them with food. Do not breathe too much of the spray mist or the dust. If insecticide is spilled on the skin, wssh it off promptly. Change your clothes if you spill insecticide on them. Keep children and pets off sprayed surfaces that have not dried.

When you have finished applying an insecticide, empty unused material into the original container, clean the sprayer or duster, and wash all exposed surfaces of the body with soap and water.

SEEMS THAT WAY.

Hamlin Golfers Win Two Awards In Anson Tourney

Charles Coody of Stamford repeated his performance of taking championship honors in the Anson invitation golf tournament Sunday afternoon in finals. He downed Ronnie Phlilips of Wichita Falls on the sixteenth hole to take the title, which he last year won over a big field.

Although only one Hamlin golfer qualified for the championship flight last week-end, two players brought home trophies from other flights in the tournament that attracted five flights of golfers from all over Central West Texas.

Bill Harbert won fourth flight honors and brought home a golf bag as award. George Poe took the honors in the fifth flight and came away with a set of irons.

Two other Hamlin players went to the finals matches. John Hudson, after eliminating Joe League, another Hamlin golfer, in semi-finals of the first flight, dropped the last match to Joe Bassett of Wichita Falls.

Dr. M. L. Smith, after trimming R. V. Clark of Abilene in a semi-finals round in the third flight, dropped the last round to Corky Brusch of Abilene.

Other participants from Hamlin in the tournament, besides those already mentioned, were Holly Toler, in the first flight; Earl Smith, and Elmer Feagan, second flight; Gene Knabel, third flight; Wilson Brannon, fourth flight.

HARD TO MAKE IT.

A retired Wisconsin farmer, on a tour of the country, stopped in Las Vegas and decided he would just once try his luck at the dice table. His opponent, a shrewd looker, picked up the dice. As he rolled, out popped a third cube from inside his sleeve.

Unruffled, the farmer picked up the dice, pocketed one of them and handed back the other two. His only words were: "'Okay, roll. Your point is 18."

Good Nieghbor Club Hears Program At Meeting on Children and Money

The program was on "Children and Money" when members of the Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Club met last week with nine members and one visitor present. Mrs. Sam Hodges and a visitor, Mrs. J. Carter Parks, presented the program.

Mrs. Hodges reported it is much better to give children an allowance, which usually solves a numbers of family emotional problems. Just remember, an allowance means nothing more than giving children a chance to handle money which will be spent on them in any case. The allowance depends upon age, cost of needs (regular and special).

Is your allowance adequate per child? Is it too much for good money management? Of course, there is quite a difference in allowances of six-year-olds and 12 to 18-year-olds. The younger child should have money for candy, gum, ice cream cones, dime store toys, blocks, crayons, money for church and gifts for others. The older child needs much more: For movies, hobby materilas, club fees, comic books and magazines, sports equipment, hair cuts, school costs, fad accessories, contributions, soft drinks, school social expense, date expense, special clothing, cosmetics and costume jewelry, student activity books, savings for college or special trips, and fees for athletics.

Some parents give the excuse for not giving children allowances, "I buy my children anything they need; they know all they have to do is ask for it." That's just it: a child (especially a teen-ager) does not want to ask their parents for money to buy a Mother's Day gift, Father's Day gift or birthday gifts. If they received an allowance they could save some of it for these gifts, which is good practice for the child.

Mrs. Parks explained that parents should help their children plan their spending. Here are four important steps in learning to handle money well:

1. Know how much you will have to spend.
2. Keep up with your spending so you will know where your money goes.
3. Plan the best way to spend your money.
4. Check on your plan.

A good way to teach children is to get three jars and label them "Spend," "Share," "Save." Of their entire week's money, whether allowance alone or some of it earned, a certain amount should be put into these jars. In this way a child learns how important it is to share and save part of their money.

Teach your child good management in money matters.

CONTROL WORMS NOW.

It is now time to apply control measures to ornamental plants infesed with bag worms. The worms are now small and can be effectively controlled, says C. F. Garner, extension entomologist. He suggests that a copy of bulletin L-199, Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants, be obtained from the local county agent.

Patience Urged by Taxpayers Waiting Refunds on Returns

By this time of the year a lot of folks are wearing out the lid to their mail box looking for their tax refund check, observes Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald. Some folks start looking for the refund check a few days after they have filed their tax return.

The tax folks in Dallas have to be pretty fast in figuring tax returns and getting out refund checks because it takes several months at the rate of 10,000 checks per day to get out over 700,000 refund checks. You have to remember that there are millions of taxpayers and there are a lot of steps required by law in checking your return before Internal Revenue can send you your refund check. If you move, tell Uncle Sam your new address and give him a little time and your check will probably be along within a couple of months. Don't write and ask for it before July 1.

Many Casualties Can Be Deducted from Income Tax Returns

The tornado season is about over for this year. Tornadoes and storm damage may bring you a tax deduction, reminds Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald.

There are a number of casualty and theft losses allowed by our federal tax laws. You may deduct the net amount of actual property loss resulting from an accident, fire, storm, shipwreck, other casualty or from theft. These losses may be business losses or non-business loses. The heavy spring rains for the last two years caused considerable flood damage which is also deductible.

If you suffered a property loss from any of these casualties, you should read your tax instructions carefully or secure competent professional help to prepare your tax return next year.

Not all damage to property is a casualty. For example, if the termites eat up your house, you are not allowed a tax deduction even though, I am sure, all of us would consider it a personal casualty.

No reason for doing it is good reason for not doing it.

Freight Carloadings For Santa Fe Gain

Freight carloadings for the Santa Fe Railway System for the week ending May 31, 1958, were 22,344 compared with 20,608 for the same week a year ago, reflecting a sizeable gain. Cars received from connections totaled 10,160 compared with 11,481 for the same week in 1957.

Total cars moved were 32,504 compared with 32,069 for the same week a year ago. Santa Fe handled a total of 31,774 cars in the preceding week this year.

County Farmers May Apply for New Wheat Allotments

A farmer on land on which no wheat was seeded for any of the years 1956, 1957 or 1958 may apply on or before July 1 for a "new farm" wheat acreage allotment for the 1959 winter wheat crop, Chairman R. G. Rowell of the Jones County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said this week.

Even if wheat was produced on the farm in 1958, the farm is still considered a new wheat farm if it did not have a 1958 allotment, and the farmer must apply at the county office as a new producer, Rowell said.

An important requirement for obtaining a new allotment is to file a written application before the July 1 deadline. This application may be made out on forms which can be obtained in person or by mail from the county ASC office.

The chairman pointed out that factors considered in determining whether a farmer is eligible for a new farm allotment will include the tillable acreage, type of soil and topography of the farm. The operator's farming system is studied and the extent to which his livelihood depends on his farming operations. He is also asked the reason wheat was not planted on his farm in past years.

County Farm and Development Group Meets with Agents

Eighteen persons attended the Jones County farm and home development family night at the Anson High School home economics labortatory last Monday night, according to Kirby Clayton, agricultural agent, and Mary Newberry, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Martha Harmon, home economist of the Abilene Lone Star Gas Company, gave an interesting demonstration on "Foods for the Freezer." She was assisted by Mrs. Opal Paden.

Blueprints available for corral arrangement and cattle chutes were discussed by the county agent.

Home-made ice cream and cake were served to Fern Hodge and J. G. Simmons, district extension agents of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Grady Smith of Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Birger Haterius, Craig and Ingrid, Mrs. F. A. Lollar, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Clayton, Judy and Gary, and the agents.

Next meeting of the farm and home development families will be a picnic and a program in July.

4-H Club Boys and Girls Attending Annual Round-Up

Several 4-H Club boys and girls from Jones County and this area are at Texas A. & M. College this week attending the annual state 4-H Club Round-Up.

The chuck wagons have been greased and the cooks have their equipment in top shape to handle the feeding of an estimated 2,200 4-H boys and girls, their supervisors, leaders and friends who will attend the affair, opening Tuesday and continuing through Thursday.

The chuck wagon supper, always a program favorite, was scheduled to take place the evening of June 11 and will be a fitting climax for he hard day the 4-H Club members will have devoted to judging and demonstration team contests.

A. H. Roberts, Jones County 4-H Club member and winner in the distric tpublic speaking contest, will represent Extension District III in the 4-H public speaking program at the 4-H Round-Up this year.

The evening program on June 10 commemorated 50 years of 4-H Club work in Texas. President M. T. Harrington of Texas A. & M. College system welcomed the 4-H members to A. & M., and Director John E. Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service spoke on "Where From Here?" Several 4-H members of the past and present also had part on the program.

On Jun 11 state winers in 22 different judging and team demonstration contests were to be determined. Winners in several contests will qualify to represent Texas in national events later in the year.

In commenting on 4-H Club work, the youth phase of the agricultural extension service, Director Hutchison said an estimated 2,000,000 Texas rural boys and girls had been 4-H members during the past 50 years. "We have letters from some of the first clubs in the state," he said, "and they have recalled for us how valuable their 4-H training has been through the years. We know that present day clubs are different from those of half a century ago, but then, as now, our major effort was to help the boy or girl to help themselves.

Members of 50 years ago will attend the Round-Up and participate in planned activities.

James West Named Blakley's County Man

James West of Stamford has been named Jones County manager for William A. Blakley's campaign for United States senator in the Democratic primary July 26. Announcement of the appointment was made by Blakley's state campaign manager, James H. Blundell.

Blakley is conducting a personal campaign with plans to visit every county in the state and to meet and talk personally with as many voters as posible.

County managers have an active part in arranging for visits to their respective areas.

MUST HAVE BEEN LOW.

The old Southern colonel came down to breakfast wobbly and bleary-eyed, but holding himself up straight in a brave show of dignity.

As he sugared his coffee, his wife noticed that several of his fingers were bandaged.

"It was a matter of small consequence at our club meeting, Magnolia," he told her. "Some of the younger brothers who can't handle their mountain dew got a little under. One of them stepped on my hand."

Estimated Three from Jones County Due to Be Drafted in July Call

An estimated three young men from Jones County will be included in the state quota for Texas draft boards in July of 538 men Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Thursday.

The state's July call of 538 compares with a quota of 519 for June, previously announced. The July call is the state's share of a national call of 10,000 men, all for the Army.

The state director of selective service also announced that approximately 1,700 men were scheduled to take pre-induction mental and physical examinations in July.

The July quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on July 1, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

Some reservists and National Guardsmen also may be called up if they fail to participate satisfactorily in their units.

Jimmy Hill Completes Marine Corps Basic

Jimmy R. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hill of 14 Southwest Avenue F, Hamlin, is scheduled to complete recruit training June 12 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, California, according to a release to the Herald from the base.

The 11-week course includes instruction in all basic military subjects and the firing of all basic infantry weapons.

Upon completion of training new Marines are assigned to a unit for further infantry training or to one of the many Marine Corps schools.

Opportunities always look bigger going than coming.

Government Will Purchase All Loan Cototn on July 31

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced recently that Commodity Credit Corporation will purchase at the close of business July 31, 1958, all 1957 crop loan cotton (upland and extra long staple) which is unredeemed at that time.

Through May 9, 1958, a total of 3,655,650 bales of 1957 crop cotton was reported as having been pledged for loans. As of the same date 505,963 bales had been redeemed, leaving loans outstanding on 3,149,687 bales.

Until the close of business on July 31, 1958, producers may either sell their "equity" in the loan cotton or redeem the cotton from the loan and then sell it in the open market. The market price of the various qualities of cotton has remained fairly steady in recent months, and at present prices farmers should be able to dispose of some qualities of cotton at prices that will give them some net profits above the loan and charges against the cotton, say cotton experts.

There aren't any rules for success that work unless you do.

E. E. Johnson, 72, Dies Wednesday in Hospital at Anson

Funeral services for Edgar Eugene Johnson, 72-year-old farmer living southeast of Hamlin, were conducted last Thursday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Fairview Baptist Church.

Johnson, who had been a resident of the community for 18 years, died last Wednesday morning at Anson General Hospital following a stroke. He had been ill for about a week.

Born in Freestone County, on July 31, 1885, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson. He married the former Mae Iona Tribble at Korn Hill on August 10, 1913. He was a member of the Neinda Baptist Church.

Officiating at final rites was Rev. M. E. Randolph, pastor of the Fairview church.

Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery under direction of the Hamlin Funeral Home. Pallbearers were W. L. McDonald, B. E. Thackerson, M. T. Jones, John Beauchamp, H. E. Valliant and A. W. Bagley.

Surviving Johnson are his wife, Mrs. E. E. Johnson; two sons, Webb Johnson of Plainview and Charlie Johnson of Midland; two daughters, Mrs. Lester Ohlhausen of Ballinger and Mrs. Orph Osborne of Wilcox, Arizona; three brothers, George Johnson of Casper, Wyoming, and Ozie and Lewis Johnson of Mexia; one sister, Mrs. Beulah Maiden of Mexia; and nine grandchildren.

Record Number of Income Tax Refunds Made by This District

Record number of tax refunds were made by the Dallas district of the Internal Revenue Service by May 9 this year, according to A. E. Fogle Jr., administrative officer of the Abilene office, including many in the Hamlin territory.

Tax refunds amounting to over $64,379,000 have been forwarded to 685,575 taxpayers. Some 6,500 other North Texas payers' tax refunds have been held up because of faulty preparation of returns. The Internal Revenue Service is making every effort to clear the errors on these tax returns as soon as possible. Taxpayers were requested not to contact the Internal Revenue Service concerning their refunds until after July 1.

Fogle stated that "24,960 North Texans had possible erroneous deductions in their tax returns that require a pre-refund audit before the refund can be made."

Double Film Bill At Theaters Shows World of Future

Suspense and excitement, with a constant overtone of brooding terror, keynote "Attack of the 50-Foot Woman" and "War of the Satellites," two Allied Artists pictures combined in a double bill playing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Ferguson and Hamlin Drive-In Theaters. The twin-shock program has added value because both pictures are as timely and up-to-date as a news story from today's final edition.

"War of the Satellites," starring Susan Cabot, Richard Devon and Dick Miller, is classed as pure science-fiction, but today's strides inter-planetary research are so tremendous it is hard to separate the truth from fiction. Certainly this production is believable in every scene and action-packed sequence.

The picture, produced and directed by Roger Corman, relates the efforts of Earth, working through the United Nations, to speed space ships aloft and assemble a satellite in the atmosphere.

The first ships are violently destroyed by a mysterious force obviously generated by an enemy in outer space. These events are followed by a direct warning to Earth and the deadly war begins. The picture has exceptional pictorial qualities in the striking twenty-first century sets and brilliant special effects.

"Attack of the 50-Foot Woman," starring Allison Hayes, William Hudson and Yvette Vickers, is a terrifying masterpiece of suspense and terror that relates how a monster space ship lands from outer space on the California desert and sets loose a giant monster that terrorizes the countryside.

He tod an interesting story that depicted the thinking of a small boy.

Tommy had been given a little turtle with which he had spent many pleasant hours of play. One morning the turtle was found in his box flat on his back, and apparently his soul had departed to the great beyond. To help soothe the youngster's grief, the father suggested an elaborate funeral for the turtle, pointing out the fancy box with decorations, flowers and fol-de-ral that could be used in the final rites.

The boy was impressed with all the elaborate plans, and they seemed to satisfy his chagrin. Then, as the father and son went to the turtle box again to make arrangements, the pet began wiggling and showed his usual signs of life. The boy, now more fascinated by the funeral arrangements, bluntly declared, "Let's kill him!"

Word came to The Herald first of the week from Mrs. Morrison, who is with her husband, that the doctors there do not believe his trouble is malignant. Following treatment there this week, Mrs. Morrison says they hope to be able to return home within a few days.

The old store-keeper, who was also the community's postmaster, was a real go-getter. He had no helper, and when he had to leave his store to meet the mail train he was tormented by thoughts of tourists stopping for gas and soft drinks and finding him gone.

Finally he hit upon a shrewd solution. He printed a sign in bold letters which explaind everything during his enforced absences:

BACK IN 15 MINUTES.
ALREADY BEEN GONE 10.

CROSSED FINGERS. like those of Holly Toler and Eddie Jay, Hamlin area wheat farmers, were the order of the day for scores of farmers of the section for several weeks during the maturing and harvest of the record grain crop of this region. The farmers are now relaxed, practically all the grain in the territory having been harvested in recent days. Stormy weather that threatened the crops kept raisers on "needles and pins" for several weeks.

Big Grain Crop to Bring to Hamlin Area $1,750,000

Most Highway 92 Right-of-Way Fixed

Only one property owner had not signed a right-of-way deed on the straightening and widening project of Highway 92 from Hamlin to Stamford Tuesday morning, according to County Judge H. C. (Pete) Andrews. And that owner, on the extreme eastern end of right-of-way stretch, had agreed to sign the necessary papers.

This good news has been awaited by residents of Stamford, Hamlin and along the 19-mile stretch of highway for many months. It is now scheduled to be prepared for contractors within the next few weeks.

More than $600,000 was appropriated for this project over a year ago by the Texas Highway Commission, but delays of one kind and another have pushed the project aside. First, difficulties arose over right-of-way location after Lone Star Gas Company asked an exhorbitant price for moving its gas mains to make room for widening the present highway. The gas main runs along the south side of the present route, which would be covered in the new roadway.

Then, after another new route north of the Katy Railway was ruled impractical, new routing to the south of the gas main was surveyed. All sorts of right-of-way difficulties were encountered.

Under the present plan the new route will go east from Hamlin, to the south of the Max Sellers place, then come alongside the present Highway 92 (south of the gas main) to the Olin Amerson place 10 miles east of town, then the present highway will be widened.

Electric lines are being moved and houses and fences along the route are to be moved within the next few weeks, declares Johnny Agnew, Precinct 1 county commissioner, who is supervising the right-of-way adjustments.

The project should be ready for letting late this summer, Agnew believes.

Hamlin Fishermen Get 35-Pound Catfish

Three Hamlin fishermen last Thursday brought back the proof of their big fish yarn. They were telling friends that they had landed a 35-pound yellow catfish from the Clear Fork of the Brazos River east of Hamlin—and they were displaying the fish to prove their story.

Don Compton, Ben Turner and Raymond Scifres, with Compton's and Scifres' wives were in the fishing party. They caught the whopper after three hours of fishing.

The Celotex Corporation this week reported reduced sales and earnings in the six months ended April 30, but Henry W. Collins, president, said the company's overall business is continuing to show radual improvement, and "we feel it is reasonable to expect sales volume in the last six months of this year to compare favorably with that of the second half of last year."

Net earnings were $382,370 after all charges and income tax provisions, equal to 24 cents a share on 1,028,651 shares of stock currently outstanding. In the like six months a year ago earnings were $1,595,647, equal to $1.42 a share on present common shares or $1.66 a share on the 878,651 shares then outstanding. The year ago earnings included at $395,733 net profit on the sale of investments.

Earnings for the quarter ended April 30 were 30 cents per share of common, compared with earnings for the corresponding quarter last year of 69 cents on present shares or 81 cents a share on the 878,651 shares outstanding at that time.

Collins said the lower six-month sales reflected the general economic recession and a drop in building acitivity aggravated by adverse winter and spring weather conditions.

"Earnings, in addition to being affected by the lower sales volume, were also depressed by unusually low competitive prices for our asphalt roofing products prevailing in recent months, by an 11-week strike which ended in February at our Lagro, Indiana, mineral wool and acoustical tile plant, and by start-up and break-in costs sustined at our new Fort Dodge, Iowa, gypsum plant," he said.

"Since the Fort Dodge plant began operations, a steady increase in volume due to intensified sales and promotional efforts has resulted in steadily reducing the excessive costs incurred while operating at low volume. With rspect to the asphalt roofing situation, we recently announced to our trade price increass on our asphalt roofing products to take effect during the latter part of this month."

Dan Reese Ray, 31-year-old native of the Hamlin community, was found dead about 10:30 Saturday morning in his car south of Anson. Justice of the Peace Joe Mathis returned a verdict of suicide.

Ray was found by his brother, Wayne, and Deputy Sheriff Raymond Spraberry of Anson in his car in an area known locally as "the shinnery," five miles south and west of Anson.

Spraberry said Ray evidently attached a vacuum cleaner hose to the exhaust pipe of his car, brought the hose into the car through a window of a back door, and stuffed old clothing at the top of the window to shut out fresh air.

The brother, Wayne, visiting at Anson from Odessa, went to the office of Jones County Sheriff Dave Reves about 9:30 a. m. Saturday and told Spraberry he had information that Ray had threatened to kill himself.

Ray was married and the father of two small daughters. He had been employed in the men's department of Thornton's Department Store at Abilene.

Ray was born near Hamlin and in 1938 moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ray, to the Hodges community. He was graduated from Anson High School in 1944. In 1948 he married Lura Jane Garvin.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Anson. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, southwest of Anson.

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Dana Lynn and Angie Sue, both pre-school age; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ray of Anson; the brother, Wayne; one sister, Mrs. Lee Allen Ash of Denton; his grandmother, Mrs. M. C. Reese.

George Ellis Named Methodist Youth Head

George Ellis, a junior at McMurry College in Abilene, has recently been named youth director for the First Methodist Church, according to Rev. Edmund W. Robb, pastor.

Young Ellis will work with the young people of the church, directing their church and social activities and assisting with the musical program for the young people.

Jones County North Side Singers to Meet

Singers and songer lovers of the area will assemble Sunday afternoon, June 5, at the Assembly of God Church in South Hamlin for the Jones County North Side singing, it is announced.

Festivities will get underway at 2:00 p. m., to which the public is invited.

QUESTIONED IN SLAYING—Paul Sims, 10, tells Deputy Sheriff Tom White in Hobbs, New Mexico, about the fatal shooting of his father, William H. Sims, 42, on a ranch near Eunice. Paul said he and his brother, Leroy, 8, were angry because their father spanked them for running away to see Rattlesnake Draw, a canyon. Paul is in jail awaiting action by juvenile authorities.

Most of Wheat Is Out, Oats Coming In at Fast Clip

Revenues of around $1,750,000 are slated to be realized from the record grain crop in the Hamlin territory, declare grain buyers who have been swamped with the golden wheat and oats harvested in the territory during the past two weeks. Earlier predictions were a figure much less than this.

Although the price of wheat has dropped from an opening quotation of $1.91 to Wednesday's price of $1.60, most farmers have been well pleased by returns from their wheat and oats crops.

Wheat harvest is nearly 90 per cent completed in the Hamlin area, it was estimated Wednesday by Fred B. Moore Jr. of the Moore elevator. Probably 75 per cent of the oats crop has been harvested. Several thousand acres of oats were destroyed by hail and high winds Sunday and Monday evenings in the area.

Wheat continued to yield from 28 to 40 bushels per acre over the week-end. And tests showed that high quality of the wheat registered up to 62 pounds to the bushel in many instances. No. 1 wheat was rated at 60 pounds to the bushel.

Total harvest of grain in this section will amount to more than 1,000,000 bushels. Many farmers stored much of their oats, and after storage ran over, they began bringing in the grain in quantities this week.

Storage facilities at the Moore elevator were filled over the week-end, and the Moore concern was shipping from 20 to 25 carloads per day. Most of the grain was going to Houston and Galveston, from which points it was to be shipped to foreign countries.

Wheat Growers Will Vote on Price Supports and Controls

Stormy Weather Finally Destroys Some Area Grain

After anxiety and fear reigned in the grain belt around Hamlin for weeks, the Weather Man finally caught up with some growers Sunday and Monday evenings when hail and high winds damaged or destroyed several thousand acres of wheat and oats in the Radium, Celotex, Plainview and Hitson communities.

Principal losses were suffered to oats fields, most of the wheat having already been harvested.

Storm clouds that whipped the Radium area southeast of town Sunday afternoon laid low several fields of grain. The hail and high winds breezed through the Neinda community, six miles south of town, then went northwest toward Celotex and finally wound up their damage in the Hitson community, six miles west of Hamlin.

Another squall visited the Plainview community, eight miles southeast of Hamlin Monday afternoon and did considerable damage to oats patches there.

No accurate estimate of damage could be ascertained, but one man said probably 1,500 to 2,000 acres of oats was destroyed. In some instances, grazing will help to rescue part of the loss to the grain raisers. Also some of it will be baled.

NEW PRESIDENT of Hamlin Lions Club is Stan M. Sheppard (above), personnel supervisor at the Celotex Corporation plant at Hamlin. He was named in a special election last week after Miller Harmon resigned. He, along with other officers, was installed Tuesday night at a ladies' night affair.

4-H ROUND-UP SLATED.

Attendance at the annual Texas 4-H Club Round-Up scheduled for Texas A. & M. College, June 10-12, is expected to be near 2,000. In addition to the naming of state winners in 22 different judging and team demonstration contests, the kick-off observance of the fiftieth anniversary of 4-H Club work in Texas will be featured.

Marketing Quota Also to Be Set by Friday Balloting

Level of price support for the 1959 wheat crop will be determined by the outcome of the June 20 referendum on marketing quotas for next year's crops, R. G. Rowell, chairman of the Jones County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, declares.

Department of State.

"Aside from a choice between a marketing quota program and no marketing quotas, the big issue to be decided by the June 20 vote will be the level of price support available for the 1959 wheat crop," the chairman stated. "Acreage allotments will remain in effect no matter how the vote goes, as a means of determining eligibility for support."

As announced on May 1, price support for the 1959 wheat crop

Wyvonne Conner Named Sponsor for Hamlin by BCD

Wyvonne Conner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Conner of Hamlin, was named cowgirl sponsor to the Cowboy Reunion at Stamford from Hamlin community when members of the board of directors of the Hamlin Board of Community Development met in special session Tuesday morning.

Miss Conner will be mounted on her quarterhorse "Stockings," which is truly a show horse. She will participate in the opening parade at 4:00 p. m. on July 2, as well as in the barrel race and ribbon roping events during the rodeo performances. Night shows will be staged on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 2, 3 and 4, and a matinee performance is scheduled for 2:00 o'clock July 4. A full length motion picture will be made this year of the Friday afternoon show by a Dallas concern.

Wyvonne also will participate in the Aspermont Rodeo on June 26, 27 and 28.

Hot Topping Job on Highway 83 Finished

Contractors first of the week completing a hot topping job on Highway 83 from Hamlin to Radium on the shoulders of both sides of the regular pavement that were installed several months ago as part of a widening project for the highway.

The hot topping included some work on South Central Avenue where the pavement was widened to a six-lane thoroughfare out to the California Creek bridge.

The highway now is at least a four-lane highway from Anson, through Hamlin, to Aspermont.

Swimming Classes to Be Offered at Pool

Swimming classes will be conducted for beginners for the next three weeks at the swimming pool at the City Park, according to Mac Fullerton, operator of the pool.

Classes for children will begin at 8:00 each morning, Monday through Friday, and classes for beginner adults will begin at 9:00 o'clock.

CHILDREN SHOULD BE SEEN AND NOT HURT!

Children sould be seen and not hurt!

The arrival of spring prompts this cautioning note for the motorist and also suggests that drivers increase their alertness and decrease their speed when passing through a zone where children are playnig.

An elusive, bouncing ball, a game of tag, skates, scooters, bicycles or a pesky kite that needs plenty of tugging for a take-off often will start a youngster on a fatal charge into the path of an oncoming automobile.

For spring traditionally releases children from indoors and often turns a sidewalk into a playground. A child at play forgets where safety stops and sometimes dashes blindly into the street.

Only a driver's eyesight and his quick reactions can save a fun-filled child from becoming a twisted traffic victim.

Researchers for the Murine Company point out that the eyes function as one of the most important factors in stopping a moving vehicle. First, the eye must see the danger and transmit the vision to the brain. Then the brain must command the foot to apply the brakes, and the foot must move to the brake pedal and apply sufficient force to halt the car.

Fro mthe moment the eyes see the danger until the brakes are applied is called the "reaction time." Tests have shown that the reaction time of an average driver ranges from three-quarters of a second to as much as one and one-half seconds.

An automobile can cover a great distance during this split-second reaction time. At 60 miles per hour a car will cover 66 feet from the time the eye sees the danger until the foot hits the brake. At 20 miles per hour an auto will move 22 feet during the reaction time.

In addition to the space covered during the reaction time, every automobile travels a certain distance after the brakes actually are applied. The stopping distance for a car traveling 60 miles per hour is 300 feet, and for a car going 20 miles per hour is 25 feet.

Driving increases during the spring and summer months. So do safety hazards in the form of playing children. Therefore, drivers should make vision, visibility and good judgment their safety guideposts.

Three Centuries of Packing

Meat packing is one of the oldest enterprises in America. The industry was actually born three centuries ago in the Connecticut River Valley. Settlers raised corn, fed and fattened livestock, and salted down beef and pork products in barrels for shipment to the colonies.

Then the western migration began, and the livestock pattern established in the east was followed there. The supply became so great that a meat packing center was established in Cincinnati. From that city salted meats went to Atlantic ports and abroad.

The expansion of the nation's railway system in the post-Civil War period had a revolutionary effect on packing. Vast western range lands could now be reached, and their cattle shipped to the packing centers. The industry grew steadily in importance and in scope. Then, in 1876, the greatest impetus of all appeared in the form of the refrigerator car. This, and the later use of the refrigerated truck, made possible a regular flow of fresh meat at all seasons from the processing centers to the far-flung consuming centers everywhere.

Today, as the American Meat Institute points out, the packers supply the nation with literally hundreds of varieties of fresh and cured meats and ready-to-serve meat products. Cattle are raised on more than 5,000,000 farms and ranches, and hogs on 4,000,000. More than half the country's total land area is devoted to livestock production—and the great majority of farmers are in the business of raising meat animals, and depend on livestock for much of their income.

Nuggets of Thought

No man is useless while he has a friend.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

All service ranks the same with God. There is no last or first.—Robert Browning.

No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of it for any one else.—Charles Dickens.

Every man is useful to his kind by the very fact of his existence.—Thomas Carlyle.

Have I done anything for society? I have then done more for myself.—William Gilmore Simms.

The steps of faith fall on the seeming void and find rock beneath.—John Greenleaf Whittier.

It is the supreme art of the teacher to awaken joy in creative expression and knowledge.—Albert Einstein.

Faith and works are like the light and the candle, they cannot be separated.—J. Beaumont.

Handling the Situation

It was a gala night, but the audience was apathetic. And then a terrible thing befell the violinist. In the middle of a performance the E string snapped. The moment was tense. Clawing furiously at the instrument, the artist deliberately broke the A and D strings.

The audience held its breath, but the black browed violinist strode recklessly to the front of the stage. Thrusting his violin under his chin, he signaled the orchestra to proceed. "One string," he exclaimed, "and Paganini!"

Paganini was well known at the time, but within a matter of weeks his miraculous performance had made him world famous.

On the Safe Side

How fast are your vision reflexes at night? Try standing in a dark room until your eyes are accustomed to the darkness. Then look straight at a bright light while you turn it on suddenly. How many objects can you see clearly in the first 10 second after the light comes on?

This is no mere academic experiment. It is exactly the kind of thing that happens to you when you drive at night. Bright headlights glaring in your eyes have the same effect as the light in the blackened room. And 10 seconds is more than enough time for a fatal accident!

Editorial of the Week

TO FREE THE FARMER

Since Ezra Benson became secretary of agriculture, small steps have been taken toward getting the government out of the barnyard.

President Eisenhower, by his veto of the subsidy freeze bill, has sought to continue this progress. It seems unlikely there are enough votes to override the veto.

The freeze formula has kept the farmer in trouble, price-wise, the last 10 years or more.

As Earl Butz, a former assistant secretary of agriculture, once described it: Perpetuating the high, fixed subsidies for a few farm crops was like forcing the farmer to eat green apples to cure the stomach ache he got for eating too many green apples.

The farm problem is an economic problem, not political. If the politicians will let the economic forces take over for a while, the farmer will get himself out of the trap they put him in. After all, he knows more about his own business than Washington.

Neither Congress nor anyone else can repeal the law of supply and demand.—The Fort Worth Press.

A new curb and gutter program under sponsorship of the city is about ready to begin, according to Bill Rountree, city superintendent.

American Spirit and Prestige Need to Be Rebuilt, Says U. S. Senator Johnso

We have come to the time of a great national rebuilding, declares U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, in his weekly news release to The Herald. He continues with:

We must rebuild the American spirit and, with it, the fiber of the American character. We must rebuild the American image before the world and, with it, the world's respect for the principles for which America has stood. We must rebuild the American position and, with it, the strength of freedom as the most powerful force at work in the hearts of the human race.

As Americans, we do not live in the same world we knew a few short months ago. Many basic American assumptions have undergone the greatest change and challenge.

The assumption of American technological superiority has been made subject to serious and direct challenge. The assumption of American economic stability and permanent American prosperity has been dealt a blow that commands attention. The assumption of American leadership among the community of nations in the West has been severely undermined.

Our resources, our capacity, our knowledge, our competence are the same, undiminished and unfettered. What is needed is a determination to unleash those resources and march forward, secure in the confidence that freedom is a mighty force which can carry America to even greater heights.

We should start now to make Washington not just a capital power but a campus of free men. We should use the round table, the seminar and the lecture room so that our country will be the spiritual leader of the awakening now stirring the West.

We can if we wish safely invest each year at least the cost of two nuclear bombs in the building of great, new libraries. We can channel the cost of an army division into the support of great, new schools for the humanities. We can set aside a part of our national budget to finance laboratories and other facilities for programs of pure research.

In our exchange programs we should concentrate not merely on bringing young people here to teach them, but also on bringing their elders here to help teach us. The farmer of India, the worker of Europe, the teacher of Latin America should have the opportunity to visit our country so they can take back to their lands the true facts of America.

There is no question about our ability to do these things. Our future is bright; our future is assured; our future is great. All that is required is channeling the tremendous strength and energy of free America, and I have deep faith in the ability of our people to meet any challenge.

Draft Board Secretary Honored for Service

Mrs. Mae L. Dunwody, wife of a former Jones County sheriff, will be among draft boards clerks of the state of Texas who will receive service awards from Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director.

Mrs. Dunwody is one of 33 employees who have completed 15 years of civilian service with the U. S. government. The workers will receive special pins showing the service period.

TEXAS FINALIST -- Blond Carolgean Douglas, 19, of Corpus Christi represents Buccaneer Days in Texas' Miss Universe finals June 19 at Lake Whitney. Miss Douglas is five feet six inches tall, weighs 115 pounds and has a perfect 36 figure.

Rev. G. C. Henry Now In Revival at Lufkin

Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Henry left Sunday afternoon for Lufkin, and Rev. Henry is engaged this week in a revival there. He was formerly pastor of the church. They will be away some 12 days and will perhaps visit their daughter at Beaumont and visit other points.

Rev. James Woods will fill the pulpit at the Calvary Baptist Church at all services in the meantime, the pastor announces.

Stan M. Sheppard Installed Tuesday As Lions President

Stan M. Sheppard, personnel supervisor at the Celotex Corporation plant at Hamlin, was installed as new president of the Hamlin Lions Club for the ensuing club year beginning July 1 at a ladies' night banquet Tuesday evening at the oil mill guest house. He succeeds Willard Jones.

Joe Childers of Abilene, former past district governor and presently a member of the international Lions board, presided at the installation rites. Other officers installed were: Donley Williams, first vice president; James Josey, second vice president; George E. Campbell, secretary; Ed Croan, treasurer; E. A. Hewett, Lion tamer; Joe League, tail twister; Austin Siburt, song leader; Lester Minton and E. W. Anderson, two year directors.

About 75 Lions, ladies and guests attended the affair, including several from out-of-town. The retiring president presided. Rev. Calvin Bailey directed several songs by the group, and Edgar Duncan offered the invocation.

Speaker of the evening was Jimmy Isaacs of Abilene, vice president of the West Texas Television Network and station manager of KPAR-TV at Abilene. He spoke on the importance of communication in public service, pointing to the hours of free time (only commodity for sale by TV stations) that is given in public service to the communities they serve.

Congressman Omar Burleson Discusses President's Plan for Defense Set-Up

The Department of Defense and all the military services under it sometimes appear as a centipede with a thousand legs all going in different directions, declares Congressman Omar Burleson in his weekly news release from Washington to The Herald, "Washington: As It Looks from Here." His release follows:

How important is the president's proposal to reorganize the Defense Department? Perhaps the importance cannot altogether be measured in dollars and cents. Even more important is the ability to make decisions when immediate action may mean the difference between destruction and survival.

In dollars and cents, our national security program now consumes more than 60 cents of every tax dollar. Of the approximate $72,000,000,000 budget request, some $46,000,000,000 goes to national security. This is more than one-half of all the taxes collected by the federal government from all sources. Until some of the unnecessary activities of all the military services are curtailed, the bill to the taxpayer will continue to be high. As long as we continue to prepare to fight a war of the nature of World War II, and at the same time prepare for a nuclear war of the future, there is little hope that something less than two-thirds of all the income of the government will not go into defense.

The president's proposal to reorganize the Defense Department places emphasis on decision making authority and authority to carry out those decisions when made.

Under the president's proposal, the secretary of defense is to make the great strategical decisions and direct the control of their application. Once a decision is made, it is to be carried out without vetoes or obstructions on down the line. Under present law and practice, the secretary of defense does not have full authority to enforce a decision upon the separate services.

But how are these great decisions to be made? Secretaries of defense come and go. They are selected from a political list. They may come from banking, law, from professional politics, from the automobile business or the soap business. How does a man who has spent his life in some other endeavor go into the huge pentagon organization of approximately 30,000 (not including the armed forces), hang up his hat and make proper decisions?

The only way he could possibly know what to do would be to hear the problems explained by qualified experts. If he cannot hear and understand the thousands upon thousands of issues involved, he merely endorses the decision of some subordinate.

It seems the very real question devolves down to this proposition: Does the proposed reform of our military establishment make it more or less likely that the secretary of defense and the president of the United States will hear the great problems argued out thoroughly? Will it enable him to come to a definite and authoritative conclusion with the power of enforcement all the way down the line, resulting in action to carry out that decision?

The Congress will soon have before us a bill to enact into law these reforms. The controversy centers on the amount of authority which should be given one man, the secretary of defense. Some are saying that to place such authority in one man is embracing the old Prussian type of militarism. The bill voted out of the armed services committee does not give the defense secretary the authority requested by the president, but is supposed to give him much of the authority needed to carry out direction.

The proposition that something needs to be done is clear enough. The fact remains that this proposal is not going to appreciably reduce the cost of our military establishment. This only will be done when we finally decide that the next war will not be fought with rifles and bayonets, with huge aircraft carriers like sitting ducks, and all the frills now attached to every branch of the military.

FIRE DESTROYS GRAIN ELEVATOR—Flames soar skyward during a fire which gutted the C. L. Green Milling Company grain elevator at Winters last week. Damage was estimated at $10,000 and about 12,000 bushels of oats were also destroyed. The fire is believed to have been started by a dust explosion in the top and quickly engulfed the building. The fire came at the start of the first good grain season in this section of West Texas in seven years.

Complaints on Weed Poisoning Reported

County Agent Kirby Clayton reports that complaints are already coming to his office about damage to crops from the use of 2-4-D for weed control.

Formula 2-4-D, syas Clayton, is a very potent herbicide and has been noted to drift as far as eight miles and cause considerable damage to cotton and other broad-leaf crops. The young tender cotton is more susceptible to 2-4-D damage, and farmers of the area should use every precaution to protect his neighbor when using this herbicide.

Before using this weed killer, farmers should check with his adjoining neighbors to insure that the cotton in that area is not damaged, the agent suggests.

Two Hamlin Teachers Get Scholarships at ACC Summer Session

Charles A. Wyly and Jon Adams, both Hamlin teachers, have been awarded six-week scholarships to study under the American studies program at Abilene Christian College this summer.

The American studies program is a feature of the ACC 1958 summer school. Dates for the summer school are June 3-July 11 and July 15-August 22.

Adams will attend the first six weeks, and Wyly will attend the second six weeks.

The scholarships provide for room, board tuition and fees and are made possible by a grant of $12,500 from the Coe Foundation of New York City and the Texas Educational Association of Fort Worth. The total of $25,000 has enable Abilene Christian College to offer 100 scholarships to teachers. Sixty-five scholars will study the first six-week session and 35 the second six-week.

Hamlin Boy Scouts Leave Sunday for Area Annual Camp

Twenty members of Troop 43 of Hamlin Boy Scouts left Sunday for Camp Tonkawa, south of Abilene, official summer camp of the Chisholm Trail Boy Scout council, for a week's stay. They will return home Saturday night.

George Batchelor accompanied the group as Scoutmaster and will remain with the boys. Activities will include camping, handcrafts, swimming, marksmanship and several other maneuvers. Work on Scout advancements will be fostered by leaders.

Boys making the trip were Gary Ted Jay, Larry Stephens, Jimmy Inzer, Doyle Bell, Freddie Shave, Jesse Goolsby, Pat Batchelor, Lynn Ray Sturrock, George Smith, Billy Kitchens, Charles Dodd, Clifford Sharer, Henry O'Neal, Barry Cheshier, Eddie Townley, Jimmy Shivers, Ray Johnson Jr., Mark Smith, Dan Newberry and Van Newberry.

Bob Johnson, member of the Explorer Scout troop, accompanied the group and is serving on the camp staff. He will remain there for five weeks.

will be available in the commercial wheat areas at a national average of at least $1.81 a bushel, or 75 per cent of parity, if marketing quotas for the 1959 crop of wheat are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum.

This minimum will not be reduced, but may be increased if a combination of the wheat parity price and wheat supply relationships as of July 1, 1959, indicate a higher support price.

If quotas for the 1959 wheat crop are not approved by at least two-thirds of the voters, however, the support level in the commercial wheat producing area will drop to about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law. Compliance with allotments would continue to be a condition of eligibility for the lower price support.

Those farmers who vote in the referendum will be the ones who decide whether or not marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1959 wheat crop, Chairman Rowell points out.

All farmers are eligible to vote if they will share in the 1959 wheat crop from a farm in the commercial wheat area on which the wheat harvested for grain in 1959 will exceed 15 acres and provided they did not take part in the 1958 feed wheat program.

Let me tell you what I saved when I drove a new Plymouth... then bought one!

Just like a lot of other people, I was putting off buying a new car . . . even though we sure needed one. Then I found out what my Plymouth dealer was offering in the way of low prices and really big trades.

Mister, when I saw what I saved I knew there was no use putting off any longer! Got more for my old car than I believed possible. (Plymouth dealers need used cars and can sell all they get!) Got a terrifically low price on the new Plymouth . . . and choice of models besides . . . hardtops, sedans, convertibles, wagons.

And I saved a cool $140 on the ride alone! Plymouth's top-luxury ride, Torsion-Aire Ride, is standard at no extra cost, while you have to pay up to $140 for the top ride of competing "low-price 3" cars.

What's more, I got the car that proved it can save me gasoline, by winning the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. A car with Silver Dart Styling that is so far ahead right now it will still be worth more when I trade. With the kind of easy handling that makes every minute of driving a downright thrill! The stamina to stand up without nagging adjustments and big repairs . . . a car as much better built as it is better looking!

Barbara Ann Connally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connally, became the bride of James William Woods Jr. at 4:30 Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom, grandparents of the bride.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woods of McCaulley.

Mrs. Annie Laurie Henderson, sister of the bridegroom, was matron-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Billie Dominey and Glenda Wright. Best man was Billy Henderson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length dress of diamond white satin. The fitted bodice was overlaid with chantilly lace which extended to form an apron effect over the top of the skirt. Pleated net accented the soft V-neck, and the sleeves formed into a V over the wrists. Her finger tip illusion veil was held together by a tiara of net and seed pearls.

The matron-of-honor wore a waltz length dress of blue net and carried white Easter Reed daisies. The bridesmaids wore waltz length dresses of white net with ice blue ribbon sashes and carried bouquets of blue Ester Reed daisies.

MAKING HOME IN HAMLIN—Mrs. James William Woods Jr. (above) befor eher marriage last Sunday afternoon was Barbara Connally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connally of Hamlin. The rites, performed at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom, were attended by only a few relatives and friends. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woods of McCaulley. They are making their home in Hamlin following a brief honeymoon.

Monday morning the girls of the Hamlin chapter of Future Homemakers of America left by bus for the Presbyterian encampment grounds at Buffalo Gap, near Abilene, for a three-day outing. The girls carried sack lunches to eat for their first meal, and for the following meals the different chapters took turns helping the cooks, Mrs. L. B. Petty and Mrs. Edd Rodgers.

Chapter mothers going from Hamlin were Mrs. Evalina Ferguson, Mrs. Robert Perry and Mrs. Joe Stephens.

Don Shivers and Tommy Bonds from Hamlin were lifeguards. Mrs. Camille Simmons and the Hamlin chapter had charge of the camp for 19958. The grils enjoyed recreation, crafts, swimming and FHA workshops.

Other towns represented by FHA groups at the camp included Rochester, Olney, Rotan, Albany, Stamford and Knox City.

Reception Given For Connally-Woods Wedding Attendants

A reception for wedding attendants was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom immediately following the Connally-Woods rituals Sunday afternoon.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip the bride was wearing a two-piece grey and white chemise suit with large white linen collar and white accessories. She wore the glamellia from her bridal bouquet.

The bridegroom is a graduate of McCaulley High School and is employed in the Hamlin oil field. The bride attended Hamlin High School and will be a mid-term graduate next year.

Friends SS Class Met in Gibson Home

"The Garment That Never Grows Old" was the topic of the program given by Mrs. Everett Gibson when members of the Friends Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met in a dinner meeting in the Gibson home last Thursday.

Opening prayer was offered by Mrs. I. D. Miller, and the closing prayer was given by Mrs. A. Spencer.

Following the program, refreshments were served by the hostess to Mmes. Bill Maynard, A. C. Hall, I. D. Miller, Ben Parker, W. C. Hargrove, A. Spencer, Noel Weaver, W. H. Carter, Kelly Scott and Everett Gibson.

Hamburger Feast Given for Members of Training Union Group

Mmes. D. A. Mullings and Eddie B. Hopper were hostesses for a hamburger feast honoring members of the Phillips Training Union of North Central Avenue Baptist Church last Thursday evening.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Woodrow McHugh. Mrs. Robert Christian brought the devotional. Sniging was also enjoyed by attendants. R. A. Cary said the closing prayer.

Those present were Mmes. V. Madden, L. H. Clark, G. B. Phillips, Robert Christian, Rev. Woodrow McHugh and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lee and Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mullings and David, Mr. and Mrs Eddie B Hopper and Jane, R. A Cary and Jack Talbot.

Mary Willingham, bride-elect of Kenneth Holloway, was honored at gift tea Saturday in the home of Mrs. Clyde Grice.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Grice, who presented Mrs. Tarlton Willingham, mother of the bride-elect; the honoree; Mrs. Henry Holloway, mother of the bridegroom-to-be; Mrs. Sallie Holloway, grandmother of the groom-to-be; Mrs. Spero Constantine, who will be matron-of-honor; and Jeanie Young, the flower girl.

Mrs. Richard Young directed the guests to the serving table. The table was covered with a white satin cloth overlaid with white nylon. The centerpiece featured double wedding rings with the couple's initials and wedding date, June 21, in the rings. Gardenias were used below the rings with yellow snapdragons encircling the base.

Mrs. Guy Lewis Weaver and Mrs. R. J. Kim presided at the serving table, assisted by Mrs. Foster Cook, Mrs. LaFoy Patterson and Libby Johnson.

Mrs. George Malouf directed the guests to the bedrooms, where the gifts were displayed by Mrs. Charlie Sellers and Mrs. Weldon Griggs. Mrs. A. B. Carlton registered the guests, and Mrs. Noel Weaver said the good-byes. Other hostesses were Mrs. Joe Simpson and Mrs. Johnnie Agnew.

LEAKED SOMEWHERE.

This is reported by the Associated Press as a true story: A woman called the electric company in Durant, Oklahoma, and complained that her bill was too high.

The company checked her meter and wiring and reported they could find nothing amiss.

Two days later the woman called to apologize, announcing that she had found the trouble. "I found a socket without a light bulb in it, and the electricity must have leaked there."

SECOND CHILDHOOD.

"My boy," said the boss, "do you believe in life after death?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then that makes everything just fine," the boss went on tenderly. "About an hour after you left yesterday to bury your grandfather, he came in to see you."

Renee Moore and Wedding Principals Honored at Dinner

Renee Moore, bride-elect of Joe Don Hymer, was honored Thursday evening with a dinner party given by Mrs. Fay Young Morton of Hamlin at the Y-6 Ranch north of town. Co-hostess was Mrs. Morton's daughter, Mary Trammell of Abilene.

The dinner was served buffet style from a polished table centered with pink sweetheart roses and pink candles in Venetian glass candelabra of blue touched with gold.

Guests attending were Joe Don Hymer, groom-to-be; Mr. and Mrs. Ned Moore, parents of the bride-to-be; Mr. and Mrs. Don Hymer, parents of the groom-to-be; Mrs. Dee Burton, aunt of groom-to-be of Flagstaff, Arizona; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Witt; Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Brannon, parents of the junior bridesmaid, Lynn Brannon; Charlotte Cornett of Knox City, Sara Fomby, Joe Donald Cowan, and Mary Ann Willbanks, Joyce Hines and Clark Hewett, members of the wedding party.

The couple is to be married Saturday.

Hamlin OES Group Attends Anson Rites

Several members of the Hamlin chapter of the Order of Eastern Star were among visiting OES members present Monday evening at the Masonic Lodge in Anson when officers for the ensuing lodge year were installed for the Anson women's lodge.

Mrs. Charlie Abbott of Hamlin was installing organist for the rituals. Other visitors were from Abilene, Stamford, Haskell, Rule and Merkel lodges.

VISIT FROM TEMPLE.

Mrs. L. K. Ballew and daughter, Jo Nita, of Temple spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Ferguson Sr. Mrs. Ballew is the daughter of Mrs. Ferguson.

Hamlin Women Will Attend B&PW Confab

Mrs. E. M. Wilson and Lennie Greenway will attend the annual convention of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at Dallas Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Wilson is a district official in B&PW Club work. Outstanding programs by state and national leaders will be featured during the sessions.

DEPENDS ON ITS USE.

A tourist stopped where a farmer was erecting a building. "What are you building?" he asked.

"Wal," answered the farmer, "if'n I can rent it, it's a rustic cottage, and if'n I can't it's a cow shed."

INSTALL THE All Electric YEAR 'ROUND AIR CONDITIONER

Scientists have known for years that enough natural heat exists in outdoor air, even in the coldest weather, to heat every home in the world. If this heat could be extracted... concentrated... and brought indoors — what a solution to everyone's heating problem!

But that's just what a summer air conditioner does... in reverse. It extracts and concentrates indoor heat and moves it outdoors.

The All Electric Heat Pump Air Conditioner is an air conditioner that can reverse itself automatically to cool or heat as needed to maintain indoor comfort at an even level. An improved reverse-cycle valve, sensitive to indoor temperature changes of even a few degrees, switches from cooling to heating and back again automatically... to maintain the comfort level at which you set the thermostat.

COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC

The Electric Heat Pump is completely automatic. During changeable weather, even if it is within the hour, the Heat Pump will switch from heating to cooling and or back again as the temperature changes require.

You do not need to change the temperature dial, you just set the thermostat for the temperature you desire and forget it. The Electric Heat Pump is the ONLY completely automatic Air Conditioner.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin.—Texas Board of State Hospitals and Special Schools is working toward getting a gold star when an economy minded Legislature hits Austin next year.

Launching a new tight-purse policy, the board voted to prohibit superintendents of individual state institutions from (1) using left-over funds without board permission; and (2) making any expenditure of more than $1,000 without board approval.

Sometimes individual hospitals develop surplus funds resulting from smaller patient loads than had been expected or other reduced costs. New rule puts an end to no-strings-attached spending of such surpluses. These lapsed fund coulds amount to as much as $1,000,000, according to Board Member W. G. Kirklin of Odessa.

Chill Wind.—Hospital board's move pinpointed the spot where the state's money shortage is expected to pinch hardest—administration of state's services.

A revenue shortage in excess of $100,000,000 by next year has been freely predicted by various authorities for months.

A survey of platforms of legislative candidates over the state shows a fairly consistent approach by those making statements on the revenue dilemma. General pattern of promises to voters:

(1) Continuation of, often, increase in state obligations for education, welfare payments, road building, soil and water conservation, etc.

(2. Opposition to certain new taxes or sometimes new taxes in general.

(3) Cuts in state spending by "elimination of waste, duplication and needless services by state agencies."

Actual achievement or near-achievement of this fiscal magic will put a real squeeze on every state department.

Not Me.—Likelihood that someone may draw the "black bean" of new state taxes has group after group telling the State Tax Study Commission how overburdened they are already.

A spokesman for the Texas Motor Bus Association told the commission taxes on that industry are heavy and discriminatory. He said many smaller lines were having to go out of business.

A representative of retired people asked tax relief for people living on pensions.

"We are no longer concerned with saving the goose that lays the golden eggs. Our goose was cooked when we lost our ability to work and earn," said W. B. Wood of Port Arthur.

On behalf of the Texas Association for Tax Relief for Texans over 65, Wood asked for tax exemption for the first $3,000 of property owned by oldsters. He also opposed a sales tax.

Opposition to the new egg law has been voiced by wholesalers of eggs, who are being required to grade and label the eggs they are handling.

Discrimination is charged because the law applies to wholesalers but not to producers who sell only the output of their own flocks. Suit also objects to the provisions that makes violations a criminal offense and the requirement that eggs kept under refrigeration for 30 days or more be labeled "'cold storage eggs."

Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor leader and one-time Democratic candidate for the Legislature, attempted to file against Texas' only Republican congressman, Bruce Alger. He called himself a "Stevenson Republican," an apparent parody of Eisenhower Democrats.

A lower court ruled that Cantrell, as a member of on party, was not entitled to seek nomination in another party's primary. Cantrell appealed to the high court.

Since there is usually only one nominee for each office, Republican primaries do not ordinarily attract a heavy vote. It is widely assumed that many Republicans cross party lines to vote in Democratic primaries where most state offices are decided.

Cantrell's candidacy is generally interpreted as a move to force Republicans to stay in their own primary.

Next Legislautre will be asked to change the law so diesel fuel taxes would be collected from the wholesale distributor rather than the user, said a department official. This is expected to make it easier for tax agents to keep track of consumption and purchases.

Comptroller's department staffers admit that there are some evasions of the state motor fucls tax, but contend that Texas collects more per vehicle than any other major state. They discount as too large Senator Charles Herring's guess than some $25,000,000 in fuel taxes went uncollected.

Senate investigating committee looked into records in the Houston area to discover if small staffs, vague laws or insufficient penalties were causing the state to lose revenue.

Over the Hump.—Texas' general revenue fund is back in the black, according to State Comptroller Robert Calvert.

During the spring state expenditures got ahead of tax receipts. A month ago the fund was in the red by some $1,250,000. But collection of corporation franchise taxes and insurance company occupation taxes during the month put finances back on schedule.

Now there's more than $12,000,000 in the fund, said Calvert.

Alvis Vandygrff, Austin attorney, dropped out earlier.

PRACTICING HIS TRADE.

The judge's expression was not unkind as he leaned over the bench and addressed the mousy little man before him.

"So you're a locksmith?" his honor mused. "And pray tell, what was the locksmith doing in a gambling dive when he was arrested?"

International Trade Fair to Be Feature of State Fair of Texas

Texas International Trade Fair, an annual exhibition of major proportions in its field, will be inaugurated this fall as an important feature of the 1958 State Fair of Texas, October 4 through 19.

The trade fair concept will be utilized in expanding the exposition's popular international center of exhibits from foreign nations, which has been a state fair attraction for the past three years.

An estimated 20 nations from all over the world will be represented in the International Trade Fair. The foreign exhibits area will be expanded to occupy two bays of the general exhibits building.

"The State Fair of Texas is considered to be one of the four great fairs of the world today," Kenneth W. Erickson, trade fair manager, said. "The other three are at Milan, Paris and Toronto."

Storm Does Damage In Neinda vicinity

Number of cases of damage were reported late Sunday afternoon in the small tornado that breeze through the Neinda community, south of Hamlin.

Rev. J. S. King reported a tree being uprooted and thrown onto his home and his garage being demolished. Other minor damage also was done in the area.

Peace is rarely denied to the peaceful.—Johann C. F. von Schiller.

An exotic, many-colored Oriental print was used in this swimsuit by Gantner. A matching skirt makes this the perfect cotton costume for poolside or patio.

Most Insecticides Can Be Harmful to People And Pets, Says Agent

Most insecticides are poisonous to people and to animals, according to Kirby Clayton, the county agent. He advises keeping insecticides where children and pets cannot reach them.

When applying them, do not contaminate food, dishes or kitchen utensils. Do not store them with food. Do not breathe too much of the spray mist or the dust. If insecticide is spilled on the skin, wash it off promptly. Change your clothes if you spill insecticide on them. Keep children and pets off sprayed surfaces that have not dried.

When you have finished applying an insecticide, empty unused material into the original container, clean the sprayer or duster, and wash all exposed surfaces of the body with soap and water.

SEEMS THAT WAY.

Hamlin Golfers Win Two Awards In Anson Tourney

Charles Coody of Stamford repeated his performance of taking championship honors in the Anson invitation golf tournament Sunday afternoon in finals. He downed Ronnie Phlilips of Wichita Falls on the sixteenth hole to take the title, which he last year won over a big field.

Although only one Hamlin golfer qualified for the championship flight last week-end, two players brought home trophies from other flights in the tournament that attracted five flights of golfers from all over Central West Texas.

Bill Harbert won fourth flight honors and brought home a golf bag as award. George Poe took the honors in the fifth flight and came away with a set of irons.

Two other Hamlin players went to the finals matches. John Hudson, after eliminating Joe League, another Hamlin golfer, in semi-finals of the first flight, dropped the last match to Joe Bassett of Wichita Falls.

Dr. M. L. Smith, after trimming R. V. Clark of Abilene in a semi-finals round in the third flight, dropped the last round to Corky Brusch of Abilene.

Other participants from Hamlin in the tournament, besides those already mentioned, were Holly Toler, in the first flight; Earl Smith, and Elmer Feagan, second flight; Gene Knabel, third flight; Wilson Brannon, fourth flight.

HARD TO MAKE IT.

A retired Wisconsin farmer, on a tour of the country, stopped in Las Vegas and decided he would just once try his luck at the dice table. His opponent, a shrewd looker, picked up the dice. As he rolled, out popped a third cube from inside his sleeve.

Unruffled, the farmer picked up the dice, pocketed one of them and handed back the other two. His only words were: "Okay, roll. Your point is 18."

The tornado season is about over for this year. Tornadoes and storm damage may bring you a tax deduction, reminds Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald.

There are a number of casualty and theft losses allowed by our federal tax laws. You may deduct the net amount of actual property loss resulting from an accident, fire, storm, shipwreck, other casualty or from theft. These losses may be business losses or non-business losses. The heavy spring rains for the last two years caused considerable flood damage which is also deductible.

If you suffered a property loss from any of these casualties, you should read your tax instructions carefully or secure competent professional help to prepare your tax return next year.

Not all damage to property is a casualty. For example, if the termites eat up your house, you are not allowed a tax deduction even though, I am sure, all of us would consider it a personal casualty.

No reason for doing it is good reason for not doing it.

Freight Carloadings For Santa Fe Gain

Freight carloadings for the Santa Fe Railway System for the week ending May 31, 1958, were 22,344 compared with 20,608 for the same week a year ago, reflecting a sizeable gain. Cars received from connections totaled 10,160 compared with 11,461 for the same week in 1957.

Total cars moved were 32,504 compared with 32,069 for the same week a year ago. Santa Fe handled a total of 31,774 cars in the preceding week this year.

CURB and GUTTER

The City is now running Curb and Gutter at a cost to the properyt owner of 85 cents per foot. Deposits must be made at the City Hall or with Bill Rountree before work is started. Each location must be at least one city block, so if you are interested, check with the property owners on your block and get them to put up their deposits.

CITY OF HAMLIN

Good Nieghbor Club Hears Program At Meeting on Children and Money

The program was on "Children and Money" when members of the Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Club met last week with nine members and one visitor present. Mrs. Sam Hodges and a visitor, Mrs. J. Carter Parks, presented the program.

Mrs. Hodges reported it is much better to give children an allowance, which usually solves a numbers of family emotional problems. Just remember, an allowance means nothing more than giving children a chance to handle money which will be spent on them in any case. The allowance depends upon age, cost of needs (regular and special).

Is your allowance adequate per child? Is it too much for good money management? Of course, there is quite a difference in allowances of six-year-olds and 12 to 18-year-olds. The younger child should have money for candy, gum, ice cream cones, dime store toys, blocks, crayons, money for church and gifts for others. The older child needs much more: For movies, hobby materilas, club fees, comic books and magazines, sports equipment, hair cuts, school costs, fad accessories, contributions, soft drinks, school social expense, date expense, special clothing, cosmetics and costume jewelry, student activity books, savings for college or special trips, and fees for athletics.

Some parents give the excuse for not giving children allowances, "I buy my children anything they need; they know all they have to do is ask for it." That's just it: a child (especially a teen-ager) does not want to ask their parents for money to buy a Mother's Day gift, Father's Day gift or birthday gifts. If they received an allowance they could save some of it for these gifts, which is good practice for the child.

Mrs. Parks explained that parents should help their children plan their spending. Here are four important steps in learning to handle money well:

1. Know how much you will have to spend.
2. Keep up with your spending so you will know where your money goes.
3. Plan the best way to spend your money.
4. Check on your plan.

A good way to teach children is to get three jars and label them "Spend," "Share," "Save." Of their entire week's money, whether allowance alone or some of it earned, a certain amount should be put into these jars. In this way a child learns how important it is to share and save part of their money.

Teach your child good management in money matters.

CONTROL WORMS NOW.

It is now time to apply control measures to ornamental plants infesed with bag worms. The worms are now small and can be effectively controlled, says C. F. Garner, extension entomologist. He suggests that a copy of bulletin L-199, Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants, be obtained from the local county agent.

By this time of the year a lot of folks are wearing out the lid to their mail box looking for their tax refund check, observes Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald. Some folks start looking for the refund check a few days after they have filed their tax return.

The tax folks in Dallas have to be pretty fast in figuring tax returns and getting out refund checks because it takes several months at the rate of 10,000 checks per day to get out over 700,000 refund checks. You have to remember that there are millions of taxpayers and there are a lot of steps required by law in checking your return before Internal Revenue can send you your refund check. If you move, tell Uncle Sam your new address and give him a little time and your check will probably be along within a couple of months. Don't write and ask for it before July 1.

County Farmers May Apply for New Wheat Allotments

A farmer on land on which no wheat was seeded for any of the years 1956, 1957 or 1958 may apply on or before July 1 for a "new farm" wheat acreage allotment for the 1959 winter wheat crop, Chairman R. G. Rowell of the Jones County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said this week.

Even if wheat was produced on the farm in 1958, the farm is still considered a new wheat farm if it did not have a 1958 allotment, and the farmer must apply at the county office as a new producer, Rowell said.

An important requirement for obtaining a new allotment is to file a written application before the July 1 deadline. This application may be made out on forms which can be obtained in person or by mail from the county ASC office.

The chairman pointed out that factors considered in determining whether a farmer is eligible for a new farm allotment will include the tillable acreage, type of soil and topography of the farm. The operator's farming system is studied and the extent to which his livelihood depends on his farming operations. He is also asked the reason wheat was not planted on his farm in past years.

County Farm and Development Group Meets with Agents

Eighteen persons attended the Jones County farm and home development family night at the Anson High School home economics laboratory last Monday night, according to Kirby Clayton, agricultural agent, and Mary Newberry, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Martha Harmon, home economist of the Abilene Lone Star Gas Company, gave an interesting demonstration on "Foods for the Freezer." She was assisted by Mrs. Opal Paden.

Blueprints available for corral arrangement and cattle chutes were discussed by the county agent.

Home-made ice cream and cake were served to Fern Hodge and J. G. Simmons, district extension agents of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Grady Smith of Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Birger Haterius, Craig and Ingrid, Mrs. F. A. Lollar, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Clayton, Judy and Gary, and the agents.

Next meeting of the farm and home development families will be a picnic and a program in July.

4-H Club Boys and Girls Attending Annual Round-Up

Several 4-H Club boys and girls from Jones County and this area are at Texas A. & M. College this week attending the annual state 4-H Club Round-Up.

The chuck wagons have been greased and the cooks have their equipment in top shape to handle the feeding of an estimated 2,200 4-H boys and girls, their supervisors, leaders and friends who will attend the affair, opening Tuesday and continuing through Thursday.

The chuck wagon supper, always a program favorite, was scheduled to take place the evening of June 11 and will be a fitting climax for he hard day the 4-H Club members will have devoted to judging and demonstration team contests.

A. H. Roberts, Jones County 4-H Club member and winner in the distric tpublic speaking contest, will represent Extension District III in the 4-H public speaking program at the 4-H Round-Up this year.

The evening program on June 10 commemorated 50 years of 4-H Club work in Texas. President M. T. Harrington of Texas A. & M. College system welcomed the 4-H members to A. & M., and Director John E. Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service spoke on "Where From Here?" Several 4-H members of the past and present also had part on the program.

On Jun 11 state winers in 22 different judging and team demonstration contests were to be determined. Winners in several contests will qualify to represent Texas in national events later in the year.

In commenting on 4-H Club work, the youth phase of the agricultural extension service, Director Hutchison said an estimated 2,000,000 Texas rural boys and girls had been 4-H members during the past 50 years. "We have letters from some of the first clubs in the state," he said, "and they have recalled for us how valuable their 4-H training has been through the years. We know that present day clubs are different from those of half a century ago, but then, as now, our major effort was to help the boy or girl to help themselves.

Members of 50 years ago will attend the Round-Up and participate in planned activities.

James West Named Blakley's County Man

James West of Stamford has been named Jones County manager for William A. Blakley's campaign for United States senator in the Democratic primary July 26. Announcement of the appointment was made by Blakley's state campaign manager, James H. Blundell.

Blakley is conducting a personal campaign with plans to visit every county in the state and to meet and talk personally with as many voters as posible.

County managers have an active part in arranging for visits to their respective areas.

Estimated Three from Jones County Due to Be Drafted in July Call

An estimated three young men from Jones County will be included in the state quota for Texas draft boards in July of 538 men Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Thursday.

The state's July call of 538 compares with a quota of 519 for June, previously announced. The July call is the state's share of a national call of 10,000 men, all for the Army.

The state director of selective service also announced that approximately 1,700 men were scheduled to take pre-induction mental and physical examinations in July.

The July quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on July 1, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

Some reservists and National Guardsmen also may be called up if they fail to participate satisfactorily in their units.

Jimmy Hill Completes Marine Corps Basic

Jimmy R. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hill of 14 Southwest Avenue F, Hamlin, is scheduled to complete recruit training June 12 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, California, according to a release to the Herald from the base.

The 11-week course includes instruction in all basic military subjects and the firing of all basic infantry weapons.

Government Will Purchase All Loan Cototn on July 31

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced recently that Commodity Credit Corporation will purchase at the close of business July 31, 1958, all 1957 crop loan cotton (upland and extra long staple) which is unredeemed at that time.

Through May 9, 1958, a total of 3,655,650 bales of 1957 crop cotton was reported as having been pledged for loans. As of the same date 505,963 bales had been redeemed, leaving loans outstanding on 3,149,687 bales.

Until the close of business on July 31, 1958, producers may either sell their "equity" in the loan cotton or redeem the cotton from the loan and then sell it in the open market. The market price of the various qualities of cotton has remained fairly steady in recent months, and at present prices farmers should be able to dispose of some qualities of cotton at prices that will give them some net profits above the loan and charges against the cotton, say cotton experts.

There aren't any rules for success that work unless you do.

Sunday Schools Gain Over Previous Week And Over Year Ago

E. E. Johnson, 72, Dies Wednesday in Hospital at Anson

Funeral services for Edgar Eugene Johnson, 72-year-old farmer living southeast of Hamlin, were conducted last Thursday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Fairview Baptist Church.

Johnson, who had been a resident of the community for 18 years, died last Wednesday morning at Anson General Hospital following a stroke. He had been ill for about a week.

Born in Freestone County, on July 31, 1885, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson. He married the former Mae Iona Tribble at Korn Hill on August 10, 1913. He was a member of the Neinda Baptist Church.

Officiating at final rites was Rev. M. E. Randolph, pastor of the Fairview church.

Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery under direction of the Hamlin Funeral Home. Pallbearers were W. L. McDonald, B. E. Thackerson, M. T. Jones, John Beauchamp, H. E. Valliant and A. W. Bagley.

Surviving Johnson are his wife, Mrs. E. E. Johnson; two sons, Webb Johnson of Plainview and Charlie Johnson of Midland; two daughters, Mrs. Lester Ohlhausen of Ballinger and Mrs. Orph Osborne of Wilcox, Arizona; three brothers, George Johnson of Casper, Wyoming, and Ozie and Lewis Johnson of Mexia; one sister, Mrs. Beulah Maiden of Mexia; and nine grandchildren.

Record Number of Income Tax Returns Made by This District

Record number of tax refunds were made by the Dallas district of the Internal Revenue Service by May 9 this year, according to A. E. Fogle Jr., administrative officer of the Abilene office, including many in the Hamlin territory.

Tax refunds amounting to over $64,379,000 have been forwarded to 685,570 taxpayers. Some 6,500 other North Texas payers' tax refunds have been held up because of faulty preparation of returns. The Internal Revenue Service is making every effort to clear the errors on these tax returns as soon as possible. Taxpayers were requested not to contact the Internal Revenue Service concerning their refunds until after July 1.

Fogle stated that "24,960 North Texans had possible erroneous deductions in their tax returns that require a pre-refund audit before the refund can be made."

Suspense and excitement, with a constant overtone of brooding terror, keynote "Attack of the 50-Foot Woman" and "War of the Satellites," two Allied Artists pictures combined in a double bill playing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Ferguson and Hamlin Drive-In Theaters. The twin-shock program has added value because both pictures are as timely and up-to-date as a news story from today's final edition.

"War of the Satellites," starring Susan Cabot, Richard Devon and Dick Miller, is classed as pure science-fiction, but today's strides inter-planetary research are so tremendous it is hard to separate the truth from fiction. Certainly this production is believable in every scene and action-packed sequence.

The picture, produced and directed by Roger Corman, relates the efforts of Earth, working through the United Nations, to speed space ships aloft and assemble a satellite in the atmosphere.

The first ships are violently destroyed by a mysterious force obviously generated by an enemy in outer space. These events are followed by a direct warning to Earth and the deadly war begins. The picture has exceptional pictorial qualities in the striking twenty-first century sets and brilliant special effects.

"Attack of the 50-Foot Woman," starring Allison Hayes, William Hudson and Yvette Vickers, is a terrifying masterpiece of suspense and terror that relates how a monster space ship lands from outer space on the California desert and sets loose a giant monster that terrorizes the countryside.

Popvalve

By Willard Jones

He tod an interesting story that depicted the thinking of a small boy.

Tommy had been given a little turtle with which he had spent many pleasant hours of play. One morning the turtle was found in his box flat on his back, and apparently his soul had departed to the great beyond. To help soothe the youngster's grief, the father suggested an elaborate funeral for the turtle, pointing out the fancy box with decorations, flowers and fol-de-ral that could be used in the final rites.

The boy was impressed with all the elaborate plans, and they seemed to satisfy his chagrin. Then, as the father and son went to the turtle box again to make arrangements, the pet began wiggling and showed his usual signs of life. The boy, now more fascinated by the funeral arrangements, bluntly declared, "Let's kill him!"

JOHN MORRISON, a meat cutter in Hamlin for many years, who has been seriously ill for several months in area hospitals, was taken last week to a Houston hospital for further treatment.

Word came to The Herald first of the week from Mrs. Morrison, who is with her husband, that the doctors there do not believe his trouble is malignant. Following treatment there this week, Mrs. Morrison says they hope to be able to return home within a few days.

The old store-keeper, who was also the community's postmaster, was a real go-getter. He had no helper, and when he had to leave his store to meet the mail train he was tormented by thoughts of tourists stopping for gas and soft drinks and finding him gone.

Finally he hit upon a shrewd solution. He printed a sign in bold letters which explaind everything during his enforced absences:

ALREADY BEEN GONE 10.

CROSSED FINGERS, like those of Holly Toler and Eddie Jay, Hamlin area wheat farmers, were the order of the day for scores of farmers of the section for several weeks during the maturing and harvest of the record grain crop of this region. The farmers are now relaxed, practically all the grain in the territory having been harvested in recent days. Stormy weather that threatened the crops kept raisers on "needles and pins" for several weeks.

Big Grain Crop to Bring to Hamlin Area $1,750,000

Most Highway 92 Right-of-Way Fixed

Only one property owner had not signed a right-of-way deed on the straightening and widening project of Highway 92 from Hamlin to Stamford Tuesday morning, according to County Judge H. C. (Pete) Andrews. And that owner, on the extreme eastern end of right-of-way stretch, had agreed to sign the necessary papers.

This good news has been awaited by residents of Stamford, Hamlin and along the 19-mile stretch of highway for many months. It is now scheduled to be prepared for contractors within the next few weeks.

More than $600,000 was appropriated for this project over a year ago by the Texas Highway Commission, but delays of one kind and another have pushed the project aside. First, difficulties arose over right-of-way location after Lone Star Gas Company asked an exhorbitant price for moving its gas mains to make room for widening the present highway. The gas main runs along the south side of the present route, which would be covered in the new roadway.

Then, after another new route north of the Katy Railway was ruled impractical, new routing to the south of the gas main was surveyed. All sorts of right-of-way difficulties were encountered.

Under the present plan the new route will go east from Hamlin, to the south of the Max Sellers place, then come alongside the present Highway 92 (south of the gas main) to the Olin Amerson place 10 miles east of town, then the present highway will be widened.

Electric lines are being moved and houses and fences along the route are to be moved within the next few weeks, declares Johnny Agnew, Precinct 1 county commissioner, who is supervising the right-of-way adjustments.

The project should be ready for letting late this summer, Agnew believes.

Hamlin Fishermen Get 35-Pound Catfish

Three Hamlin fishermen last Thursday brought back the proof of their big fish yarn. They were telling friends that they had landed a 35-pound yellow catfish from the Clear Fork of the Brazos River east of Hamlin—and they were displaying the fish to prove their story.

Don Compton, Ben Turner and Raymond Scifres, with Compton's and Scifres' wives were in the fishing party. They caught the whopper after three hours of fishing.

The Celotex Corporation this week reported reduced sales and earnings in the six months ended April 30, but Henry W. Collins, president, said the company's overall business is continuing to show radual improvement, and "we feel it is reasonable to expect sales volume in the last six months of this year to compare favorably with that of the second half of last year."

Net earnings were $382,370 after all charges and income tax provisions, equal to 24 cents a share on 1,028,651 shares of stock currently outstanding. In the like six months a year ago earnings were $1,595,647, equal to $1.42 a share on present common shares or $1.66 a share on the 878,651 shares then outstanding. The year ago earnings included at $395,733 net profit on the sale of investments.

Earnings for the quarter ended April 30 were 30 cents per share of common, compared with earnings for the corresponding quarter last year of 69 cents on present shares or 81 cents a share on the 878,651 shares outstanding at that time.

Collins said the lower six-month sales reflected the general economic recession and a drop in building acitivity aggravated by adverse winter and spring weather conditions.

"Earnings, in addition to being affected by the lower sales volume, were also depressed by unusually low competitive prices for our asphalt roofing products prevailing in recent months, by an 11-week strike which ended in February at our Lagro, Indiana, mineral wool and acoustical tile plant, and by start-up and break-in costs sustined at our new Fort Dodge, Iowa, gypsum plant," he said.

"Since the Fort Dodge plant began operations, a steady increase in volume due to intensified sales and promotional efforts has resulted in steadily reducing the excessive costs incurred while operating at low volume. With rspect to the asphalt roofing situation, we recently announced to our trade price increass on our asphalt roofing products to take effect during the latter part of this month."

Dan Reese Ray, 31-year-old native of the Hamlin community, was found dead about 10:30 Saturday morning in his car south of Anson. Justice of the Peace Joe Mathis returned a verdict of suicide.

Ray was found by his brother, Wayne, and Deputy Sheriff Raymond Spraberry of Anson in his car in an area known locally as "the shinnery," five miles south and west of Anson.

Spraberry said Ray evidently attached a vacuum cleaner hose to the exhaust pipe of his car, brought the hose into the car through a window of a back door, and stuffed old clothing at the top of the window to shut out fresh air.

The brother, Wayne, visiting at Anson from Odessa, went to the office of Jones County Sheriff Dave Reves about 9:30 a. m. Saturday and told Spraberry he had information that Ray had threatened to kill himself.

Ray was married and the father of two small daughters. He had been employed in the men's department of Thornton's Department Store at Abilene.

Ray was born near Hamlin and in 1938 moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ray, to the Hodges community. He was graduated from Anson High School in 1944. In 1948 he married Lura Jane Garvin.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Anson. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, southwest of Anson.

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Dana Lynn and Angie Sue, both pre-school age; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ray of Anson; the brother, Wayne; one sister, Mrs. Lee Allen Ash of Denton; his grandmother, Mrs. M. C. Reese.

George Ellis Named Methodist Youth Head

George Ellis, a junior at McMurry College in Abilene, has recently been named youth director for the First Methodist Church, according to Rev. Edmund W. Robb, pastor.

Young Ellis will work with the young people of the church, directing their church and social activities and assisting with the musical program for the young people.

Jones County North Side Singers to Meet

Singers and songer lovers of the area will assemble Sunday afternoon, June 5, at the Assembly of God Church in South Hamlin for the Jones County North Side singing, it is announced.

Festivities will get underway at 2:00 p. m., to which the public is invited.

QUESTIONED IN SLAYING—Paul Sims, 10, tells Deputy Sheriff Tom White in Hobbs, New Mexico, about the fatal shooting of his father, William H. Sims, 42, on a ranch near Eunice. Paul said he and his brother, Leroy, 8, were angry because their father spanked them for running away to see Rattlesnake Draw, a canyon. Paul is in jail awaiting action by juvenile authorities.

Wheat Growers Will Vote on Price Supports and Controls

Stormy Weather Finally Destroys Some Area Grain

After anxiety and fear reigned in the grain belt around Hamlin for weeks, the Weather Man finally caught up with some growers Sunday and Monday evenings when hail and high winds damaged or destroyed several thousand acres of wheat and oats in the Radium, Celotex, Plainview and Hitson communities.

Principal losses were suffered to oats fields, most of the wheat having already been harvested.

Storm clouds that whipped the Radium area southeast of town Sunday afternoon laid low several fields of grain. The hail and high winds breezed through the Neinda community, six miles south of town, then went northwest toward Celotex and finally wound up their damage in the Hitson community, six miles west of Hamlin.

Another squall visited the Plainview community, eight miles southeast of Hamlin Monday afternoon and did considerable damage to oats patches there.

No accurate estimate of damage could be ascertained, but one man said probably 1,500 to 2,000 acres of oats was destroyed. In some instances, grazing will help to rescue part of the loss to the grain raisers. Also some of it will be baled.

NEW PRESIDENT of Hamlin Lions Club is Stan M. Sheppard (above), personnel supervisor at the Celotex Corporation plant at Hamlin. He was named in a special election last week after Miller Harmon resigned. He, along with other officers, was installed Tuesday night at a ladies' night affair.

4-H ROUND-UP SLATED.

In addition to the naming of state winners in 22 different judging and team demonstration contests, the kick-off observance of the fiftieth anniversary of 4-H Club work in Texas will be featured.

Marketing Quota Also to Be Set by Friday Balloting

Level of price support for the 1959 wheat crop will be determined by the outcome of the June 20 referendum on marketing quotas for next year's crops, R. G. Rowell, chairman of the Jones County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, de-Department of State.

"Aside from a choice between a marketing quota program and no marketing quotas, the big issue to be decided by the June 20 vote will be the level of price support available for the 1959 wheat crop," the chairman stated. "Acreage allotments will remain in effect no matter how the vote goes, as a means of determining eligibility for support."

As announced on May 1, price support for the 1959 wheat crop

Wyvonne Conner Named Sponsor for Hamlin by BCD

Wyvonne Conner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Conner of Hamlin, was named cowgirl sponsor to the Cowboy Reunion at Stamford from Hamlin community when members of the board of directors of the Hamlin Board of Community Development met in special session Tuesday morning.

Miss Conner will be mounted on her quarterhorse "Stockings," which is truly a show horse. She will participate in the opening parade at 4:00 p. m. on July 2, as well as in the barrel race and ribbon roping events during the rodeo performances. Night shows will be staged on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 2, 3 and 4, and a matinee performance is scheduled for 2:00 o'clock July 4. A full length motion picture will be made this year of the Friday afternoon show by a Dallas concern.

Wyvonne also will participate in the Aspermont Rodeo on June 26, 27 and 28.

Most of Wheat Is Out, Oats Coming In at Fast Clip

Revenues of around $1,750,000 are slated to be realized from the record grain crop in the Hamlin territory, declare grain buyers who have been swamped with the golden wheat and oats harvested in the territory during the past two weeks. Earlier predictions were a figure much less than this.

Although the price of wheat has dropped from an opening quotation of $1.91 to Wednesday's price of $1.60, most farmers have been well pleased by returns from their wheat and oats crops.

Wheat harvest is nearly 90 per cent completed in the Hamlin area, it was estimated Wednesday by Fred B. Moore Jr. of the Moore elevator. Probably 75 per cent of the oats crop has been harvested. Several thousand acres of oats were destroyed by hail and high winds Sunday and Monday evenings in the area.

Wheat continued to yield from 28 to 40 bushels per acre over the week-end. And tests showed that high quality of the wheat registered up to 62 pounds to the bushel in many instances. No. 1 wheat was rated at 60 pounds to the bushel.

Total harvest of grain in this section will amount to more than 1,000,000 bushels. Many farmers stored much of their oats, and after storage ran over, they began bringing in the grain in quantities this week.

Storage facilities at the Moore elevator were filled over the week-end, and the Moore concern was shipping from 20 to 25 carloads per day. Most of the grain was going to Houston and Galveston, from which points it was to be shipped to foreign countries.

Hot Topping Job on Highway 83 Finished

Contractors first of the week completing a hot topping job on Highway 83 from Hamlin to Radium on the shoulders of both sides of the regular pavement that were installed several months ago as part of a widening project for the highway.

The hot topping included some work on South Central Avenue where the pavement was widened to a six-lane thoroughfare out to the California Creek bridge.

The highway now is at least a four-lane highway from Anson, through Hamlin, to Aspermont.

Swimming Classes to Be Offered at Pool

Swimming classes will be conducted for beginners for the next three weeks at the swimming pool at the City Park, according to Mac Fullerton, operator of the pool.

Classes for children will begin at 8:00 each morning, Monday through Friday, and classes for beginner adults will begin at 9:00 o'clock.

CHILDREN SHOULD BE SEEN AND NOT HURT!

Children sould be seen and not hurt!

The arrival of spring prompts this cautioning note for the motorist and also suggests that drivers increase their alertness and decrease their speed when passing through a zone where children are playnig.

An elusive, bouncing ball, a game of tag, skates, scooters, bicycles or a pesky kite that needs plenty of tugging for a take-off often will start a youngster on a fatal charge into the path of an oncoming automobile.

For suring traditionally releases children from indoors and often turns a sidewalk into a playground. A child at play forgets where safety stops and sometimes dashes blindly into the street.

Researchers for the Muriite Company point out that the eyes function as one of the most important factors in stopping a moving vehicle. First, the eye must see the danger and transmit the vision to the brain. Then the brain must command the foot to apply the brakes, and the foot must move to the brake pedal and apply sufficient force to halt the car.

Fro mthe moment the eyes see the danger until the brakes are applied is called the "reaction time." Tests have shown that the reaction time of an average driver ranges from three-quarters of a second to as much as one and one-half seconds.

An automobile can cover a great distance during this split-second reaction time. At 60 miles per hour a car will cover 66 feet from the time the eye sees the danger until the foot hits the brake. At 20 miles per hour an auto will move 22 feet during the reaction time.

In addition to the space covered during the reaction time, every automobile travels a certain distance after the brakes actually are applied. The stopping distance for a car traveling 60 miles per hour is 300 feet, and for a car going 20 miles per hour is 25 feet.

Driving increases during the spring and summer months. So do safety hazards in the form of playing children. Therefore, drivers should make vision, visibility and good judgment their safety guideposts.

Three Centuries of Packing

Meat packing is one of the oldest enterprises in America. The industry was actually born three centuries ago in the Connecticut River Valley. Settlers raised corn, fed and fattened livestock, and salted down beef and pork products in barrels for shipment to the colonies.

Then the western migration began, and the livestock pattern established in the east was followed there. The supply became so great that a meat packing center was established in Cincinnati. From that city salted meats went to Atlantic ports and abroad.

The expansion of the nation's railway system in the post-Civil War period had a revolutionary effect on packing. Vast western range lands could now be reached, and their cattle shipped to the packing centers. The industry grew steadily in importance and in scope. Then, in 1876, the greatest impetus of all appeared in the form of the refrigerator car. This, and the later use of the refrigerated truck, made possible a regular flow of fresh meat at all seasons from the processing centers to the far-flung consuming centers everywhere.

Today, as the American Meat Institute points out, the packers supply the nation with literally hundreds of varieties of fresh and cured meats and ready-to-serve meat products. Cattle are raised on more than 5,000,000 farms and ranches, and hogs on 4,000,000. More than half the country's total land area is devoted to livestock production—and the great majority of farmer's are in the business of raising meat animals, and depend on livestock for much of their income.

Nuggets of Thought

No man is useless while he has a friend.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

All service ranks the same with God. There is no last or first.—Robert Browning.

No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of it for any one else.—Charles Dickens.

Every man is useful to his kind by the very fact of his existence.—Thomas Carlyle.

Have I done anything for society? I have then done more for myself.—William Gilmore Simms.

The steps of faith fall on the seeming void and find rock beneath.—John Greenleaf Whittier.

It is the supreme art of the teacher to awaken joy in creative expression and knowledge.—Albert Einstein.

Handling the Situation

It was a gala night, but the audience was apathetic. And then a terrible thing befell the violinist. In the middle of a performance the E string snapped. The moment was tense. Clawing furiously at the instrument, the artist deliberately broke the A and D strings.

The audience held its breath, but the black browed violinist strode recklessly to the front of the stage. Thrusting his violin under his chin, he signaled the orchestra to proceed. "One string," he exclaimed, "and Paganini!"

Paganini was well known at the time, but within a matter of weeks his miraculous performance had made him world famous.

On the Safe Side

How fast are your vision reflexes at night? Try standing in a dark room until your eyes are accustomed to the darkness. Then look straight at a bright light while you turn it on suddenly. How many objects can you see clearly in the first 10 second after the light comes on?

This is no mere academic experiment. It is exactly the kind of thing that happens to you when you drive at night. Bright headlights glaring in your eyes have the same effect as the light in the blackened room. And 10 seconds is more than enough time for a fatal accident!

Editorial of the Week

TO FREE THE FARMER

Since Ezra Benson became secretary of agriculture, small steps have been taken toward getting the government out of the barnyard.

President Eisenhower, by his veto of the subsidy freeze bill, has sought to continue this progress. It seems unlikely there are enough votes to override the veto.

The freeze formula has kept the farmer in trouble, price-wise, the last 10 years or more.

As Earl Butz, a former assistant secretary of agriculture, once described it: Perpetuating the high, fixed subsidies for a few farm crops was like forcing the farmer to eat green apples to cure the stomach ache he got for eating too many green apples.

The farm problem is an economic problem, not political. If the politicians will let the economic forces take over for a while, the farmer will get himself out of the trap they put him in. After all, he knows more about his own business than Washington.

Neither Congress nor anyone else can repeal the law of supply and demand.—The Fort Worth Press.

RECALLING Other Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Goings-on in the Hamlin community 30 years ago included the following, being news briefs taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated June 15, 1928:

Hamlin Rotary Club is sponsoring a movement to promote Boy Scout work in the community. A banquet for men and boys of the Hamlin vicinity interested in this work has been set for Thursday evening, June 21.

Prices taken from the Bryant-Link Company grocery department advertisement include: Pineapple, two No. 1 cans for 25 cents; tomatoes, No. 1 can, six cents; potatoes, two cents pound; Gold Plume coffee, three-pound can for $1.59.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Items of interest in the news 20 years ago at Hamlin included the following, reproduced from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated June 10, 1938:

Hamlin Oilers baseball team continued its victory march Sunday by defeating the Haskell Braves by a score of 17 to 8. It was the local boys' seventh consecutivev wni in the West Texas League.

Completing her under-graduate career this spring Breniece Fairey of Hamlin was awarded her bachelor of science degree Monday from Texas State College for Women at Denton.

Ethel Harris of Dallas came up Saturday to spend two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harris. She is with the phone company in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Feagan went to Dallas this week to attend commencement exercises at Southern Methodist University, where their son received a degree in accounting.

Fred B. Moore Jr., who was a student in the New Mexico Military Academy, came in last week for his summer at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Moore.

TEN YEARS AGO.

From the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated June 18, 1948, the following news briefs of 10 years ago are reprinted:

Mrs. Floyd Berry, 27-year-old Hamlin woman, died Friday in an Abilene hospital following injuries which she sustained in an automobile accident near Cisco two weeks ago.

Ms. Lita Mae McDonald Harkins of Hamlin has recently had several of her writings published in "Talent: Song Writers and Poets, 1947," a New York publication.

Most local stores will close Monday, July 5, in observance of Independence Day, which falls on Sunday this year.

The drouth, which has persisted for months in the Hamlin area, was given a jolt when 1.77 inches of rain fell first of the week.

FIVE YEARS AGO.

Files of five years ago reveal the following news items of the community five years ago, taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated June 19, 1953:

Series of oil field tool thieveries that included the Hamlin area may now be solved with the arrest last Friday of two men near Throckmorton. Quantities of drilling bits and other materials taken at Hamlin, Aspermont, Ballinger and Jacksboro were taken with the men when arrested by Garland Shaw, Throckmorton County sheriff.

No clues had been uncovered by Hamlin officers Wednesday in the burglary last Thursday night of McDonald's dry goods store when about $1,000 in merchandise was taken.

ONE YEAR AGO.

News events in the area of one year ago included the following, reprinted from the issue of The Herald dated June 14, 1957:

Row crops in the Hamlin territory are suffering terribly for rain.

A new curb and gutter program under sponsorship of the city is about ready to begin, according to Bill Rountree, city superintendent.

American Spirit and Prestige Need to Be Rebuilt, Says U. S. Senator Johnso

We have come to the time of a great national rebuilding, declares U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, in his weekly news release to The Herald. He continues with:

We must rebuild the American spirit and, with it, the fiber of the American character. We must rebuild the American image before the world and, with it, the world's respect for the principles for which America has stood. We must rebuild the American position and, with it, the strength of freedom as the most powerful force at work in the hearts of the human race.

As Americans, we do not live in the same world we knew a few short months ago. Many basic American assumptions have undergone the greatest change and challenge.

The assumption of American technological superiority has been made subject to serious and direct challenge. The assumption of American economic stability and permanent American prosperity has been dealt a blow that commands attention. The assumption of American leadership among the community of nations in the West has been severely undermined.

Our resources, our capacity, our knowledge, our competence are the same, undiminished and unfettered. What is needed is a determination to unleash those resources and march forward, secure in the confidence that freedom is a mighty force which can carry America to even greater heights.

We should start now to make Washington not just a capital power but a campus of free men. We should use the round table, the seminar and the lecture room so that our country will be the spiritual leader of the awakening now stirring the West.

We can if we wish safely invest each year at least the cost of two nuclear bombs in the building of great, new libraries. We can channel the cost of an army division into the support of great, new schools for the humanities. We can set aside a part of our national budget to finance laboratories and other facilities for programs of pure research.

In our exchange programs we should concentrate not merely on bringing young people here to teach them, but also on bringing their elders here to help teach us. The farmer of India, the worker of Europe, the teacher of Latin America should have the opportunity to visit our country so they can take back to their lands the true facts of America.

There is no question about our ability to do these things. Our future is bright; our future is assured; our future is great. All that is required is channeling the tremendous strength and energy of free America, and I have deep faith in the ability of our people to meet any challenge.

Draft Board Secretary Honored for Service

Mrs. Mae L. Dunwody, wife of a former Jones County sheriff, will be among draft boards clerks of the state of Texas who will receive service awards from Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director.

Mrs. Dunwody is one of 33 employees who have completed 15 years of civilian service with the U. S. government. The workers will receive special pins showing the service period.

TEXAS FINALIST — Blond Carelgean Douglas, 19, of Corpus Christi represents Buccaneer Days in Texas' Miss Universe finals June 19 at Lake Whitney. Miss Douglas is five feet six inches tall, weighs 115 pounds and has a perfect 36 figure.

Rev. G. C. Henry Now In Revival at Lufkin

Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Henry left Sunday afternoon for Lufkin, and Rev. Henry is engaged this week in a revival there. He was formerly pastor of the church. They will be away some 12 days and will perhaps visit their daughter at Beaumont and visit other points.

Rev. James Woods will fill the pulpit at the Calvary Baptist Church at all services in the meantime, the pastor announces.

Stan M. Sheppard Installed Tuesday As Lions President

Stan M. Sheppard, personnel supervisor at the Celotex Corporation plant at Hamlin, was installed as new president of the Hamlin Lions Club for the ensuing club year beginning July 1 at a ladies' night banquet Tuesday evening at the oil mill guest house. He succeeds Willard Jones.

Joe Childers of Abilene, former past district governor and presently a member of the international Lions board, presided at the installation rites. Other officers installed were: Donley Williams, first vice president; James Josey, second vice president; George E. Campbell, secretary; Ed Croan, treasurer; E. A. Hewett, Lion tamer; Joe League, tail twister; Austin Siburt, song leader; Lester Minton and E. W. Anderson, two year directors.

About 75 Lions, ladies and guests attended the affair, including several from out-of-town. The retiring president presided. Rev. Calvin Bailey directed several songs by the group, and Edgar Duncan offered the invocation.

Speaker of the evening was Jimmy Isaacs of Abilene, vice president of the West Texas Television Network and station manager of KPAR-TV at Abilene. He spoke on the importance of communication in public service, pointing to the hours of free ttme (only commodity for sale by TV stations) that is given in public service to the communities they serve.

MAYBE HE'S TOTTERING.

"What's my trouble, doc?" asked the patient.

Congressman Omar Burleson Discusses President's Plan for Defense Set-Up

The Department of Defense and all the military services under it sometimes appear as a centipede with a thousand legs all going in different directions, declares Congressman Omar Burleson in his weekly news release from Washington to The Herald, "Washington: As It Looks from Here." His release follows:

How important is the president's proposal to reorganize the Defense Department? Perhaps the importance cannot altogether be measured in dollars and cents. Even more important is the ability to make decisions when immediate action may mean the difference between destruction and survival.

In dollars and cents, our national security program now consumes more than 60 cents of every tax dollar. Of the approximate $72,000,000,000 budget request, some $46,000,000,000 goes to national security. This is more than one-half of all the taxes collected by the federal government from all sources. Until some of the unnecessary activities of all the military services are curtailed, the bill to the taxpayer will continue to be high. As long as we continue to prepare to fight a war of the nature of World War II, and at the same time prepare for a nuclear war of the future, there is little hope that something less than two-thirds of all the income of the government will not go into defense.

The president's proposal to reorganize the Defense Department places emphasis on decision making authority and authority to carry out those decisions when made.

Under the president's proposal, the secretary of defense is to make the great strategical decisions and direct the control of their application. Once a decision is made, it is to be carried out without vetoes or obstructions on down the line. Under present law and practice, the secretary of defense does not have full authority to enforce a decision upon the separate services.

But how are these great decisions to be made? Secretaries of defense come and go. They are selected from a political list. They may come from banking, law, from professional politics, from the automobile business or the soap business. How does a man who has spent his life in some other endeavor go into the huge pentagon organization of approximately 30,000 (not including the armed forces), hang up his hat and make proper decisions?

The only way he could possibly know what to do would be to hear the problems explained by qualified experts. If he cannot hear and understand the thousands upon thousands of issues involved, he merely endorses the decision of some subordinate.

It seems the very real question devolves down to this proposition: Does the proposed reform of our military establishment make it more or less likely that the secretary of defense and the president of the United States will hear the great problems argued out thoroughly? Will it enable him to come to a definite and authoritative conclusion with the power of enforcement all the way down the line, resulting in action to carry out that decision?

The Congress will soon have before us a bill to enact into law these reforms. The controversy centers on the amount of authority which should be given one man, the secretary of defense. Some are saying that to place such authority in one man is embracing the old Prussian type of militarism. The bill voted out of the armed services committee does not give the defense secretary the authority requested by the president, but is supposed to give him much of the authority needed to carry out direction.

The proposition that something needs to be done is clear enough. The fact remains that this proposal is not going to appreciably reduce the cost of our military establishment. This only will be done when we finally decide that the next war will not be fought with rifles and bayonets, with huge aircraft carriers like sitting ducks, and all the frills now attached to every branch of the military.

FIRE DESTROYS GRAIN ELEVATOR—Flames soar skyward during a fire which gutted the C. L. Green Milling Company grain elevator at Winters last week. Damage was estimated at $10,000 and about 12,000 bushels of oats were also destroyed. The fire is believed to have been started by a dust explosion in the top and quickly engulfed the building. The fire came at the start of the first good grain season in this section of West Texas in seven years.

Complaints on Weed Poisoning Reported

County Agent Kirby Clayton reports that complaints are already coming to his office about damage to crops from the use of 2-4-D for weed control.

Formula 2-4-D, syas Clayton, is a very potent herbicide and has been noted to drift as far as eight miles and cause considerable damage to cotton and other broad-leaf crops. The young tender cotton is more susceptible to 2-4-D damage, and farmers of the area should use every precaution to protect his neighbor when using this herbicide.

Before using this weed killer, farmers should check with his adjoining neighbors to insure that the cotton in that area is not damaged, the agent suggests.

Two Hamlin Teachers Get Scholarships at ACC Summer Session

Charles A. Wyly and Jon Adams, both Hamlin teachers, have been awarded six-week scholarships to study under the American studies program at Abilene Christian College this summer.

The American studies program is a feature of the ACC 1958 summer school. Dates for the summer school are June 3-July 11 and July 15-August 22.

Adams will attend the first six weeks, and Wyly will attend the second six weeks.

The scholarships provide for room, board tuition and fees and are made possible by a grant of $12,500 from the Coe Foundation of New York City and the Texas Educational Association of Fort Worth. The total of $25,000 has enable Abilene Christian College to offer 100 scholarships to teachers. Sixty-five scholars will study the first six-week session and 35 the second six-week.

Hamlin Boy Scouts Leave Sunday for Area Annual Camp

Twenty members of Troop 43 of Hamlin Boy Scouts left Sunday for Camp Tonkawa, south of Abilene, official summer camp of the Chisholm Trail Boy Scout council, for a week's stay. They will return home Saturday night.

George Batchelor accompanied the group as Scoutmaster and will remain with the boys. Activities will include camping, handcrafts, swimming, marksmanship and several other maneuvers. Work on Scout advancements will be fostered by leaders.

Boys making the trip were Gary Ted Jay, Larry Stephens, Jimmy Inzer, Doyle Bell, Freddie Shave, Jesse Goolsby, Pat Batchelor, Lynn Ray Sturrock, George Smith, Billy Kitchens, Charles Dodd, Clifford Sharer, Henry O'Neal, Barry Cheshier, Eddie Townley, Jimmy Shivers, Ray Johnson Jr., Mark Smith, Dan Newberry and Van Newberry.

Bob Johnson, member of the Explorer Scout troop, accompanied the group and is serving on the camp staff. He will remain there for five weeks.

will be available in the commercial wheat areas at a national average of at least $1.81 a bushel, or 75 per cent of parity, if marketing quotas for the 1959 crop of wheat are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum.

This minimum will not be reduced, but may be increased if a combination of the wheat parity price and wheat supply relationships as of July 1, 1959, indicate a higher support price.

If quotas for the 1959 wheat crop are not approved by at least two-thirds of the voters, however, the support level in the commercial wheat producing area will drop to about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law. Compliance with allotments would continue to be a condition of eligibility for the lower price support.

Those farmers who vote in the referendum will be the ones who decide whether or not marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1959 wheat crop, Chairman Rowell points out.

All farmers are eligible to vote if they will share in the 1959 wheat crop from a farm in the commercial wheat area on which the wheat harvested for grain in 1959 will exceed 15 acres and provided they did not take part in the 1958 feed wheat program.

Let me tell you what I saved when I drove a new Plymouth...then bought one!

Just like a lot of other people, I was putting off buying a new car . . . even though we sure needed one. Then I found out what my Plymouth dealer was offering in the way of low prices and really big trades.

Mister, when I saw what I saved I knew there was no use putting off any longer! Got more for my old car than I believed possible. (Plymouth dealers need used cars and can sell all they get!) Got a terrifically low price on the new Plymouth . . . and choice of models besides . . . hardtops, sedans, convertibles, wagons.

And I saved a cool $140 on the ride alone! Plymouth's top-luxury ride, Torsion-Aire Ride, is standard at no extra cost, while you have to pay up to $140 for the top ride of competing "low-price 3" cars.

What's more, I got the car that proved it can save me gasoline, by winning the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. A car with Silver Dart Styling that is so far ahead right now it will still be worth more when I trade. With the kind of easy handling that makes every minute of driving a downright thrill! The stamina to stand up without nagging adjustments and big repairs . . . a car as much better built as it is better looking!

Barbara Ann Connally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connally, became the bride of James William Woods Jr. at 4:30 Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom, grandparents of the bride.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woods of McCaulley.

Mrs. Annie Laurie Henderson, sister of the bridegroom, was matron-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Billie Dominey and Glenda Wright. Best man was Billy Henderson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length dress of diamond white satin. The fitted bodice was overlaid with chantilly lace which extended to form an apron effect over the top of the skirt. Pleated net accented the soft V-neck, and the sleeves formed into a V over the wrists. Her finger tip illusion veil was held together by a tiara of net and seed pearls.

MAKING HOME IN HAMLIN—Mrs. James William Woods Jr. (above) befor eher marriage last Sunday afternoon was Barbara Connally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connally of Hamlin. The rites, performed at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom, were attended by only a few relatives and friends. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woods of McCaulley. They are making their home in Hamlin following a brief honeymoon.

Monday morning the girls of the Hamlin chapter of Future Homemakers of America left by bus for the Presbyterian encampment grounds at Buffalo Gap, near Abilene, for a three-day outing. The girls carried sack lunches to eat for their first meal, and for the following meals the different chapters took turns helping the cooks, Mrs. L. B. Petty and Mrs. Edd Rodgers.

Don Shivers and Tommy Bonds from Hamlin were lifeguards. Mrs. Camille Simmons and the Hamlin chapter had charge of the camp for 19958. The grils enjoyed recreation, crafts, swimming and FHA workshops.

Other towns represented by FHA groups at the camp included Rochester, Olney, Rotan, Albany, Stamford and Knox City.

Reception Given For Connally-Woods Wedding Attendants

A reception for wedding attendants was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom immediately following the Connally-Woods rituals Sunday afternoon.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip the bride was wearing a two-piece grey and white chemise suit with large white linen collar and white accessories. She wore the glamellia from her bridal bouquet.

The bridegroom is a graduate of McCaulley High School and is employed in the Hamlin oil field. The bride attended Hamlin High School and will be a mid-term graduate next year.

Friends SS Class Met in Gibson Home

"The Garment That Never Grows Old" was the topic of the program given by Mrs. Everett Gibson when members of the Friends Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met in a dinner meeting in the Gibson home last Thursday.

Opening prayer was offered by Mrs. I. D. Miller, and the closing prayer was given by Mrs. A. Spencer.

Following the program, refreshments were served by the hostess to Mmes. Bill Maynard, A. C. Hall, I. D. Miller, Ben Parker, W. C. Hargrove, A. Spencer, Noel Weaver, W. H. Carter, Kelly Scott and Everett Gibson.

Hamburger Feast Given for Members of Training Union Group

Mmes. D. A. Mullings and Eddie B. Hopper were hostesses for a hamburger feast honoring members of the Phillips Training Union of North Central Avenue Baptist Church last Thursday evening.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Woodrow McHugh. Mrs. Robert Christian brought the devotional. Sniging was also enjoyed by attendants. R. A. Cary said the closing prayer.

Those present were Mmes. V. Madden, L. H. Clark, G. B. Phillips, Robert Christian, Rev. Woodrow McHugh and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lee and Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mullings and David, Mr. and Mrs Eddie B Hopper and Jane, R. A Cary and Jack Talbot.

Next meeting of the group will be August 7.

Mary Willingham, Bride-Elect, Honored At Tea in Grice Home

Mary Willingham, bride-elect of Kenneth Holloway, was honored at gift tea Saturday in the home of Mrs. Clyde Grice.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Grice, who presented Mrs. Tarlton Willingham, mother of the bride-elect; the honoree; Mrs. Henry Holloway, mother of the bridegroom-to-be; Mrs. Sallie Holloway, grandmother of the groom-to-be; Mrs. Spero Constantine, who will be matron-of-honor; and Jeanie Young, the flower girl.

Mrs. Richard Young directed the guests to the serving table. The table was covered with a white satin cloth overlaid with white nylon. The centerpiece featured double wedding rings with the couple's initials and wedding date, June 21, in the rings. Gardenias were used below the rings with yellow snapdragons encircling the base.

Mrs. Guy Lewis Weaver and Mrs. R. J. Kim presided at the serving table, assisted by Mrs. Foster Cook, Mrs. LaFoy Patterson and Libby Johnson.

Mrs. George Malouf directed the guests to the bedrooms, where the gifts were displayed by Mrs. Charlie Sellers and Mrs. Weldon Griggs. Mrs. A. B. Carlton registered the guests, and Mrs. Noel Weaver said the good-byes. Other hostesses were Mrs. Joe Simpson and Mrs. Johnnie Agnew.

LEAKED SOMEWHERE.

This is reported by the Associated Press as a true story: A woman called the electric company in Durant, Oklahoma, and complained that her bill was too high.

The company checked her meter and wiring and reported they could find nothing amiss.

Two days later the woman called to apologize, announcing that she had found the trouble. "I found a socket without a light bulb in it, and the electricity must have leaked there."

SECOND CHILDHOOD.

"My boy," said the boss, "do you believe in life after death?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then that makes everything just fine," the boss went on tenderly. "About an hour after you left yesterday to bury your grandfather, he came in to see you."

Renee Moore and Wedding Principals Honored at Dinner

Renee Moore, bride-elect of Joe Don Hymer, was honored Thursday evening with a dinner party given by Mrs. Fay Young Morton of Hamlin at the Y-C Ranch north of town. Co-hostess was Mrs. Morton's daughter, Mary Trammell of Abilene.

The dinner was served buffet style from a polished table centered with pink sweetheart roses and pink candles in Venetian glass candelabra of blue touched with gold.

Guests attending were Joe Don Hymer, groom-to-be; Mr. and Mrs. Ned Moore, parents of the bride-to-be; Mr. and Mrs. Don Hymer, parents of the groom-to-be; Mrs. Dee Burton, aunt of groom-to-be of Flagstaff, Arizona; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Witt; Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Brannon, parents of the junior bridesmaid, Lynn Brannon; Charlotte Cornett of Knox City, Sara Fomby, Joe Donald Cowan, and Mary Ann Willbanks, Joyce Hines and Clark Hewett, members of the wedding party.

The couple is to be married Saturday.

Hamlin OES Group Attends Anson Rites

Several members of the Hamlin chapter of the Order of Eastern Star were among visiting OES members present Monday evening at the Masonic Lodge in Anson when officers for the ensuing lodge year were installed for the Anson women's lodge.

Mrs. Charlie Abbott of Hamlin was installing organist for the rituals. Other visitors were from Abilene, Stamford, Haskell, Rule and Merkel lodges.

VISIT FROM TEMPLE.

Mrs. L. K. Ballew and daughter, Jo Nita, of Temple spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Ferguson Sr. Mrs. Ballew is the daughter of Mrs. Ferguson.

Hamlin Women Will Attend B&PW Confab

Mrs. E. M. Wilson and Lennie Greenway will attend the annual convention of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at Dallas Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Wilson is a district official in B&PW Club work. Outstanding programs by state and national leaders will be featured during the sessions.

DEPENDS ON ITS USE.

A tourist stopped where a farmer was erecting a building. "What are you building?" he asked.

"Wal," answered the farmer, "if'n I can rent it, it's a rustic cottage, and if'n I can't it's a cow shed."

INSTALL THE All Electric YEAR 'ROUND AIR CONDITIONER

Scientists have known for years that enough natural heat exists in outdoor air, even in the coldest weather, to heat every home in the world. If this heat could be extracted... concentrated... and brought indoors—what a solution to everyone's heating problem!

But that's just what a summer air conditioner does... in reverse. It extracts and concentrates indoor heat and moves it outdoors.

The All Electric Heat Pump Air Conditioner is an air conditioner that can reverse itself automatically to cool or heat as needed to maintain indoor comfort at an even level. An improved reverse-cycle valve, sensitive to indoor temperature changes of even a few degrees, switches from cooling to heating and back again automatically... to maintain the comfort level at which you set the thermostat.

COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC

The Electric Heat Pump is completely automatic. During changeable weather, even if it is within the hour, the Heat Pump will switch from heating to cooling and or back again as the temperature changes require.

You do not need to change the temperature dial, you just set the thermostat for the temperature you desire and forget it. The Electric Heat Pump is the ONLY completely automatic Air Conditioner.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin.—Texas Board of State Hospitals and Special Schools is working toward getting a gold star when an economy minded Legislature hits Austin next year.

Launching a new tight-purse policy, the board voted to prohibit superintendents of individual state institutions from (1) using left-over funds without board permission; and (2) making any expenditure of more than $1,000 without board approval.

Sometimes individual hospitals develop surplus funds resulting from smaller patient loads than had been expected or other reduced costs. New rule puts an end to no-strings-attached spending of such surpluses. These lapsed fund coulds amount to as much as $1,000,000, according to Board Member W. G. Kirklin of Odessa.

Chill Wind.—Hospital board's move pinpointed the spot where the state's money shortage is expected to pinch hardest—administration of state's services.

A revenue shortage in excess of $100,000,000 by next year has been freely predicted by various authorities for months.

A survey of platforms of legislative candidates over the state shows a fairly consistent approach by those making statements on the revenue dilemma. General pattern of promises to voters:

(1) Continuation of, often, increase in state obligations for education, welfare payments, road building, soil and water conservation, etc.

(2. Opposition to certain new taxes or sometimes new taxes in general.

(3) Cuts in state spending by "elimination of waste, duplication and needless services by state agencies."

Actual achievement or near-achievement of this fiscal magic will put a real squeeze on every state department .

Not Me.—Likelihood that someone may draw the "black bean" of new state taxes has group after group telling the State Tax Study Commission how overburdened they are already.

A spokesman for the Texas Motor Bus Association told the commission taxes on that industry are heavy and discriminatory. He said many smaller lines were having to go out of business.

A representative of retired people asked tax relief for people living on pensions.

"We are no longer concerned with saving the goose that lays the golden eggs. Our goose was cooked when we lost our ability to work and earn," said W. B. Wood of Port Arthur.

On behalf of the Texas Association for Tax Relief for Texans over 65, Wood asked for tax exemption for the first $3,000 of property owned by oldsters. He also opposed a sales tax.

Opposition to the new egg law has been voiced by wholesalers of eggs, who are being required to grade and label the eggs they are handling.

Discrimination is charged because the law applies to wholesalers but not to producers who sell only the output of their own flocks. Suit also objects to the provisions that makes violations a criminal offense and the requirement that eggs kept under refrigeration for 30 days or more be labeled "'cold storage eggs."

Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor leader and one-time Democratic candidate for the Legislature, attempted to file against Texas' only Republican congressman, Bruce Alger. He called himself a "Stevenson Republican," an apparent parody of Eisenhower Democrats.

A lower court ruled that Cantrell, as a member of on party, was not entitled to seek nomination in another party's primary. Cantrell appealed to the high court.

Since there is usually only one nominee for each office, Republican primaries do not ordinarily attract a heavy vote. It is widely assumed that many Republicans cross party lines to vote in Democratic primaries where most state offices are decided.

Cantrell's candidacy is generally interpreted as a move to force Republicans to stay in their own primary.

Next Legislautre will be asked to change the law so diesel fuel taxes would be collected from the wholesale distributor rather than the user, said a department official. This is expected to make it easier for tax agents to keep track of consumption and purchases.

Comptroller's department staffers admit that there are some evasions of the state motor fucls tax, but contend that Texas collects more per vehicle than any other major state. They discount as too large Senator Charles Herring's guess than some $25,000,000 in fuel taxes went uncollected.

Senate investigating committee looked into records in the Houston area to discover if small staffs, vague laws or insufficient penalties were causing the state to lose revenue.

Over the Hump.—Texas' general revenue fund is back in the black, according to State Comptroller Robert Calvert.

During the spring state expenditures got ahead of tax receipts. A month ago the fund was in the red by some $1,250,000. But collection of corporation franchise taxes and insurance company occupation taxes during the month put finances back on schedule.

Now there's more than $12,000,000 in the fund, said Calvert.

Alvis Vandygrff, Austin attorney, dropped out earlier.

PRACTICING HIS TRADE.

The judge's expression was not unkind as he leaned over the bench and addressed the mousy little man before him.

"So you're a locksmith?" his honor mused. "And pray tell, what was the locksmith doing in a gambling dive when he was arrested?"

International Trade Fair to Be Feature of State Fair of Texas

Texas International Trade Fair, an annual exhibition of major proportions in its field, will be inaugurated this fall as an important feature of the 1958 State Fair of Texas, October 4 through 19.

The trade fair concept will be utilized in expanding the exposition's popular international center of exhibits from foreign nations, which has been a state fair attraction for the past three years.

An estimated 20 nations from all over the world will be represented in the International Trade Fair. The foreign exhibits area will be expanded to occupy two bays of the general exhibits building.

"The State Fair of Texas is considered to be one of the four great fairs of the world today," Kenneth W. Erickson, trade fair manager, said. "The other three are at Milan, Paris and Toronto."

Storm Does Damage In Neinda vicinity

Number of cases of damage were reported late Sunday afternoon in the small tornado that breeze through the Neinda community, south of Hamlin.

Rev. J. S. King reported a tree being uprooted and thrown onto his home and his garage being demolished. Other minor damage also was done in the area.

Most Insecticides Can Be Harmful to People And Pets, Says Agent

Most insecticides are poisonous to people and to animals, according to Kirby Clayton, the county agent. He advises keeping insecticides where children and pets cannot reach them.

When applying them, do not contaminate food, dishes or kitchen utensils. Do not store them with food. Do not breathe too much of the spray mist or the dust. If insecticide is spilled on the skin, wash it off promptly. Change your clothes if you spill insecticide on them. Keep children and pets off sprayed surfaces that have not dried.

When you have finished applying an insecticide, empty unused material into the original container, clean the sprayer or duster, and wash all exposed surfaces of the body with soap and water.

SEEMS THAT WAY.

Hamlin Golfers Win Two Awards In Anson Tourney

Charles Coody of Stamford repeated his performance of taking championship honors in the Anson invitation golf tournament Sunday afternoon in finals. He downed Ronnie Phillips of Wichita Falls on the sixteenth hole to take the title, which he last year won over a big field.

Although only one Hamlin golfer qualified for the championship flight last week-end, two players brought home trophies from other flights in the tournament that attracted five flights of golfers from all over Central West Texas.

Bill Harbert won fourth flight honors and brought home a golf bag as award. George Poe took the honors in the fifth flight and came away with a set of irons.

Two other Hamlin players went to the finals matches. John Hudson, after eliminating Joe League, another Hamlin golfer, in semi-finals of the first flight, dropped the last match to Joe Bassett of Wichita Falls.

Dr. M. L. Smith, after trimming R. V. Clark of Abilene in a semi-finals round in the third flight, dropped the last round to Corky Brusch of Abilene.

Other participants from Hamlin in the tournament, besides those already mentioned, were Holly Toler, in the first flight; Earl Smith, and Elmer Feagan, second flight; Gene Knabel, third flight; Wilson Brannon, fourth flight.

HARD TO MAKE IT.

A retired Wisconsin farmer, on a tour of the country, stopped in Las Vegas and decided he would just once try his luck at the dice table. His opponent, a shrewd looker, picked up the dice. As he rolled, out popped a third cube from inside his sleeve.

Unruffled, the farmer picked up the dice, pocketed one of them and handed back the other two. His only words were: "'Okay, roll. Your point is 18."

The program was on "Children and Money" when members of the Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Club met last week with nine members and one visitor present. Mrs. Sam Hodges and a visitor, Mrs. J. Carter Parks, presented the program.

Mrs. Hodges reported it is much better to give children an allowance, which usually solves a numbers of family emotional problems. Just remember, an allowance means nothing more than giving children a chance to handle money which will be spent on them in any case. The allowance depends upon age, cost of needs (regular and special).

Is your allowance adequate per child? Is it too much for good money management? Of course, there is quite a difference in allowances of six-year-olds and 12 to 18-year-olds. The younger child should have money for candy, gum, ice cream cones, dime store toys, blocks, crayons, money for church and gifts for others. The older child needs much more: For movies, hobby materilas, club fees, comic books and magazines, sports equipment, hair cuts, school costs, fad accessories, contributions, soft drinks, school social expense, date expense, special clothing, cosmetics and costume jewelry, student activity books, savings for college or special trips, and fees for athletics.

Some parents give the excuse for not giving children allowances, "I buy my children anything they need; they know all they have to do is ask for it." That's just it: a child (especially a teen-ager) does not want to ask their parents for money to buy a Mother's Day gift, Father's Day gift or birthday gifts. If they received an allowance they could save some of it for these gifts, which is good practice for the child.

Mrs. Parks explained that parents should help their children plan their spending. Here are four important steps in learning to handle money well:

1. Know how much you will have to spend.
2. Keep up with your spending so you will know where your money goes.
3. Plan the best way to spend your money.
4. Check on your plan.

A good way to teach children is to get three jars and label them "Spend," "Share," "Save." Of their entire week's money, whether allowance alone or some of it earned, a certain amount should be put into these jars. In this way a child learns how important it is to share and save part of their money.

Teach your child good management in money matters.

CONTROL WORMS NOW.

It is now time to apply control measures to ornamental plants infesed with bag worms. The worms are now small and can be effectively controlled, says C. F. Garner, extension entomologist. He suggests that a copy of bulletin L-199, Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants, be obtained from the local county agent.

By this time of the year a lot of folks are wearing out the lid to their mail box looking for their tax refund check, observes Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald. Some folks start looking for the refund check a few days after they have filed their tax return.

The tax folks in Dallas have to be pretty fast in figuring tax returns and getting out refund checks because it takes several months at the rate of 10,000 checks per day to get out over 700,000 refund checks. You have to remember that there are millions of taxpayers and there are a lot of steps required by law in checking your return before Internal Revenue can send you your refund check. If you move, tell Uncle Sam your new address and give him a little time and your check will probably be along within a couple of months. Don't write and ask for it before July 1.

The tornado season is about over for this year. Tornadoes and storm damage may bring you a tax deduction, reminds Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald.

There are a number of casualty and theft losses allowed by our federal tax laws. You may deduct the net amount of actual property loss resulting from an accident, fire, storm, shipwreck, other casualty or from theft. These losses may be business losses or non-business losses. The heavy spring rains for the last two years caused considerable flood damage which is also deductible.

If you suffered a property loss from any of these casualties, you should read your tax instructions carefully or secure competent professional help to prepare your tax return next year.

Not all damage to property is a casualty. For example, if the termites eat up your house, you are not allowed a tax deduction even though, I am sure, all of us would consider it a personal casualty.

No reason for doing it is good reason for not doing it.

Freight Carloadings For Santa Fe Gain

Freight carloadings for the Santa Fe Railway System for the week ending May 31, 1958, were 22,344 compared with 20,608 for the same week a year ago, reflecting a sizeable gain. Cars received from connections totaled 10,160 compared with 11,481 for the same week in 1957.

Total cars moved were 32,504 compared with 32,069 for the same week a year ago. Santa Fe handled a total of 31,774 cars in the preceding week this year.

County Farmers May Apply for New Wheat Allotments

A farmer on land on which no wheat was seeded for any of the years 1956, 1957 or 1958 may apply on or before July 1 for a "new farm" wheat acreage allotment for the 1959 winter wheat crop, Chairman R. G. Rowell of the Jones County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said this week.

Even if wheat was produced on the farm in 1958, the farm is still considered a new wheat farm if it did not have a 1958 allotment, and the farmer must apply at the county office as a new producer, Rowell said.

An important requirement for obtaining a new allotment is to file a written application before the July 1 deadline. This application may be made out on forms which can be obtained in person or by mail from the county ASC office.

The chairman pointed out that factors considered in determining whether a farmer is eligible for a new farm allotment will include the tillable acreage, type of soil and topography of the farm. The operator's farming system is studied and the extent to which his livelihood depends on his farming operations. He is also asked the reason wheat was not planted on his farm in past years.

County Farm and Development Group Meets with Agents

Eighteen persons attended the Jones County farm and home development family night at the Anson High School home economics labortatory last Monday night, according to Kirby Clayton, agricultural agent, and Mary Newberry, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Martha Harmon, home economist of the Abilene Lone Star Gas Company, gave an interesting demonstration on "Foods for the Freezer." She was assisted by Mrs. Opal Paden.

Blueprints available for corral arrangement and cattle chutes were discussed by the county agent.

Home-made ice cream and cake were served to Fern Hodge and J. G. Simmons, district extension agents of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Grady Smith of Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Birger Haterius, Craig and Ingrid, Mrs. F. A. Lollar, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Clayton, Judy and Gary, and the agents.

Next meeting of the farm and home development families will be a picnic and a program in July.

4-H Club Boys and Girls Attending Annual Round-Up

Several 4-H Club boys and girls from Jones County and this area are at Texas A. & M. College this week attending the annual state 4-H Club Round-Up.

The chuck wagons have been greased and the cooks have their equipment in top shape to handle the feeding of an estimated 2,200 4-H boys and girls, their supervisors, leaders and friends who will attend the affair, opening Tuesday and continuing through Thursday.

The chuck wagon supper, always a program favorite, was scheduled to take place the evening of June 11 and will be a fitting climax for he hard day the 4-H Club members will have devoted to judging and demonstration team contests.

A. H. Roberts, Jones County 4-H Club member and winner in the distric tpublic speaking contest, will represent Extension District III in the 4-H public speaking program at the 4-H Round-Up this year.

The evening program on June 10 commemorated 50 years of 4-H Club work in Texas. President M. T. Harrington of Texas A. & M. College system welcomed the 4-H members to A. & M., and Director John E. Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service spoke on "Where From Here?" Several 4-H members of the past and present also had part on the program.

On Jun 11 state winers in 22 different judging and team demonstration contests were to be determined. Winners in several contests will qualify to represent Texas in national events later in the year.

In commenting on 4-H Club work, the youth phase of the agricultural extension service, Director Hutchison said an estimated 2,000,000 Texas rural boys and girls had been 4-H members during the past 50 years. "We have letters from some of the first clubs in the state," he said, "and they have recalled for us how valuable their 4-H training has been through the years. We know that present day clubs are different from those of half a century ago, but then, as now, our major effort was to help the boy or girl to help themselves.

Members of 50 years ago will attend the Round-Up and participate in planned activities.

James West Named Blakley's County Man

James West of Stamford has been named Jones County manager for William A. Blakley's campaign for United States senator in the Democratic primary July 26. Announcement of the appointment was made by Blakley's state campaign manager, James H. Blundell.

Blakley is conducting a personal campaign with plans to visit every county in the state and to meet and talk personally with as many voters as posible.

County managers have an active part in arranging for visits to their respective areas.

As he sugared his coffee, his wife noticed that several of his fingers were bandaged.

Estimated Three from Jones County Due to Be Drafted in July Call

An estimated three young men from Jones County will be included in the state quota for Texas draft boards in July of 538 men Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Thursday.

The state's July call of 538 compares with a quota of 519 for June, previously announced. The July call is the state's share of a national call of 10,000 men, all for the Army.

The state director of selective service also announced that approximately 1,700 men were scheduled to take pre-induction mental and physical examinations in July.

The July quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on July 1, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

Some reservists and National Guardsmen also may be called up if they fail to participate satisfactorily in their units.

Government Will Purchase All Loan Cototn on July 31

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced recently that Commodity Credit Corporation will purchase at the close of business July 31, 1958, all 1957 crop loan cotton (upland and extra long staple) which is unredeemed at that time.

Through May 9, 1958, a total of 3,655,650 bales of 1957 crop cotton was reported as having been pledged for loans. As of the same date 505,963 bales had been redeemed, leaving loans outstanding on 3,149,687 bales.

Until the close of business on July 31, 1958, producers may either sell their "equity" in the loan cotton or redeem the cotton from the loan and then sell it in the open market. The market price of the various qualities of cotton has remained fairly steady in recent months, and at present prices farmers should be able to dispose of some qualities of cotton at prices that will give them some net profits above the loan and charges against the cotton, say cotton experts.

There aren't any rules for success that work unless you do.

Sunday Schools Gain Over Previous Week And Over Year Ago

Sunday School attendance at Hamlin churches regained some of its losses Sunday when 1,246 total was recorded at 12 reporting churches. This total was 53 more than the previous Sunday and 74 more than the year ago total.

Attendance, by churches, for June 8, June 1 and a year ago follows:

FEATURE COMING UP.

Two inebriates, wandering in the zoo, found themselves in front of a lion's cage. They stood watching the beast for a few minutes when suddenly the lion let out a roar.

"C'mon, let's go," said the first.

"Go ahead if you want to," said the other. "I'm gonna stay for the movie.

CHANGE FUNGICIDES.

It is time to change the kind of fungicides used on roses for disease control. Sulphur compounds used in cool weather are likely to cause burning if used during hot weather. Check with the local county agent for correct materials.

E. E. Johnson, 72, Dies Wednesday in Hospital at Anson

Funeral services for Edgar Eugene Johnson, 72-year-old farmer living southeast of Hamlin, were conducted last Thursday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Fairview Baptist Church.

Johnson, who had been a resident of the community for 18 years, died last Wednesday morning at Anson General Hospital following a stroke. He had been ill for about a week.

Born in Freestone County, on July 31, 1885, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson. He married the former Mae Iona Tribble at Korn Hill on August 10, 1913. He was a member of the Neinda Baptist Church.

Officiating at final rites was Rev. M. E. Randolph, pastor of the Fairview church.

Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery under direction of the Hamlin Funeral Home. Pallbearers were W. L. McDonald, B. E. Thackerson, M. T. Jones, John Beauchamp, H. E. Valliant and A. W. Bagley.

Surviving Johnson are his wife, Mrs. E. E. Johnson; two sons, Webb Johnson of Plainview and Charlie Johnson of Midland; two daughters, Mrs. Lester Ohlhausen of Ballinger and Mrs. Orph Osborne of Wilcox, Arizona; three brothers, George Johnson of Casper, Wyoming, and Ozie and Lewis Johnson of Mexia; one sister, Mrs. Beulah Maiden of Mexia; and nine grandchildren.

Record number of tax refunds were made by the Dallas district of the Internal Revenue Service by May 9 this year, according to A. E. Fogle Jr., administrative officer of the Abilene office, including many in the Hamlin territory.

Tax refunds amounting to over $64,379,000 have been forwarded to 685,575 taxpayers. Some 6,500 other North Texas payers' tax refunds have been held up because of faulty preparation of returns. The Internal Revenue Service is making every effort to clear the errors on these tax returns as soon as possible. Taxpayers were requested not to contact the Internal Revenue Service concerning their refunds until after July 1.

Fogle stated that "24,960 North Texans had possible erroneous deductions in their tax returns that require a pre-refund audit before the refund can be made."

Suspense and excitement, with a constant overtone of brooding terror, keynote "Attack of the 50-Foot Woman" and "War of the Satellites," two Allied Artists pictures combined in a double bill playing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Ferguson and Hamlin Drive-In Theaters. The twin-shock program has added value because both pictures are as timely and up-to-date as a news story from today's final edition.

"War of the Satellites," starring Susan Cabot, Richard Devon and Dick Miller, is classed as pure science-fiction, but today's strides inter-planetary research are so tremendous it is hard to separate the truth from fiction. Certainly this production is believable in every scene and action-packed sequence.

The picture, produced and directed by Roger Corman, relates the efforts of Earth, working through the United Nations, to speed space ships aloft and assemble a satellite in the atmosphere.

The first ships are violently destroyed by a mysterious force obviously generated by an enemy in outer space. These events are followed by a direct warning to Earth and the deadly war begins. The picture has exceptional pictorial qualities in the striking twenty-first century sets and brilliant special effects.

"Attack of the 50-Foot Woman," starring Allison Hayes, William Hudson and Yvette Vickers, is a terrifying masterpiece of suspense and terror that relates how a monster space ship lands from outer space on the California desert and sets loose a giant monster that terrorizes the countryside.

Popvalve

By Willard Jones

He tod an interesting story that depicted the thinking of a small boy.

Tommy had been given a little turtle with which he had spent many pleasant hours of play. One morning the turtle was found in his box flat on his back, and apparently his soul had departed to the great beyond. To help soothe the youngster's grief, the father suggested an elaborate funeral for the turtle, pointing out the fancy box with decorations, flowers and fol-de-ral that could be used in the final rites.

The boy was impressed with all the elaborate plans, and they seemed to satisfy his chagrin. Then, as the father and son went to the turtle box again to make arrangements, the pet began wiggling and showed his usual signs of life. The boy, now more fascinated by the funeral arrangements, bluntly declared, "Let's kill him!"

SOME MORE definitions that probably will never find their way into the dictionaries of today are:

A Gossip: One who burns the scandal at both ends.

Married Life: One undarned thing after another.

Sack Dress: Shapelessness of things to come.

JOHN MORRISON, a meat cutter in Hamlin for many years, who has been seriously ill for several months in area hospitals, was taken last week to a Houston hospital for further treatment.

Word came to The Herald first of the week from Mrs. Morrison, who is with her husband, that the doctors there do not believe his trouble is malignant. Following treatment there this week, Mrs. Morrison says they hope to be able to return home within a few days.

MORE BARBS picked up by the operator of the Popvalve recently include these . . .

An Alabama judged ruled that kissing a girl in an auto is all right. As if we didn't know.

We still think that expensive fur coats look better on animals than on hefty women.

Have you noticed how many more free evenings you have, now that income tax returns are in?

Nobody should care if you disagree if you're not too disagreeable doing it.

A man was knocked unconscious when hit on the head with a golf ball. Sometimes it doesn't pay to keep in the foreground.

THERE'S A WAY with these fish stories that grow. But the fisherman is not to blame altogether. Things really do seem bigger than they really are.

A three-pound pull, and a five-pound bite;
An eight-pound jump, and a ten-pound fight;
A twelve-pound bend . . . but alas!
When you get him aboard,
He's a half-pound bass!

The old store-keeper, who was also the community's postmaster, was a real go-getter. He had no helper, and when he had to leave his store to meet the mail train he was tormented by thoughts of tourists stopping for gas and soft drinks and finding him gone.

Finally he hit upon a shrewd solution. He printed a sign in bold letters which explaind everything during his enforced absences:

ALREADY BEEN GONE 10.

CROSSED FINGERS, like those of Holly Toler and Eddie Jay, Hamlin area wheat farmers, were the order of the day for scores of farmers of the section for several weeks during the maturing and harvest of the record grain crop of this region. The farmers are now relaxed, practically all the grain in the territory having been harvested in recent days. Stormy weather that threatened the crops kept raisers on "needles and pins" for several weeks.

Big Grain Crop to Bring to Hamlin Area $1,750,000

Most Highway 92 Right-of-Way Fixed

Only one property owner had not signed a right-of-way deed on the straightening and widening project of Highway 92 from Hamlin to Stamford Tuesday morning, according to County Judge H. C. (Pete) Andrews. And that owner, on the extreme eastern end of right-of-way stretch, had agreed to sign the necessary papers.

This good news has been awaited by residents of Stamford, Hamlin and along the 19-mile stretch of highway for many months. It is now scheduled to be prepared for contractors within the next few weeks.

More than $600,000 was appropriated for this project over a year ago by the Texas Highway Commission, but delays of one kind and another have pushed the project aside. First, difficulties arose over right-of-way location after Lone Star Gas Company asked an exhorbitant price for moving its gas mains to make room for widening the present highway. The gas main runs along the south side of the present route, which would be covered in the new roadway.

Then, after another new route north of the Katy Railway was ruled impractical, new routing to the south of the gas main was surveyed. All sorts of right-of-way difficulties were encountered.

Under the present plan the new route will go east from Hamlin, to the south of the Max Sellers place, then come alongside the present Highway 92 (south of the gas main) to the Olin Amerson place 10 miles east of town, then the present highway will be widened.

Electric lines are being moved and houses and fences along the route are to be moved within the next few weeks, declares Johnny Agnew, Precinct 1 county commissioner, who is supervising the right-of-way adjustments.

The project should be ready for letting late this summer, Agnew believes.

Hamlin Fishermen Get 35-Pound Catfish

Three Hamlin fishermen last Thursday brought back the proof of their big fish yarn. They were telling friends that they had landed a 35-pound yellow catfish from the Clear Fork of the Brazos River east of Hamlin—and they were displaying the fish to prove their story.

Don Compton, Ben Turner and Raymond Scifres, with Compton's and Scifres' wives were in the fishing party. They caught the whopper after three hours of fishing.

The Celotex Corporation this week reported reduced sales and earnings in the six months ended April 30, but Henry W. Collins, president, said the company's overall business is continuing to show radual improvement, and "we feel it is reasonable to expect sales volume in the last six months of this year to compare favorably with that of the second half of last year."

Net earnings were $382,370 after all charges and income tax provisions, equal to 24 cents a share on 1,028,651 shares of stock currently outstanding. In the like six months a year ago earnings were $1,595,647, equal to $1.42 a share on present common shares or $1.66 a share on the 878,651 shares then outstanding. The year ago earnings included at $395,733 net profit on the sale of investments.

Earnings for the quarter ended April 30 were 30 cents per share of common, compared with earnings for the corresponding quarter last year of 69 cents on present shares or 81 cents a share on the 878,651 shares outstanding at that time.

Collins said the lower six-month sales reflected the general economic recession and a drop in building acitivity aggravated by adverse winter and spring weather conditions.

"Earnings, in addition to being affected by the lower sales volume, were also depressed by unusually low competitive prices for our asphalt roofing products prevailing in recent months, by an 11-week strike which ended in February at our Lagro, Indiana, mineral wool and acoustical tile plant, and by start-up and break-in costs sustined at our new Fort Dodge, Iowa, gypsum plant," he said.

"Since the Fort Dodge plant began operations, a steady increase in volume due to intensified sales and promotional efforts has resulted in steadily reducing the excessive costs incurred while operating at low volume. With rspect to the asphalt roofing situation, we recently announced to our trade price increass on our asphalt roofing products to take effect during the latter part of this month."

Saturday Death of Dan Reese Ray, 31, Is Ruled Suicide

Dan Reese Ray, 31-year-old native of the Hamlin community, was found dead about 10:30 Saturday morning in his car south of Anson. Justice of the Peace Joe Mathis returned a verdict of suicide.

Ray was found by his brother, Wayne, and Deputy Sheriff Raymond Spraberry of Anson in his car in an area known locally as "the shinnery," five miles south and west of Anson.

Spraberry said Ray evidently attached a vacuum cleaner hose to the exhaust pipe of his car, brought the hose into the car through a window of a back door, and stuffed old clothing at the top of the window to shut out fresh air.

The brother, Wayne, visiting at Anson from Odessa, went to the office of Jones County Sheriff Dave Reves about 9:30 a. m. Saturday and told Spraberry he had information that Ray had threatened to kill himself.

Ray was married and the father of two small daughters. He had been employed in the men's department of Thornton's Department Store at Abilene.

Ray was born near Hamlin and in 1938 moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ray, to the Hodges community. He was graduated from Anson High School in 1944. In 1948 he married Lura Jane Garvin.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Anson. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, southwest of Anson.

George Ellis Named Methodist Youth Head

George Ellis, a junior at McMurry College in Abilene, has recently been named youth director for the First Methodist Church, according to Rev. Edmund W. Robb, pastor.

Young Ellis will work with the young people of the church, directing their church and social activities and assisting with the musical program for the young people.

Jones County North Side Singers to Meet

Singers and songer lovers of the area will assemble Sunday afternoon, June 5, at the Assembly of God Church in South Hamlin for the Jones County North Side singing, it is announced.

Festivities will get underway at 2:00 p. m., to which the public is invited.

QUESTIONED IN SLAYING—Paul Sims, 10, tells Deputy Sheriff Tom White in Hobbs, New Mexico, about the fatal shooting of his father, William H. Sims, 42, on a ranch near Eunice. Paul said he and his brother, Leroy, 8, were angry because their father spanked them for running away to see Rattlesnake Draw, a canyon. Paul is in jail awaiting action by juvenile authorities.

Wheat Growers Will Vote on Price Supports and Controls

Stormy Weather Finally Destroys Some Area Grain

After anxiety and fear reigned in the grain belt around Hamlin for weeks, the Weather Man finally caught up with some growers Sunday and Monday evenings when hail and high winds damaged or destroyed several thousand acres of wheat and oats in the Radium, Celotex, Plainview and Hitson communities.

Principal losses were suffered to oats fields, most of the wheat having already been harvested.

Storm clouds that whipped the Radium area southeast of town Sunday afternoon laid low several fields of grain. The hail and high winds breezed through the Neinda community, six miles south of town, then went northwest toward Celotex and finally wound up their damage in the Hitson community, six miles west of Hamlin.

Another squall visited the Plainview community, eight miles southeast of Hamlin Monday afternoon and did considerable damage to oats patches there.

No accurate estimate of damage could be ascertained, but one man said probably 1,500 to 2,000 acres of oats was destroyed. In some instances, grazing will help to rescue part of the loss to the grain raisers. Also some of it will be baled.

4-H ROUND-UP SLATED.

Attendance at the annual Texas 4-H Club Round-Up scheduled for Texas A. & M. College, June 10-12, is expected to be near 2,000. In addition to the naming of state winners in 22 different judging and team demonstration contests, the kick-off observance of the fiftieth anniversary of 4-H Club work in Texas will be featured.

Marketing Quota Also to Be Set by Friday Balloting

Level of price support for the 1959 wheat crop will be determined by the outcome of the June 20 referendum on marketing quotas for next year's crops, R. G. Rowell, chairman of the Jones County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, declares.

Department of State.

"Aside from a choice between a marketing quota program and no marketing quotas, the big issue to be decided by the June 20 vote will be the level of price support available for the 1959 wheat crop," the chairman stated. "Acreage allotments will remain in effect no matter how the vote goes, as a means of determining eligibility for support."

As announced on May 1, price support for the 1959 wheat crop

Wyvonne Conner Named Sponsor for Hamlin by BCD

Wyvonne Conner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Conner of Hamlin, was named cowgirl sponsor to the Cowboy Reunion at Stamford from Hamlin community when members of the board of directors of the Hamlin Board of Community Development met in special session Tuesday morning.

Miss Conner will be mounted on her quarterhorse "Stockings," which is truly a show horse. She will participate in the opening parade at 4:00 p. m. on July 2, as well as in the barrel race and ribbon roping events during the rodeo performances. Night shows will be staged on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 2, 3 and 4, and a matinee performance is scheduled for 2:00 o'clock July 4. A full length motion picture will be made this year of the Friday afternoon show by a Dallas concern.

Wyvonne also will participate in the Aspermont Rodeo on June 26, 27 and 28.

Most of Wheat Is Out, Oats Coming In at Fast Clip

Revenues of around $1,750,000 are slated to be realized from the record grain crop in the Hamlin territory, declare grain buyers who have been swamped with the golden wheat and oats harvested in the territory during the past two weeks. Earlier predictions were a figure much less than this.

Although the price of wheat has dropped from an opening quotation of $1.91 to Wednesday's price of $1.60, most farmers have been well pleased by returns from their wheat and oats crops.

Wheat harvest is nearly 90 per cent completed in the Hamlin area, it was estimated Wednesday by Fred B. Moore Jr. of the Moore elevator. Probably 75 per cent of the oats crop has been harvested. Several thousand acres of oats were destroyed by hail and high winds Sunday and Monday evenings in the area.

Wheat continued to yield from 28 to 40 bushels per acre over the week-end. And tests showed that high quality of the wheat registered up to 62 pounds to the bushel in many instances. No. 1 wheat was rated at 60 pounds to the bushel.

Total harvest of grain in this section will amount to more than 1,000,000 bushels. Many farmers stored much of their oats, and after storage ran over, they began bringing in the grain in quantities this week.

Storage facilities at the Moore elevator were filled over the week-end, and the Moore concern was shipping from 20 to 25 carloads per day. Most of the grain was going to Houston and Galveston, from which points it was to be shipped to foreign countries.

Hot Topping Job on Highway 83 Finished

Contractors first of the week completing a hot topping job on Highway 83 from Hamlin to Radium on the shoulders of both sides of the regular pavement that were installed several months ago as part of a widening project for the highway.

The hot topping included some work on South Central Avenue where the pavement was widened to a six-lane thoroughfare out to the California Creek bridge.

The highway now is at least a four-lane highway from Anson, through Hamlin, to Aspermont.

Swimming Classes to Be Offered at Pool

Swimming classes will be conducted for beginners for the next three weeks at the swimming pool at the City Park, according to Mac Fullerton, operator of the pool.

Classes for children will begin at 8:00 each morning, Monday through Friday, and classes for beginner adults will begin at 9:00 o'clock.

CHILDREN SHOULD BE SEEN AND NOT HURT!

Children sould be seen and not hurt!

The arrival of spring prompts this cautioning note for the motorist and also suggests that drivers increase their alertness and decrease their speed when passing through a zone where children are playnig.

An elusive, bouncing ball, a game of tag, skates, scooters, bicycles or a pesky kite that needs plenty of tugging for a take-off often will start a youngster on a fatal charge into the path of an oncoming automobile.

For spring traditionally releases children from indoors and often turns a sidewalk into a playground. A child at play forgets where safety stops and sometimes dashes blindly into the street.

Researchers for the Murine Company point out that the eyes function as one of the most important factors in stopping a moving vehicle. First, the eye must see the danger and transmit the vision to the brain. Then the brain must command the foot to apply the brakes, and the foot must move to the brake pedal and apply sufficient force to halt the car.

Fro mthe moment the eyes see the danger until the brakes are applied is called the "reaction time." Tests have shown that the reaction time of an average driver ranges from three-quarters of a second to as much as one and one-half seconds.

An automobile can cover a great distance during this split-second reaction time. At 60 miles per hour a car will cover 66 feet from the time the eye sees the danger until the foot hits the brake. At 20 miles per hour an auto will move 22 feet during the reaction time.

In addition to the space covered during the reaction time, every automobile travels a certain distance after the brakes actually are applied. The stopping distance for a car traveling 60 miles per hour is 300 feet, and for a car going 20 miles per hour is 25 feet.

Driving increases during the spring and summer months. So do safety hazards in the form of playing children. Therefore, drivers should make vision, visibility and good judgment their safety guideposts.

Three Centuries of Packing

Meat packing is one of the oldest enterprises in America. The industry was actually born three centuries ago in the Connecticut River Valley. Settlers raised corn, fed and fattened livestock, and salted down beef and pork products in barrels for shipment to the colonies.

Then the western migration began, and the livestock pattern established in the east was followed there. The supply became so great that a meat packing center was established in Cincinnati. From that city salted meats went to Atlantic ports and abroad.

The expansion of the nation's railway system in the post-Civil War period had a revolutionary effect on packing. Vast western range lands could now be reached, and their cattle shipped to the packing centers. The industry grew steadily in importance and in scope. Then, in 1876, the greatest impetus of all appeared in the form of the refrigerator car. This, and the later use of the refrigerated truck, made possible a regular flow of fresh meat at all seasons from the processing centers to the far-flung consuming centers everywhere.

Today, as the American Meat Institute points out, the packers supply the nation with literally hundreds of varieties of fresh and cured meats and ready-to-serve meat products. Cattle are raised on more than 5,000,000 farms and ranches, and hogs on 4,000,000. More than half the country's total land area is devoted to livestock production—and the great majority of farmers are in the business of raising meat animals, and depend on livestock for much of their income.

Nuggets of Thought

No man is useless while he has a friend.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

All service ranks the same with God. There is no last or first.—Robert Browning.

No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of it for any one else.—Charles Dickens.

Have I done anything for society? I have then done more for myself.—William Gilmore Simms.

The steps of faith fall on the seeming void and find rock beneath.—John Greenleaf Whittier.

It is the supreme art of the teacher to awaken joy in creative expression and knowledge.—Albert Einstein.

Handling the Situation

It was a gala night, but the audience was apathetic. And then a terrible thing befell the violinist. In the middle of a performance the E string snapped. The moment was tense. Clawing furiously at the instrument, the artist deliberately broke the A and D strings.

The audience held its breath, but the black browed violinist strode recklessly to the front of the stage. Thrusting his violin under his chin, he signaled the orchestra to proceed. "One string," he exclaimed, "and Paganini!"

Paganini was well known at the time, but within a matter of weeks his miraculous performance had made him world famous.

On the Safe Side

How fast are your vision reflexes at night? Try standing in a dark room until your eyes are accustomed to the darkness. Then look straight at a bright light while you turn it on suddenly. How many objects can you see clearly in the first 10 second after the light comes on?

This is no mere academic experiment. It is exactly the kind of thing that happens to you when you drive at night. Bright headlights glaring in your eyes have the same effect as the light in the blackened room. And 10 seconds is more than enough time for a fatal accident!

Editorial of the Week

TO FREE THE FARMER

Since Ezra Benson became secretary of agriculture, small steps have been taken toward getting the government out of the barnyard.

President Eisenhower, by his veto of the subsidy freeze bill, has sought to continue this progress. It seems unlikely there are enough votes to override the veto.

The freeze formula has kept the farmer in trouble, price-wise, the last 10 years or more.

As Earl Butz, a former assistant secretary of agriculture, once described it: Perpetuating the high, fixed subsidies for a few farm crops was like forcing the farmer to eat green apples to cure the stomach ache he got for eating too many green apples.

The farm problem is an economic problem, not political. If the politicians will let the economic forces take over for a while, the farmer will get himself out of the trap they put him in. After all, he knows more about his own business than Washington.

Neither Congress nor anyone else can repeal the law of supply and demand.—The Fort Worth Press.

RECALLING Other Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Goings-on in the Hamlin community 30 years ago included the following, being news briefs taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated June 15, 1928:

Hamlin Rotary Club is sponsoring a movement to promote Boy Scout work in the community. A banquet for men and boys of the Hamlin vicinity interested in this work has been set for Thursday evening, June 21.

Prices taken from the Bryant-Link Company grocery department advertisement include: Pineapple, two No. 1 cans for 25 cents; tomatoes, No. 1 can, six cents; potatoes, two cents pound; Gold Plume coffee, three-pound can for $1.59.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Items of interest in the news 20 years ago at Hamlin included the following, reproduced from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated June 10, 1938:

Hamlin Oilers baseball team continued its victory march Sunday by defeating the Haskell Braves by a score of 17 to 8. It was the local boys' seventh consecutivev wni in the West Texas League.

Ethel Harris of Dallas came up Saturday to spend two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harris. She is with the phone company in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Feagan went to Dallas this week to attend commencement exercises at Southern Methodist University, where their son received a degree in accounting.

Fred B. Moore Jr., who was a student in the New Mexico Military Academy, came in last week for his summer at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Moore.

TEN YEARS AGO.

From the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated June 18, 1948, the following news briefs of 10 years ago are reprinted:

Mrs. Floyd Berry, 27-year-old Hamlin woman, died Friday in an Abilene hospital following injuries which she sustained in an automobile accident near Cisco two weeks ago.

Ms. Lita Mae McDonald Harkins of Hamlin has recently had several of her writings published in "Talent: Song Writers and Poets, 1947," a New York publication.

Most local stores will close Monday, July 5, in observance of Independence Day, which falls on Sunday this year.

The drouth, which has persisted for months on the Hamlin area, was given a jolt when 1.77 inches of rain fell first of the week.

FIVE YEARS AGO.

Files of five years ago reveal the following news items of the community five years ago, taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated June 19, 1953:

Series of oil field tool thieveries that included the Hamlin area may now be solved with the arrest last Friday of two men near Throckmorton. Quantities of drilling bits and other materials taken at Hamlin, Aspermont, Ballinger and Jacksboro were taken with the men when arrested by Garland Shaw, Throckmorton County sheriff.

No clues had been uncovered by Hamlin officers Wednesday in the burglary last Thursday night of McDonald's dry goods store when about $1,000 in merchandise was taken.

ONE YEAR AGO.

News events in the area of one year ago included the following, reprinted from the issue of The Herald dated June 14, 1957:

Row crops in the Hamlin territory are suffering terribly for rain.

A new curb and gutter program under sponsorship of the city is about ready to begin, according to Bill Rountree, city superintendent.

American Spirit and Prestige Need to Be Rebuilt, Says U. S. Senator Johnso

We have come to the time of a great national rebuilding, declares U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, in his weekly news release to The Herald. He continues with:

We must rebuild the American spirit and, with it, the fiber of the American character. We must rebuild the American image before the world and, with it, the world's respect for the principles for which America has stood. We must rebuild the American position and, with it, the strength of freedom as the most powerful force at work in the hearts of the human race.

As Americans, we do not live in the same world we knew a few short months ago. Many basic American assumptions have undergone the greatest change and challenge.

The assumption of American technological superiority has been made subject to serious and direct challenge. The assumption of American economic stability and permanent American prosperity has been dealt a blow that commands attention. The assumption of American leadership among the community of nations in the West has been severely undermined.

Our resources, our capacity, our knowledge, our competence are the same, undiminished and unfettered. What is needed is a determination to unleash those resources and march forward, secure in the confidence that freedom is a mighty force which can carry America to even greater heights.

We should start now to make Washington not just a capital power but a campus of free men. We should use the round table, the seminar and the lecture room so that our country will be the spiritual leader of the awakening now stirring the West.

We can if we wish safely invest each year at least the cost of two nuclear bombs in the building of great, new libraries. We can channel the cost of an army division into the support of great, new schools for the humanities. We can set aside a part of our national budget to finance laboratories and other facilities for programs of pure research.

In our exchange programs we should concentrate not merely on bringing young people here to teach them, but also on bringing their elders here to help teach us. The farmer of India, the worker of Europe, the teacher of Latin America should have the opportunity to visit our country so they can take back to their lands the true facts of America.

There is no question about our ability to do these things. Our future is bright; our future is assured; our future is great. All that is required is channeling the tremendous strength and energy of free America, and I have deep faith in the ability of our people to meet any challenge.

Draft Board Secretary Honored for Service

Mrs. Mae L. Dunwody, wife of a former Jones County sheriff, will be among draft boards clerks of the state of Texas who will receive service awards from Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director.

Mrs. Dunwody is one of 33 employees who have completed 15 years of civilian service with the U. S. government. The workers will receive special pins showing the service period.

TEXAS FINALIST -- Blond Carelgean Douglas, 19, of Corpus Christi represents Buccaneer Days in Texas' Miss Universe finals June 19 at Lake Whitney. Miss Douglas is five feet six inches tall, weighs 115 pounds and has a perfect 36 figure.

Rev. G. C. Henry Now In Revival at Lufkin

Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Henry left Sunday afternoon for Lufkin, and Rev. Henry is engaged this week in a revival there. He was formerly pastor of the church. They will be away some 12 days and will perhaps visit their daughter at Beaumont and visit other points.

Rev. James Woods will fill the pulpit at the Calvary Baptist Church at all services in the meantime, the pastor announces.

Stan M. Sheppard Installed Tuesday As Lions President

Stan M. Sheppard, personnel supervisor at the Celotex Corporation plant at Hamlin, was installed as new president of the Hamlin Lions Club for the ensuing club year beginning July 1 at a ladies' night banquet Tuesday evening at the oil mill guest house. He succeeds Willard Jones.

Joe Childers of Abilene, former past district governor and presently a member of the international Lions board, presided at the installation rites. Other officers installed were: Donley Williams, first vice president; James Josey, second vice president; George E. Campbell, secretary; Ed Croan, treasurer; E. A. Hewett, Lion tamer; Joe League, tail twister; Austin Siburt, song leader; Lester Minton and E. W. Anderson, two year directors.

About 75 Lions, ladies and guests attended the affair, including several from out-of-town. The retiring president presided. Rev. Calvin Bailey directed several songs by the group, and Edgar Duncan offered the invocation.

Speaker of the evening was Jimmy Isaacs of Abilene, vice president of the West Texas Television Network and station manager of KPAR-TV at Abilene. He spoke on the importance of communication in public service, pointing to the hours of free ttme (only commodity for sale by TV stations) that is given in public service to the communities they serve.

Congressman Omar Burleson Discusses President's Plan for Defense Set-Up

The Department of Defense and all the military services under it sometimes appear as a centipede with a thousand legs all going in different directions, declares Congressman Omar Burleson in his weekly news release from Washington to The Herald, "Washington: As It Looks from Here." His release follows:

How important is the president's proposal to reorganize the Defense Department? Perhaps the importance cannot altogether be measured in dollars and cents. Even more important is the ability to make decisions when immediate action may mean the difference between destruction and survival.

In dollars and cents, our national security program now consumes more than 60 cents of every tax dollar. Of the approximate $72,000,000,000 budget request, some $46,000,000,000 goes to national security. This is more than one-half of all the taxes collected by the federal government from all sources. Until some of the unnecessary activities of all the military services are curtailed, the bill to the taxpayer will continue to be high. As long as we continue to prepare to fight a war of the nature of World War II, and at the same time prepare for a nuclear war of the future, there is little hope that something less than two-thirds of all the income of the government will not go into defense.

The president's proposal to reorganize the Defense Department places emphasis on decision making authority and authority to carry out those decisions when made.

Under the president's proposal, the secretary of defense is to make the great strategical decisions and direct the control of their application. Once a decision is made, it is to be carried out without vetoes or obstructions on down the line. Under present law and practice, the secretary of defense does not have full authority to enforce a decision upon the separate services.

But how are these great decisions to be made? Secretaries of defense come and go. They are selected from a political list. They may come from banking, law, from professional politics, from the automobile business or the soap business. How does a man who has spent his life in some other endeavor go into the huge pentagon organization of approximately 30,000 (not including the armed forces), hang up his hat and make proper decisions?

The only way he could possibly know what to do would be to hear the problems explained by qualified experts. If he cannot hear and understand the thousands upon thousands of issues involved, he merely endorses the decision of some subordinate.

It seems the very real question devolves down to this proposition: Does the proposed reform of our military establishment make it more or less likely that the secretary of defense and the president of the United States will hear the great problems argued out thoroughly? Will it enable him to come to a definite and authoritative conclusion with the power of enforcement all the way down the line, resulting in action to carry out that decision?

The Congress will soon have before us a bill to enact into law these reforms. The controversy centers on the amount of authority which should be given one man, the secretary of defense. Some are saying that to place such authority in one man is embracing the old Prussian type of militarism. The bill voted out of the armed services committee does not give the defense secretary the authority requested by the president, but is supposed to give him much of the authority needed to carry out direction.

The proposition that something needs to be done is clear enough. The fact remains that this proposal is not going to appreciably reduce the cost of our military establishment. This only will be done when we finally decide that the next war will not be fought with rifles and bayonets, with huge aircraft carriers like sitting ducks, and all the frills now attached to every branch of the military.

FIRE DESTROYS GRAIN ELEVATOR—Flames soar skyward during a fire which gutted the C. L. Green Milling Company grain elevator at Winters last week. Damage was estimated at $10,000 and about 12,000 bushels of oats were also destroyed. The fire is believed to have been started by a dust explosion in the top and quickly engulfed the building. The fire came at the start of the first good grain season in this section of West Texas in seven years.

Complaints on Weed Poisoning Reported

County Agent Kirby Clayton reports that complaints are already coming to his office about damage to crops from the use of 2-4-D for weed control.

Formula 2-4-D, says Clayton, is a very potent herbicide and has been noted to drift as far as eight miles and cause considerable damage to cotton and other broad-leaf crops. The young tender cotton is more susceptible to 2-4-D damage, and farmers of the area should use every precaution to protect his neighbor when using this herbicide.

Before using this weed killer, farmers should check with his adjoining neighbors to insure that the cotton in that area is not damaged, the agent suggests.

Two Hamlin Teachers Get Scholarships at ACC Summer Session

Charles A. Wyly and Jon Adams, both Hamlin teachers, have been awarded six-week scholarships to study under the American studies program at Abilene Christian College this summer.

The American studies program is a feature of the ACC 1958 summer school. Dates for the summer school are June 3-July 11 and July 15-August 22.

Adams will attend the first six weeks, and Wyly will attend the second six weeks.

The scholarships provide for room, board tuition and fees and are made possible by a grant of $12,500 from the Coe Foundation of New York City and the Texas Educational Association of Fort Worth. The total of $25,000 has enable Abilene Christian College to offer 100 scholarships to teachers. Sixty-five scholars will study the first six-week session and 35 the second six-week.

Hamlin Boy Scouts Leave Sunday for Area Annual Camp

Twenty members of Troop 43 of Hamlin Boy Scouts left Sunday for Camp Tonkawa, south of Abilene, official summer camp of the Chisholm Trail Boy Scout council, for a week's stay. They will return home Saturday night.

George Batchelor accompanied the group as Scoutmaster and will remain with the boys. Activities will include camping, handcrafts, swimming, marksmanship and several other maneuvers. Work on Scout advancements will be fostered by leaders.

Boys making the trip were Gary Ted Jay, Larry Stephens, Jimmy Inzer, Doyle Bell, Freddie Shave, Jesse Goolsby, Pat Batchelor, Lynn Ray Sturrock, George Smith, Billy Kitchens, Charles Dodd, Clifford Sharer, Henry O'Neal, Barry Cheshier, Eddie Townley, Jimmy Shivers, Ray Johnson Jr., Mark Smith, Dan Newberry and Van Newberry.

Bob Johnson, member of the Explorer Scout troop, accompanied the group and is serving on the camp staff. He will remain there for five weeks.

will be available in the commercial wheat areas at a national average of at least $1.81 a bushel, or 75 per cent of parity, if marketing quotas for the 1959 crop of wheat are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum.

This minimum will not be reduced, but may be increased if a combination of the wheat parity price and wheat supply relationships as of July 1, 1959, indicate a higher support price.

If quotas for the 1959 wheat crop are not approved by at least two-thirds of the voters, however, the support level in the commercial wheat producing area will drop to about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law. Compliance with allotments would continue to be a condition of eligibility for the lower price support.

Those farmers who vote in the referendum will be the ones who decide whether or not marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1959 wheat crop, Chairman Rowell points out.

All farmers are eligible to vote if they will share in the 1959 wheat crop from a farm in the commercial wheat area on which the wheat harvested for grain in 1959 will exceed 15 acres and provided they did not take part in the 1958 feed wheat program.

Let me tell you what I saved when I drove a new Plymouth...then bought one!

Just like a lot of other people, I was putting off buying a new car... even though we sure needed one. Then I found out what my Plymouth dealer was offering in the way of low prices and really big trades.

Mister, when I saw what I saved I knew there was no use putting off any longer! Got more for my old car than I believed possible. (Plymouth dealers need used cars and can sell all they get!) Got a terrifically low price on the new Plymouth... and choice of models besides... hardtops, sedans, convertibles, wagons.

And I saved a cool $140 on the ride alone! Plymouth's top-luxury ride, Torsion-Aire Ride, is standard at no extra cost, while you have to pay up to $140 for the top ride of competing "low-price 3" cars.

What's more, I got the car that proved it can save me gasoline, by winning the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. A car with Silver Dart Styling that is so far ahead right now it will still be worth more when I trade. With the kind of easy handling that makes every minute of driving a downright thrill! The stamina to stand up without nagging adjustments and big repairs... a car as much better built as it is better looking!

Barbara Ann Connally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connally, became the bride of James William Woods Jr. at 4:30 Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom, grandparents of the bride.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woods of McCaulley.

Mrs. Annie Laurie Henderson, sister of the bridegroom, was matron-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Billie Dominey and Glenda Wright. Best man was Billy Henderson, brother-iln-law of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length dress of diamond white satin. The fitted bodice was overlaid with chantilly lace which extended to form an apron effect over the top of the skirt. Pleated net accented the soft V-neck, and the sleeves formed into a V over the wrists. Her finger tip illusion veil was held together by a tiara of net and seed pearls.

MAKING HOME IN HAMLIN—Mrs. James William Woods Jr. (above) befor eher marriage last Sunday afternoon was Barbara Connally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connally of Hamlin. The rites, performed at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom, were attended by only a few relatives and friends. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woods of McCaulley. They are making their home in Hamlin following a brief honeymoon.

Monday morning the girls of the Hamlin chapter of Future Homemakers of America left by bus for the Presbyterian encampment grounds at Buffalo Gap, near Abilene, for a three-day outing. The girls carried sack lunches to eat for their first meal, and for the following meals the different chapters took turns helping the cooks, Mrs. L. B. Petty and Mrs. Edd Rodgers.

Don Shivers and Tommy Bonds from Hamlin were lifeguards. Mrs. Camille Simmons and the Hamlin chapter had charge of the camp for 19958. The grils enjoyed recreation, crafts, swimming and FHA workshops.

Other towns represented by FHA groups at the camp included Rochester, Olney, Rotan, Albany, Stamford and Knox City.

Reception Given For Connally-Woods Wedding Attendants

A reception for wedding attendants was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom immediately following the Connally-Woods rituals Sunday afternoon.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip the bride was wearing a two-piece grey and white chemise suit with large white linen collar and white accessories. She wore the glamellia from her bridal bouquet.

The bridegroom is a graduate of McCaulley High School and is employed in the Hamlin oil field. The bride attended Hamlin High School and will be a mid-term graduate next year.

Friends SS Class Met in Gibson Home

"The Garment That Never Grows Old" was the topic of the program given by Mrs. Everett Gibson when members of the Friends Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met in a dinner meeting in the Gibson home last Thursday.

Opening prayer was offered by Mrs. I. D. Miller, and the closing prayer was given by Mrs. A. Spencer.

Following the program, refreshments were served by the hostess to Mmes. Bill Maynard, A. C. Hall, I. D. Miller, Ben Parker, W. C. Hargrove, A. Spencer, Noel Weaver, W. H. Carter, Kelly Scott and Everett Gibson.

Hamburger Feast Given for Members of Training Union Group

Mmes. D. A. Mullings and Eddie B. Hopper were hostesses for a hamburger feast honoring members of the Phillips Training Union of North Central Avenue Baptist Church last Thursday evening.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Woodrow McHugh. Mrs. Robert Christian brought the devotional. Sniging was also enjoyed by attendants. R. A. Cary said the closing prayer.

Those present were Mmes. V. Madden, L. H. Clark, G. B. Phillips, Robert Christian, Rev. Woodrow McHugh and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lee and Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mullings and David, Mr. and Mrs Eddie B Hopper and Jane, R. A Cary and Jack Talbot.

Next meeting of the group will be August 7.

Mary Willingham, Bride-Elect, Honored At Tea in Grice Home

Mary Willingham, bride-elect of Kenneth Holloway, was honored at gift tea Saturday in the home of Mrs. Clyde Grice.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Grice, who presented Mrs. Tarlton Willingham, mother of the bride-elect; the honoree; Mrs. Henry Holloway, mother of the bridegroom-to-be; Mrs. Sallie Holloway, grandmother of the groom-to-be; Mrs. Spero Constantine, who will be matron-of-honor; and Jeanie Young, the flower girl.

Mrs. George Malouf directed the guests to the bedrooms, where the gifts were displayed by Mrs. Charlie Sellers and Mrs. Weldon Griggs. Mrs. A. B. Carlton registered the guests, and Mrs. Noel Weaver said the good-byes. Other hostesses were Mrs. Joe Simpson and Mrs. Johnnie Agnew.

LEAKED SOMEWHERE.

This is reported by the Associated Press as a true story: A woman called the electric company in Durant, Oklahoma, and complained that her bill was too high.

The company checked her meter and wiring and reported they could find nothing amiss.

Two days later the woman called to apologize, announcing that she had found the trouble. "I found a socket without a light bulb in it, and the electricity must have leaked there."

SECOND CHILDHOOD.

"My boy," said the boss, "do you believe in life after death?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then that makes everything just fine," the boss went on tenderly. "About an hour after you left yesterday to bury your grandfather, he came in to see you."

Renee Moore and Wedding Principals Honored at Dinner

Renee Moore, bride-elect of Joe Don Hymer, was honored Thursday evening with a dinner party given by Mrs. Fay Young Morton of Hamlin at the Y-6 Ranch north of town. Co-hostess was Mrs. Morton's daughter, Mary Trammell of Abilene.

The dinner was served buffet style from a polished table centered with pink sweetheart roses and pink candles in Venetian glass candelabra of blue touched with gold.

Guests attending were Joe Don Hymer, groom-to-be; Mr. and Mrs. Ned Moore, parents of the bride-to-be; Mr. and Mrs. Don Hymer, parents of the groom-to-be; Mrs. Dee Burton, aunt of groom-to-be of Flagstaff, Arizona; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Witt; Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Brannon, parents of the junior bridesmaid, Lynn Brannon; Charlotte Cornett of Knox City, Sara Fomby, Joe Donald Cowan, and Mary Ann Willbanks, Joyce Hines and Clark Hewett, members of the wedding party.

The couple is to be married Saturday.

INSTALL THE All Electric YEAR 'ROUND AIR CONDITIONER

Scientists have known for years that enough natural heat exists in outdoor air, even in the coldest weather, to heat every home in the world. If this heat could be extracted... concentrated... and brought indoors — what a solution to everyone's heating problem!

But that's just what a summer air conditioner does... in reverse. It extracts and concentrates indoor heat and moves it outdoors.

The All Electric Heat Pump Air Conditioner is an air conditioner that can reverse itself automatically to cool or heat as needed to maintain indoor comfort at an even level. An improved reverse-cycle valve, sensitive to indoor temperature changes of even a few degrees, switches from cooling to heating and back again automatically... to maintain the comfort level at which you set the thermostat.

COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC

The Electric Heat Pump is completely automatic. During changeable weather, even if it is within the hour, the Heat Pump will switch from heating to cooling and or back again as the temperature changes require.

You do not need to change the temperature dial, you just set the thermostat for the temperature you desire and forget it. The Electric Heat Pump is the ONLY completely automatic Air Conditioner.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin.—Texas Board of State Hospitals and Special Schools is working toward getting a gold star when an economy minded Legislature hits Austin next year.

Launching a new tight-purse policy, the board voted to prohibit superintendents of individual state institutions from (1) using left-over funds without board permission; and (2) making any expenditure of more than $1,000 without board approval.

Sometimes individual hospitals develop surplus funds resulting from smaller patient loads than had been expected or other reduced costs. New rule puts an end to no-strings-attached spending of such surpluses. These lapsed fund coulds amount to as much as $1,000,000, according to Board Member W. G. Kirklin of Odessa.

Chill Wind.—Hospital board's move pinpointed the spot where the state's money shortage is expected to pinch hardest—administration of state's services.

A revenue shortage in excess of $100,000,000 by next year has been freely predicted by various authorities for months.

A survey of platforms of legislative candidates over the state shows a fairly consistent approach by those making statements on the revenue dilemma. General pattern of promises to voters:

(1) Continuation of, often, increase in state obligations for education, welfare payments, road building, soil and water conservation, etc.

(2. Opposition to certain new taxes or sometimes new taxes in general.

(3) Cuts in state spending by "elimination of waste, duplication and needless services by state agencies."

Actual achievement or near-achievement of this fiscal magic will put a real squeeze on every state department .

Not Me.—Likelihood that someone may draw the "black bean" of new state taxes has group after group telling the State Tax Study Commission how overburdened they are already.

A spokesman for the Texas Motor Bus Association told the commission taxes on that industry are heavy and discriminatory. He said many smaller lines were having to go out of business.

A representative of retired people asked tax relief for people living on pensions.

"We are no longer concerned with saving the goose that lays the golden eggs. Our goose was cooked when we lost our ability to work and earn," said W. B. Wood of Port Arthur.

On behalf of the Texas Association for Tax Relief for Texans over 65, Wood asked for tax exemption for the first $3,000 of property owned by oldsters. He also opposed a sales tax.

Opposition to the new egg law has been voiced by wholesalers of eggs, who are being required to grade and label the eggs they are handling.

Discrimination is charged because the law applies to wholesalers but not to producers who sell only the output of their own flocks. Suit also objects to the provisions that makes violations a criminal offense and the requirement that eggs kept under refrigeration for 30 days or more be labeled "'cold storage eggs."

Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor leader and one-time Democratic candidate for the Legislature, attempted to file against Texas' only Republican congressman, Bruce Alger. He called himself a "Stevenson Republican," an apparent parody of Eisenhower Democrats.

A lower court ruled that Cantrell, as a member of on party, was not entitled to seek nomination in another party's primary. Cantrell appealed to the high court.

Since there is usually only one nominee for each office, Republican primaries do not ordinarily attract a heavy vote. It is widely assumed that many Republicans cross party lines to vote in Democratic primaries where most state offices are decided.

Cantrell's candidacy is generally interpreted as a move to force Republicans to stay in their own primary.

Next Legislautre will be asked to change the law so diesel fuel taxes would be collected from the wholesale distributor rather than the user, said a department official. This is expected to make it easier for tax agents to keep track of consumption and purchases.

Comptroller's department staffers admit that there are some evasions of the state motor fuels tax, but contend that Texas collects more per vehicle than any other major state. They discount as too large Senator Charles Herring's guess than some $25,000,000 in fuel taxes went uncollected.

Senate investigating committee looked into records in the Houston area to discover if small staffs, vague laws or insufficient penalties were causing the state to lose revenue.

Over the Hump.—Texas' general revenue fund is back in the black, according to State Comptroller Robert Calvert.

During the spring state expenditures got ahead of tax receipts. A month ago the fund was in the red by some $1,250,000. But collection of corporation franchise taxes and insurance company occupation taxes during the month put finances back on schedule.

Now there's more than $12,000,000 in the fund, said Calvert.

Alvis Vandygrff, Austin attorney, dropped out earlier.

PRACTICING HIS TRADE.

The judge's expression was not unkind as he leaned over the bench and addressed the mousy little man before him.

"So you're a locksmith?" his honor mused. "And pray tell, what was the locksmith doing in a gambling dive when he was arrested?"

International Trade Fair to Be Feature of State Fair of Texas

Texas International Trade Fair, an annual exhibition of major proportions in its field, will be inaugurated this fall as an important feature of the 1958 State Fair of Texas, October 4 through 19.

The trade fair concept will be utilized in expanding the exposition's popular international center of exhibits from foreign nations, which has been a state fair attraction for the past three years.

An estimated 20 nations from all over the world will be represented in the International Trade Fair. The foreign exhibits area will be expanded to occupy two bays of the general exhibits building.

"The State Fair of Texas is considered to be one of the four great fairs of the world today," Kenneth W. Erickson, trade fair manager, said. "The other three are at Milan, Paris and Toronto."

Storm Does Damage In Neinda vicinity

Number of cases of damage were reported late Sunday afternoon in the small tornado that breeze through the Neinda community, south of Hamlin.

Rev. J. S. King reported a tree being uprooted and thrown onto his home and his garage being demolished. Other minor damage also was done in the area.

Most Insecticides Can Be Harmful to People And Pets, Says Agent

Most insecticides are poisonous to people and to animals, according to Kirby Clayton, the county agent. He advises keeping insecticides where children and pets cannot reach them.

When applying them, do not contaminate food, dishes or kitchen utensils. Do not store them with food. Do not breathe too much of the spray mist or the dust. If insecticide is spilled on the skin, wash it off promptly. Change your clothes if you spill insecticide on them. Keep children and pets off sprayed surfaces that have not dried.

When you have finished applying an insecticide, empty unused material into the original container, clean the sprayer or duster, and wash all exposed surfaces of the body with soap and water.

SEEMS THAT WAY.

Hamlin Golfers Win Two Awards In Anson Tourney

Charles Coody of Stamford repeated his performance of taking championship honors in the Anson invitation golf tournament Sunday afternoon in finals. He downed Ronnie Phlilips of Wichita Falls on the sixteenth hole to take the title, which he last year won over a big field.

Although only one Hamlin golfer qualified for the championship flight last week-end, two players brought home trophies from other flights in the tournament that attracted five flights of golfers from all over Central West Texas.

Bill Harbert won fourth flight honors and brought home a golf bag as award. George Poe took the honors in the fifth flight and came away with a set of irons.

Two other Hamlin players went to the finals matches. John Hudson, after eliminating Joe League, another Hamlin golfer, in semi-finals of the first flight, dropped the last match to Joe Bassett of Wichita Falls.

Dr. M. L. Smith, after trimming R. V. Clark of Abilene in a semi-finals round in the third flight, dropped the last round to Corky Brusch of Abilene.

Other participants from Hamlin in the tournament, besides those already mentioned, were Holly Toler, in the first flight; Earl Smith, and Elmer Feagan, second flight; Gene Knabel, third flight; Wilson Brannon, fourth flight.

HARD TO MAKE IT.

A retired Wisconsin farmer, on a tour of the country, stopped in Las Vegas and decided he would just once try his luck at the dice table. His opponent, a shrewd looker, picked up the dice. As he rolled, out popped a third cube from inside his sleeve.

Unruffled, the farmer picked up the dice, pocketed one of them and handed back the other two. His only words were: "'Okay, roll. Your point is 18."

The program was on "Children and Money" when members of the Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Club met last week with nine members and one visitor present. Mrs. Sam Hodges and a visitor, Mrs. J. Carter Parks, presented the program.

Mrs. Hodges reported it is much better to give children an allowance, which usually solves a numbers of family emotional problems. Just remember, an allowance means nothing more than giving children a chance to handle money which will be spent on them in any case. The allowance depends upon age, cost of needs (regular and special).

Is your allowance adequate per child? Is it too much for good money management? Of course, there is quite a difference in allowances of six-year-olds and 12 to 18-year-olds. The younger child should have money for candy, gum, ice cream cones, dime store toys, blocks, crayons, money for church and gifts for others. The older child needs much more: For movies, hobby materilas, club fees, comic books and magazines, sports equipment, hair cuts, school costs, fad accessories, contributions, soft drinks, school social expense, date expense, special clothing, cosmetics and costume jewelry, student activity books, savings for college or special trips, and fees for athletics.

Some parents give the excuse for not giving children allowances, "I buy my children anything they need; they know all they have to do is ask for it." That's just it: a child (especially a teen-ager) does not want to ask their parents for money to buy a Mother's Day gift, Father's Day gift or birthday gifts. If they received an allowance they could save some of it for these gifts, which is good practice for the child.

Mrs. Parks explained that parents should help their children plan their spending. Here are four important steps in learning to handle money well:

1. Know how much you will have to spend.
2. Keep up with your spending so you will know where your money goes.
3. Plan the best way to spend your money.
4. Check on your plan.

A good way to teach children is to get three jars and label them "Spend," "Share," "Save." Of their entire week's money, whether allowance alone or some of it earned, a certain amount should be put into these jars. In this way a child learns how important it is to share and save part of their money.

Teach your child good management in money matters.

CONTROL WORMS NOW.

It is now time to apply control measures to ornamental plants infesed with bag worms. The worms are now small and can be effectively controlled, says C. F. Garner, extension entomologist. He suggests that a copy of bulletin L-199, Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants, be obtained from the local county agent.

By this time of the year a lot of folks are wearing out the lid to their mail box looking for their tax refund check, observes Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald. Some folks start looking for the refund check a few days after they have filed their tax return.

The tax folks in Dallas have to be pretty fast in figuring tax returns and getting out refund checks because it takes several months at the rate of 10,000 checks per day to get out over 700,000 refund checks. You have to remember that there are millions of taxpayers and there are a lot of steps required by law in checking your return before Internal Revenue can send you your refund check. If you move, tell Uncle Sam your new address and give him a little time and your check will probably be along within a couple of months. Don't write and ask for it before July 1.

Many Casualties Can Be Deducted from Income Tax Returns

The tornado season is about over for this year. Tornadoes and storm damage may bring you a tax deduction, reminds Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald.

There are a number of casualty and theft losses allowed by our federal tax laws. You may deduct the net amount of actual property loss resulting from an accident, fire, storm, shipwreck, other casualty or from theft. These losses may be business losses or non-business losses. The heavy spring rains for the last two years caused considerable flood damage which is also deductible.

If you suffered a property loss from any of these casualties, you should read your tax instructions carefully or secure competent professional help to prepare your tax return next year.

Not all damage to property is a casualty. For example, if the termites eat up your house, you are not allowed a tax deduction even though I am sure, all of us would consider it a personal casualty.

No reason for doing it is good reason for not doing it.

Freight Carloadings For Santa Fe Gain

Freight carloadings for the Santa Fe Railway System for the week ending May 31, 1958, were 22,344 compared with 20,608 for the same week a year ago, reflecting a sizeable gain. Cars received from connections totaled 10,160 compared with 11,461 for the same week in 1957.

Total cars moved were 32,504 compared with 32,069 for the same week a year ago. Santa Fe handled a total of 31,774 cars in the preceding week this year.

County Farmers May Apply for New Wheat Allotments

A farmer on land on which no wheat was seeded for any of the years 1956, 1957 or 1958 may apply on or before July 1 for a "new farm" wheat acreage allotment for the 1959 winter wheat crop, Chairman R. G. Rowell of the Jones County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said this week.

Even if wheat was produced on the farm in 1958, the farm is still considered a new wheat farm if it did not have a 1958 allotment, and the farmer must apply at the county office as a new producer, Rowell said.

An important requirement for obtaining a new allotment is to file a written application before the July 1 deadline. This application may be made out on forms which can be obtained in person or by mail from the county ASC office.

The chairman pointed out that factors considered in determining whether a farmer is eligible for a new farm allotment will include the tillable acreage, type of soil and topography of the farm. The operator's farming system is studied and the extent to which his livelihood depends on his farming operations. He is also asked the reason wheat was not planted on his farm in past years.

County Farm and Development Group Meets with Agents

Eighteen persons attended the Jones County farm and home development family night at the Anson High School home economics labortatory last Monday night, according to Kirby Clayton, agricultural agent, and Mary Newberry, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Martha Harmon, home economist of the Abilene Lone Star Gas Company, gave an interesting demonstration on "Foods for the Freezer." She was assisted by Mrs. Opal Paden.

Blueprints available for corral arrangement and cattle chutes were discussed by the county agent.

Home-made ice cream and cake were served to Fern Hodge and J. G. Simmons, district extension agents of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Grady Smith of Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Birger Haterius, Craig and Ingrid, Mrs. F. A. Lollar, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Clayton, Judy and Gary, and the agents.

Next meeting of the farm and home development families will be a picnic and a program in July.

4-H Club Boys and Girls Attending Annual Round-Up

Several 4-H Club boys and girls from Jones County and this area are at Texas A. & M. College this week attending the annual state 4-H Club Round-Up.

The chuck wagons have been greased and the cooks have their equipment in top shape to handle the feeding of an estimated 2,200 4-H boys and girls, their supervisors, leaders and friends who will attend the affair, opening Tuesday and continuing through Thursday.

The chuck wagon supper, always a program favorite, was scheduled to take place the evening of June 11 and will be a fitting climax for he hard day the 4-H Club members will have devoted to judging and demonstration team contests.

A. H. Roberts, Jones County 4-H Club member and winner in the distric tpublic speaking contest, will represent Extension District III in the 4-H public speaking program at the 4-H Round-Up this year.

The evening program on June 10 commemorated 50 years of 4-H Club work in Texas. President M. T. Harrington of Texas A. & M. College system welcomed the 4-H members to A. & M., and Director John E. Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service spoke on "Where From Here?" Several 4-H members of the past and present also had part on the program.

On Jun 11 state winers in 22 different judging and team demonstration contests were to be determined. Winners in several contests will qualify to represent Texas in national events later in the year.

In commenting on 4-H Club work, the youth phase of the agricultural extension service, Director Hutchison said an estimated 2,000,000 Texas rural boys and girls had been 4-H members during the past 50 years. "We have letters from some of the first clubs in the state," he said, "and they have recalled for us how valuable their 4-H training has been through the years. We know that present day clubs are different from those of half a century ago, but then, as now, our major effort was to help the boy or girl to help themselves.

Members of 50 years ago will attend the Round-Up and participate in planned activities.

James West Named Blakley's County Man

James West of Stamford has been named Jones County manager for William A. Blakley's campaign for United States senator in the Democratic primary July 26. Announcement of the appointment was made by Blakley's state campaign manager, James H. Blundell.

Blakley is conducting a personal campaign with plans to visit every county in the state and to meet and talk personally with as many voters as posible.

County managers have an active part in arranging for visits to their respective areas.

Estimated Three from Jones County Due to Be Drafted in July Call

An estimated three young men from Jones County will be included in the state quota for Texas draft boards in July of 538 men Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Thursday.

The state's July call of 538 compares with a quota of 519 for June, previously announced. The July call is the state's share of a national call of 10,000 men, all for the Army.

The state director of selective service also announced that approximately 1,700 men were scheduled to take pre-induction mental and physical examinations in July.

The July quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on July 1, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

Some reservists and National Guardsmen also may be called up if they fail to participate satisfactorily in their units.

Jimmy Hill Completes Marine Corps Basic

Jimmy R. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hill of 14 Southwest Avenue F, Hamlin, is scheduled to complete recruit training June 12 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, California, according to a release to the Herald from the base.

The 11-week course includes instruction in all basic military subjects and the firing of all basic infantry weapons.

Upon completion of training new Marines are assigned to a unit for further infantry training or to one of the many Marine Corps schools.

Government Will Purchase All Loan Cotoin on July 31

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced recently that Commodity Credit Corporation will purchase at the close of business July 31, 1958, all 1957 crop loan cotton (upland and extra long staple) which is unredeemed at that time.

Through May 9, 1958, a total of 3,655,650 bales of 1957 crop cotton was reported as having been pledged for loans. As of the same date 505,963 bales had been redeemed, leaving loans outstanding on 3,149,687 bales.

Until the close of business on July 31, 1958, producers may either sell their "equity" in the loan cotton or redeem the cotton from the loan and then sell it in the open market. The market price of the various qualities of cotton has remained fairly steady in recent months, and at present prices farmers should be able to dispose of some qualities of cotton at prices that will give them some net profits above the loan and charges against the cotton, say cotton experts.

There aren't any rules for success that work unless you do.

Sunday Schools Gain Over Previous Week And Over Year Ago

Funeral services for Edgar Eugene Johnson, 72-year-old farmer living southeast of Hamlin, were conducted last Thursday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Fairview Baptist Church.

Johnson, who had been a resident of the community for 18 years, died last Wednesday morning at Anson General Hospital following a stroke. He had been ill for about a week.

Born in Freestone County, on July 31, 1885, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson. He married the former Mae Iona Tribble at Korn Hill on August 10, 1913. He was a member of the Neinda Baptist Church.

Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery under direction of the Hamlin Funeral Home. Pallbearers were W. L. McDonald, B. E. Thackerson, M. T. Jones, John Beauchamp, H. E. Valliant and A. W. Bagley.

Surviving Johnson are his wife, Mrs. E. E. Johnson; two sons, Webb Johnson of Plainview and Charlie Johnson of Midland; two daughters, Mrs. Lester Ohlhausen of Ballinger and Mrs. Orph Osborne of Wilcox, Arizona; three brothers, George Johnson of Casper, Wyoming, and Ozie and Lewis Johnson of Mexia; one sister, Mrs. Beulah Maiden of Mexia; and nine grandchildren.

Record number of tax refunds were made by the Dallas district of the Internal Revenue Service by May 9 this year, according to A. E. Fogle Jr., administrative officer of the Abilene office, including many in the Hamlin territory.

Tax refunds amounting to over $64,379,000 have been forwarded to 685,570 taxpayers. Some 6,500 other North Texas payers' tax refunds have been held up because of faulty preparation of returns. The Internal Revenue Service is making every effort to clear the errors on these tax returns as soon as possible. Taxpayers were requested not to contact the Internal Revenue Service concerning their refunds until after July 1.

Fogle stated that "24,960 North Texans had possible erroneous deductions in their tax returns that require a pre-refund audit before the refund can be made."

Suspense and excitement, with a constant overtone of brooding terror, keynote "Attack of the 50-Foot Woman" and "War of the Satellites," two Allied Artists pictures combined in a double bill playing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Ferguson and Hamlin Drive-In Theaters. The twin-shock program has added value because both pictures are as timely and up-to-date as a news story from today's final edition.

"War of the Satellites," starring Susan Cabot, Richard Devon and Dick Miller, is classed as pure science-fiction, but today's strides inter-planetary research are so tremendous it is hard to separate the truth from fiction. Certainly this production is believable in every scene and action-packed sequence.

The picture, produced and directed by Roger Corman, relates the efforts of Earth, working through the United Nations, to speed space ships aloft and assemble a satellite in the atmosphere.

The first ships are violently destroyed by a mysterious force obviously generated by an enemy in outer space. These events are followed by a direct warning to Earth and the deadly war begins. The picture has exceptional pictorial qualities in the striking twenty-first century sets and brilliant special effects.

"Attack of the 50-Foot Woman," starring Allison Hayes, William Hudson and Yvette Vickers, is a terrifying masterpiece of suspense and terror that relates how a monster space ship lands from outer space on the California desert and sets loose a giant monster that terrorizes the countryside.
